MURESCO!
It is a permanently hard wall finish. Over plaster it produces soft, even tints, giving the effect of kalsomine, without the flashing, with none of its disadvantages. It does not rub off against the clothing; will not crack nor peel. It will kill suction, and give a smooth, soft, even coat over an old plastered wall that has been patched. It comes in fifteen artistic colors and white.
You may have a color card and full information about Muresco for the asking.

DOMESTIC GOTHIC.

IF ever a style seemed to be thoroughly discredited for domestic uses it was Gothic in New York and throughout the country, say fifteen years ago. Nothing but churches continued to be built in the most logical, the most truthful, the most comprehensive and the most highly developed architectural language that has ever been attained in the world, and even for churches the Romanesque germ came to be preferred to the Gothic efflorescence. It was Victorian Gothic that had to answer for this, that mode that was founded more upon the building of North Italy, where Gothic was never anything but an exotic, than of the more Northern countries to which Gothic was indigenous. When it was attempted still further to complicate with many colors a design that in itself was apt to be too complicated, it required almost a miracle of self-restraint and tact to maintain repose. And in fact it was in domestic architecture of town houses that our Victorian Gothic was apt to appear at its worst. There are only half a dozen specimens or so of it in New York, and we could spare them all. Wrey Mould was a clever man, as his work in Central Park remains to testify. But a tall parti-colored front executed from his design on Fifth avenue opposite the lower end of the Park has since his death been demolished out of deference to public opinion, and replaced by a quiet and unobtrusive facade of no very marked character but a decent conformity. Other essays on the same kind might share the same fate without exciting general regret or indignation.

But of late there have been enough new houses built in decided and grammatical Gothic to portend a new revival, and very interesting some of them are. Of this Indian summer of a revival the late Richard M. Hunt may fairly be called the pioneer. The Vanderbilt house at 52d street, the Gerry house at 61st street, the Marquand houses in upper Madison avenue were labelled French Renaissance, but the success of these was pretty generally in the ratio in which the classic overlay in the French Renaissance was effaced and the Gothic basis was emphasized. Compare, for example, the south front of the Marquand houses, which is a considerably formalized and classicized composition, with the free treatment of the adjoining houses on the avenue. As with the builders of the chateaux on the Loire, in the style of which these houses were composed, the later architect seemed to be working in the trammels of an imposed style when in these transitional works he employed the imported Italian element in the French Renaissance, and to be expressing himself with vernacular ease then he reverted to the native manner of the sixteenth century builders.

But the newer dwellings are much more distinctly, are indeed exclusively Gothic. There is a brick and stone stable in East 84th street near Madison avenue, as nearly as the designer could manage it in the manner of Mr. Hunt's later domestic work, the combination of color virtually the same as in the Gerry mansion, which is rather interesting and fairly successful. Further east in the same street, by the way, is a belated product of the English Gothic reviyal, in the form of a stable in rough brick and brownstone, which is really a capital piece of work in its kind, though probably no one looks at it, without being reminded that it is distinctly rural in character and out of place in a city street. But the recent Gothic work we have in mind is much more elaborate and pretentious than either of these buildings, being carried out in a palatial style if not quite on a palatial scale, and apparently quite regardless of expense.

No. 969 Fifth avenue, at the south corner of Seventy-eighth street, is the oldest of these Gothic houses, having attained what for that region is the mature age of four or five years. Perhaps the most striking point in the design is the effective and crafty treatment of the conspicuous roof in a single steep slope against the party wall. At least, if there is any deck at the summit of its pitch, it is not noticeable from the street. This arrangement makes the flank of a narrow house really a front of the block which it masks, while giving much more importance to the dwelling of which it is a part than could otherwise be attained. To carry on the effect, the architect must, of course, rely to a great extent upon the willingness of the architects of what may come to be adjoined to his work to adapt their work to it. In the present case, vacancy still adjoins the blank wall, of course to the detriment of the free standing building, which looks like a fragment in its isolation. Nevertheless, it is a very interesting fragment. The long front is made up of three masses, all in the same plane, distinguished in treatment and by the roofing. The roof is dropped a story at the centre and a single plain and bold dormer inserted with excellent effect. These three masses make up an effective balance in the Gothic manner without formal symmetry. Formal symmetry, indeed, was out of the question with the predetermined treatment of the corner. This is a round tower detached or rather more than half its diameter, facing, so to speak, diagonally outward, the face being marked by a mullioned window in each story and in the uppermost by a dormer relieved against the steep hood of its roof. The avenue front is but a single lot, but room is made beyond the tower for a sufficiently broad and blank pier from which the tower and its roof are detached. The combination of material, a dark reddish brownstone for the basement and the wrought work, and a very deep yellow brick for the field of the wall, gives the design an animation which does not impair its repose, and the detail, very good in design and in scale, though sufficing to label the building distinctly enough as Gothic, yet helps to preserve for it a distinctly domestic aspect. It is a very good house.

No. 807 Fifth avenue is a variation upon the same motive. This also occupies a single corner lot, but is in a monochrome of light limestone, of which the monotony is relieved by a far higher elaboration of carving than in the work just considered. The corner tower reappears, but with a different treatment. The tier of openings which look out diagonally from the corner of Seventy-eighth street is at Sixty-second omitted, and there is substituted a tier forming the centre of the swell front of the avenue, which, as before, abuts upon a plain blank pier, and another tier in the street front, thus forming a terminal pavilion for that front. Moreover, the tower is retreated above the third story far enough to give room for a practical and parapeted balcony for the windows of the fourth. The arrangement, common as it is, is rather questionable in masonry, as suggesting a problem in construction which cannot be visibly solved, but it is here very well managed. A pavilion, counterparting the tower, is formed at the east end of the street front by a slight projection of the wall, sufficient to account for a separate roofing, and between the two the steep impressive slope of the main roof descends to the curtain wall. This is three openings wide, and three high, the upper three occurring at the eaves, and being crowned with rich rectilinear canopies. The detail is not only much more elaborate, but much more aggressively Gothic than in the earlier dwelling, and in some instances, as, for example, in the panelled tracery above the entrance, which recalls English Perpendicular, though it may have French precedent, has the "churchy" expression which is so generally resented in domestic work. But it is all very thoroughly studied both in design and in adjustment. Two notably successful points are the punctuation of the curtain wall by means of the three leaders, and of the sky line by means of the three stark and massive chimneys. The general aspect of the house is undeniably domestic, and of a richness which is artistic as well as palatial.

There are now going into execution and nearing completion two houses in Gothic of an even more ornate and developed kind, evidently from the same hand; one at No. 3 East Seventy-eighth street, nearly opposite the house first described, and the other at the south corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-ninth. In each case the architect has had the advantage of frontage, upon the narrower front, greater than that of a city lot, for in each case this frontage is of thirty-five feet. On the other hand, No. 3 East Seventy-eighth, being upon an inside lot, consists architecturally of a front and nothing more.

It is a very elaborate and imposing front, and though wrought out into an unusual profusion of detail, it is to the credit of the designer that it makes its chief effect by the simplicity and clearness of the general composition, and that it could bear even more ornament than it carries. The basement is a plain wall with simple openings at the side, while the middle third of it is occupied with a very sumptuous entrance. This is a low three-centred arch, heavily and richly moulded, and still further signalized by the balcony above it. The superstructure for three stories is of three equal faces, the central in the plane of the basement, and those at the sides withdrawn some four feet from the plane of the basement, and there meeting plain flanking piers. The large central window in the second story is dropped so as to give access to the balcony over the entrance, a shelf carried on carved corbels, and protected by a balustraded parapet which recalls rather Venetian work than any phase of French Gothic. The sides and the succeeding story are quite plain, with simple square-headed openings, but in the story following, the fourth of the building and the third of the triangular bay, into which the front is converted, is a segmental arch, with a very rich cusped canopy. The bay is crowned with an elaborate cornice under a traceried parapet of unquestionably Italian Gothic, and behind and above it appears the crowning gable, of course in the retreated plane of the sides. This is elaborately composed with a carved finial, pinnacles at the side connected with the gable by a screen of tracery, and an arched and canopied ogee window at the centre. It is a very rich and, upon the whole, a successful front, although much of the detail is so ecclesiastical, in association if not in origin, as to impair the expression of domesticity.

The house at the corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-ninth street is much more pretentious, being at least as rich in detail, and having, in addition to its frontage of thirty-five feet on the avenue, its principal front of 100 on the street. It is, indeed, one of the most pretentious and costly of recent dwellings, and its ornateness is the more conspicuous from the fact that it confronts the well-known mansion on the north corner, in which the architects evidently aimed at the praise of "simplex munditiis," that in fact they deserve. The elaborateness of the new house does not make the plainness of the old look bald, though it is questionable whether that does not make the elaboration of the new look more fussy than it would but for the conjunction. The material of the new house is the same monochrome of light limestone as that of the house we have just been talking about. The composition of the avenue front is much like that, excepting that this has but four stories against five, which is a clear architectural advantage, and that the feature into which the front is converted is here a curved bay carried down to the ground, instead of a straight three-sided bay running from a straight wall. This is even richer, the features of it being a very ornate balcony, which is hardly a practical balcony, above the basement, and the equally elaborate shell-frieze and traceried parapet above the third, behind which, as before, rises the gable. The balcony of the first story is a very elaborate piece of figure-carving, supported by an equally elaborate corbel-table, and the effect of it is pretty distinctly "churchy" rather than domestic. This effect is enhanced by the pinnacles at either side of the gable, and the still larger pinnacles at the angles of the front, resting upon the shafts into which the corners of the supporting wall are modeled. The feature is one which is more frequent in the domestic Gothic of South Germany than in that of any part of France, and it is often highly effective, when either the pinnacle is developed into a windowed bay, or when it is introduced to detach a tower-like roof. Here it answers neither purpose, and its meaninglessness stands confessed. In spite of the drawbacks, the avenue front is rich and effective, and, upon the whole, domestic in expression.

The long front is a much more ambitious composition, being as highly elaborated and three times as extensive. In spite of its elaboration, ample surfaces of plain wall are kept, and these are in the right places. The field of blank wall above the entrance and flanking the cusped canopy of the windows of the second story is especially effective. The triple lateral division emphasized by gables, the largest at the centre, is very well managed, and the front is long enough to admit of the introduction of these without huddling. But the gables themselves are not very happily treated. The very rich and heavy cornice is so emphatic as to cut them decisively off from the substructure instead of allying them with it. If the shell-frieze had been confined to the curtain wall and the line of the cornice across the feet of the gables had been indicated only by the prolongation of the upper member of the cornice there would have been a distinct gain in unity. Moreover, there is a manifest awkwardness in the superposition of the second story of openings in the gables, again too emphatically separated.

The front is of a very profuse richness, which would be profuse even in terra cotta, and makes the effect of extravagance in cut stone. The broad three-centred arch of the entrance, with the balustrated balcony and the canopied windows, is an incrustation of carving almost without parallel in our domestic architecture. The entrance itself is very effective, but the feature of which it forms a part is excessive. The besetting snare of the designer who undertakes Gothic town-houses has not been escaped. There are many details which belong rather to ecclesiastical than to domestic architecture. The tabernacles that flank the entrance, the pinnacles that flank the gables, the gabled pilasters of the bay window, all appear to be the spoils of churches. Moreover, although in general, the architecture seems to be that of the chateaux of the Loire, and though the salamander of Francis I. is very much in evidence, very much of the detail recalls Normandy rather than Touraine. Designers of Gothic houses sedulously avoid pointed windows. There is not one in any of the houses we have been discussing. But the temptation to introduce ecclesiastical details, deprived of their meaning by being taken from their context, is very great when one is building in Gothic regardless of expense, and cannot be yielded to without impairing the result of one's labors. And, in spite of Mr. Ruskin, ornament may be overdone. To prove it, one has only to look at the eastern wall, the rear of this house, which was meant to be merely presentable, but which is positively attractive, and, in part, by reason of its plainness. There is so much that is interesting in this house, in composition and in detail it shows so much intelligent study, that one does not like to say of it anything that seems disparaging. But it can and should be said that it has too much the air of an archaeological reproduction to be accepted as an appropriate New York City house of 1898.

ANOTHER week has produced a new record for a day's business on the Stock Exchange, and the developments in one direction or another keep the animation on the bull side, with no immediate prospect of its transference to the other. So far there is no indication of a coming change of sentiment or of the advent of conditions that will change it. Whether the turn is to come as a result of military conflict with our new wards in the Caribbean and China Seas, or from an agricultural reverse, or from other cause, there is no sign and no way of producing one. We may be sure that everything will not go our way always. But meantime the activities of a large, intelligent people, endowed with immeasurable resources, will surely produce great results in many directions from which money may be made, and so maintain that liveliness that has characterized our great markets for so long. The factor of cheap money is still to the fore, and so long as it remains it is an assurance against any considerable break in prices, except for local cause, which cheap money cannot cure. In this connection there is just one consideration that will arise to occasional thought, and that is, whether our reserves abroad are now as readily attainable as they have hitherto been. It is stated, and is probably the case, that the speculative activity abroad is supported by American capital, and that there is danger of that capital being called home at any time. The last clause of this statement does not quite deserve the confidence given to the first. Our people having at last convinced themselves that they are prosperous, are not likely to deny themselves anything they wish. If they do their temper will have changed remarkably. Such a change, though desirable, cannot be expected; rather may they be expected now to indulge that extravagance by which they have hiterto been known. Consequently, we may expect to see larger mercantile purchases made abroad from now on, and that the taste for foreign travel and incidental disbursement of income in other countries will revive. Nor can we expect that this country will continue to sell breadstuffs to Europe in the volume it has been doing for two years. If, then, the prospects are that we are to buy more and sell less it will be necessary that the credits abroad be retained there to meet adverse balances to be created and our control on the gold supply be thereby lessened. This fact will materially affect the money market when the commercial demands begin with the opening of spring operations, and will help to make the rise in rates for money, which will assuredly come then.

A NEW speculative movement has seized upon Europe, to which the Vienna market is probably the only exception. The latter still awaits the solution of knotty problems in home and foreign politics before venturing into buoyancy. The boom in gold shares, which is such a prominent feature in London, Paris and Berlin, is based upon the remarkably favorable report of the Rand gold industry for 1898. This was of a production of 4,295,602 ozs., an increase of 1,260,928 ozs., or 41.5 per cent. over that of 1897. It is easier to underestimate than to overestimate the significance of these figures, especially as the December output was much the largest of any month in the history of the Rand, amounting, as it did, to 419,504 ozs., and showing that the reports of trouble with citizens of the Boer Republic must have been grossly exaggerated, or this industry could not have increased in activity. Notwithstanding a strong demand for gold in the open market, a belief exists in London and elsewhere that the withdrawals from this side will not be large, a belief that is most probably based on the considerations mentioned in the preceding paragraph. In the British trade reports of this week there are some things mentioned which, besides displaying satisfactory conditions, suggests the course of coming events on this side. As has been the case here for some time, the cotton industry in England was carried on for several years prior to last, if not at a loss, at a very small profit. The output for 1896 was larger than that of 1898, but the profits were smaller. In the first named year the average profit for 94 companies was only £533; last year for 79 companies it was £3,156. In 1897, with a much smaller business, 91 companies reported average profits of £1,608. On the whole the conditions of the trade have very much improved. Similar movements may fairly be expected in our cotton trade, now that this country has fairly entered upon a period of prosperity. France has not found the republican an economical form of government, according to figures published by the "Ligue des Contribuables," or League of Taxpayers. These show that after the payment of the German indemnity, in 1874, the budget expenditures amounted to 2,623,000,000 f. Since then charges have been reduced by 132,000,000 f., but the budget for 1899 runs up to 3,495,000,000 f. The Imperial Bank of Germany continues to improve in strength, and business is encouraged thereby, but there seems to be some doubt of the ability of the Berlin and associated markets to take new Imperial and Prussian 3 per cent. loans, which it is proposed soon to issue, owing to capital being so closely absorbed by the better paying industrial securities into which the frugal classes, which formerly favored state issues, have become accustomed to put their savings. Australia gives evidence of recovery from the terrible depression it has suffered since 1890, by contemplating the issue of new loans, mainly for development, amounting in the aggregate to £11,000,000. Mexican finances continue to improve, as will be seen from the following returns of government receipts for the fiscal years named: 1893-4, $40,211,700; 1894-5, $43,943,700; 1895-6, $50,521,500; 1896-7, $51,500,500; 1897-8, $52,698,000. So world-spread is the wave of prosperity that even the Congo Free State can report a surplus in the budget for the current year, and, therefore, appear to be at last nearing the condition of self-support.

NON-FIREPROOF APARTMENT HOUSE LITIGATION.

THE mooted question as to the maximum height to which non-fireproof apartment houses can be built under existing laws has been temporarily settled in a decision rendered a few days ago by Justice Scott of the Supreme Court, in the case of Brown against the Commissioner of Buildings. Plans were filed in the Department of Buildings in the latter part of November last for a 7-story brick apartment house of non-fireproof construction, to be erected on West 95th street, and of a height of 73 feet, 6 inches. This application was denied by Commissioner Brady, basing his refusal upon the special Act of 1885, which limited the height of dwelling houses (apartment houses) to seventy feet on streets not exceeding sixty feet in width. A mandamus suit was brought by Mr. Peter Mitchell, as the attorney for the owner, to compel the Commissioner of Buildings to grant the application, for the reason that a later special law limiting the height of dwelling houses, passed in 1897, superceded the special Act of 1885, and for the further reason that the "building law" had been several times amended in regard to the height of non-fireproof buildings, so that it now stands by an amendment to Section 484, which was passed in 1897, at seventy-five feet as the limit for all classes of non-fireproof buildings, excepting only theatres, schools and institutions for the care and treatment of persons, which latter are limited to thirty-five in height. After a full hearing of the case the Court sustained the Department of Buildings in its refusal to approve the plans, by a decision which we give below.

Keeping in mind that the special law of 1885 limited the height of dwelling houses to seventy feet on streets sixty feet or less in width and to eighty feet on streets or avenues exceeding sixty feet in width, without reference to whether such buildings should be fireproof or not; that a similar law passed in 1897 allows fireproof dwelling houses to be erected to a height of one hundred feet upon all streets and avenues not exceeding seventy-nine feet in width and to a height of one hundred and fifty feet upon all streets and avenues exceeding seventy-nine feet in width, the later act stating, additionally, that all statutes in force at the time of its passage, except as thus modified, should continue in force in their application to buildings; and further keeping in mind that the "building law" of 1885 established the height for non-fireproof buildings at seventy feet, amended in 1887 to eighty feet, again amended in 1892 to eighty-five feet, still again amended in 1896 to seventy feet, and finally amended in 1897 to seventy-five feet, it would appear that this series of acts, all of a date later than the special act of 1885, covers the whole subject treated of in that statute. While the special act of 1885 limited the height of dwelling houses to seventy and eighty feet, regardless of whether they were built fireproof or not, the height of dwelling houses by the later special act of 1897 was raised to one hundred and one hundred and fifty feet, conditioned on their being fireproof. It is true that the special act of 1897 did not specifically repeal the special act of 1885, and the Court states that the repeal of a statute by implication will not be effected unless the two statutes are obviously repugnant. It will be observed on reading the opinion that Justice Scott practically ignores the special Act of 1897, Chap. 321, relating to the height for fireproof dwelling houses, and confines himself to the special law of 1885, and to the amendments made in 1897 to Section 484 of the "building law," which is Chapter 557 of the laws of that year. The wording of the opinion does not clearly convey the meaning of the Court, particularly in that portion bearing on the result of the two statutes standing together near the end of the decision. What the Justice probably intended to say is, that between the restrictions for heights of dwelling houses in the special Act of 1885 and the limitation of height for non-fireproof buildings to seventy-five feet by the amendment to Section 484 of the "building law" in 1897 there is no inconsistency, and therefore no dwelling house on a street sixty feet or less in width can be erected to a height greater than seventy feet, so far as those two acts are concerned. In rendering his opinion Justice Scott apparently ignores the special Act of 1897—perhaps because the case before him was not that of a fireproof dwelling house—which merited consideration in determining the question as to whether or not the special Act of 1885 is yet operative. Obviously all three laws should have been considered together—the special limitation Act of 1885, the "building law" amendment of 1897 for height of non-fireproof buildings, and the special limitation act of 1897 allowing fireproof apartment houses to be built to a height of one hundred and one hundred and fifty feet. Had this course been pursued it is not unlikely that a different verdict would have been reached.

We are informed that Mr. Mitchell intends to appeal the case in the belief that he will obtain a reversal of the decision for his client. It has been the contention of Mr. Eugene Otterbourg, the Assistant Corporation Counsel assigned to the Department of Buildings, that the special act of 1885 remains in full force. This contention, however, was handed down to the present administration of the Department of Buildings by the former Superintendent of Buildings. Mr. Otterbourg's opinion has now been sustained for the time being at least. What a higher court will determine when the appeal reaches it is conjectural. The decision of Justice Scott, as reported by the "Law Journal," is as follows:

People, &c., ex rel. Brown v. Brady, Commissioner of Buildings, &c.—The relator, who is the owner of two lots of land on 95th street, in the City of New York, has filed with the defendant plans and specifications for a building which she proposes to erect designed to be occupied as a dwelling house by fourteen families. These plans indicate that the proposed building is to contain seven stories and to be erected to the height of 73 feet and 6 inches. The building is to be of non-fireproof construction, and it is conceded that 95th street is only 60 feet in width. The defendant is Commissioner of Buildings of the City of New York, having administrative jurisdiction over that portion of the City of New York in which the relator's property lies. It is his duty to pass upon any question relative to the mode, manner of construction or materials to be used in the erection or alteration of any building to be erected within the Borough of Manhattan (in which relator's property is situated), and to require that such mode, manner of construction or materials shall conform to law, and until relator's plans have been approved by him, she cannot lawfully proceed with the erection of her projected building. The defendant refuses to approve the said plans and specifications, because they provide for the erection, fronting on a street only 60 feet in width, of a non-fireproof building exceeding 70 feet in height, basing his refusal upon an act known as Chapter 454 of the Laws of 1885. The relator, claiming that this act relied on by the defendant has been repealed and superseded by later enactments, applies for a preemptory mandamus requiring the defendant to approve her plans and specifications. No disputed questions of fact are involved. The act referred to is entitled "An Act to Regulate the Height of Dwelling Houses in the City of New York." That it is a valid enactment and within the constitutional power of the Legislature has already been decided (People, &c., v. D'Oench, 111 N. Y. Rep. 359). It provides, in its first section, that "the height of al. dwelling houses, and of all houses used or intended to be used as dwellings for more than one family in the City of New York, shall be regulated in proportion to the width of the streets and avenues upon which they front." The second section defines the limits of height as follows: "Such height . . . . shall not exceed 70 feet upon all streets and avenues not exceeding 60 feet in width, and 80 feet upon all streets and avenues exceeding 60 feet in width." It is conceded that, if this act is still operative, the plans proposed by the relator are unlawful. The relator bases her contention that it has ceased to be operative, upon a series of acts passed by the Legislature since 1885, regulating the minimum height to which non-fireproof buildings may be erected. These acts, which are known as Chapter 275, Laws of 1892 (Sec.20); Chapter 723, Laws of 1896, and Chapter 557 of the Laws of 1897, each provide that all buildings erected after their passage, to be used as an hotel or as a theatre, hospital, asylum, institution for the care and treatment of persons, or in whole or in part as a school or place of instruction, the height of which exceeds 35 feet shall be built fireproof, and that "every other building," the height of which exceeds a certain number of feet, shall also be built fireproof. The specifications of the buildings, other than hospitals, hotels, schools, etc., which must be built fireproof, has varied from time to time. In the Act of 1892 all such buildings over 85 feet in height were required so to be built; by the Act of 1896 this height was reduced to 70 feet, and by the Act of 1897 it was increased to 75 feet. The relator contends that this latest statute of 1897 covers the whole subject of the permissible height of buildings, and that the only limitation now prescribed by law is that, if more than 75 feet in height, they must be fireproof, and that, by necessary implication, the Act of 1885 must be deemed to have been repealed. It needs the citation of no authorities to sustain the proposition that the repeal of a statute by implication will not be effected, unless the two statutes are obviously repugnant, or because, by reason of the fact that a later statute covers the whole subject treated in a former statute, or for other reasons, it is apparent that the Legislature in passing the later statute intended to repeal the former. No such condition of affairs is shown here. There is certainly no inconsistency between the Act of 1885 and the Act of 1897. The former act was limited to dwelling houses, and regulated their height solely with reference to the width of the street or avenue on which they fronted. That width alone afforded the test of the height to which they might be built. The question whether or not their construction was to be fireproof was not referred to. The Act of 1897, on the other hand deals only with the question of fireproof construction. Every building over 75 feet in height, wherever erected, on a wide street or a narrow, a dwelling house or a factory, must be fireproof. With buildings under 75 feet (except the special classes limited as to fireproofing to 35 feet), the Act of 1897 did not in anywise interfere. The result of the two statutes standing together is, that on a street like 95th street, no dwelling house, whether fireproof or not, can be erected, exceeding 70 feet in height. Any building other than a dwelling house can be erected on such a street to any desired height, but if that height be more than 75 feet, the building must be fireproof. There is no repugnancy in these provisions. The Act of 1885, therefore, remains still effective, and as the relator's contemplated building confessedly violates its provisions, the defendant was right in refusing to approve the plans. Motion denied, with $10 costs.

ALTHOUGH the memorial of the Rapid Transit Commission to the Legislature, which was published this week, presents three ways for procuring the underground railroad, viz., by waiting until the credit of the city is sufficiently improved to justify municipal construction; through an issue of bonds by New York County, and by private capital, its text indicates that it is the belief of the Commission that the third and last is the only way by which the desires of the community can be attained. It is not without significance that this memorial is signed by the Comptroller, a member of the Commission by right of his office, though in this case, as he is unaccompanied by the Mayor, who is also ex-officio member of the Commission, the Comptroller is doubtless doing what he, as one of its servants, deems the best for the city's interest, but does not represent the administration as a whole. So far as he has gone his independence and public spirit are to be commended, but it is still important to know what position the City Hall will take toward the bill that the Commission promises to introduce. It does not require a very acute eye to see that negotiatons are under way to secure the franchise for an underground railroad to be built by private capital if the Legislature authorizes its creation, but it is also evident that these negotiations are in hands toward some of which the disposition of the ruling powers in the city is not altogether friendly. It may be, and we hope is the fact, that these feelings will not be permitted to prejudice any fair and practical scheme to give the city rapid north and south transit, but assurances to this end would remove disquiet. We would not envy the political future of any public man who, for partisan reasons or private prejudice, blocked a desirable scheme of rapid transit. As to the general proposition to invite private capital into the rapid transit enterprise, we do not see, in view of the absolute necessity for the work contemplated and the impracticability of its being done in a measurably reasonable period of time as a municipal improvement, how its merit can be questioned. The conditions accompanying the franchise have yet to be discussed. That they will have to be generous if the road is to be built, everyone will admit, and the public will certainly not be the stickler over terms, provided they serve to secure the needed convenience of speedy communication through the length of the city so long as their rights and interests are protected. There is a general recognition of the fact that the withdrawal from the problem of the factor of municipal provision of the means to build the road also withdraws from the solution many of the direct benefits that were expected to accrue to it.

THE new President of the Borough of Manhattan, James J. Coogan, has entered upon his duties with an evident belief in their importance that is very encouraging to see. He has taken up the proposal to extend Sixth avenue to Canal street with intelligence and spirit, following that with a protest against the delay in completing the Elm street improvement, and is now doubtless looking around for other waifs of like character to adopt in order to give them the paternal care they need. His industry has occasioned a good many sly winks and some jocularity in the little world that exists between the Post Office and Chambers street, but to our mind his policy is the very one calculated to give the borough presidency importance and remove the discredit into which it fell by reason of its first year of existence being one of inactivity, if not of indolence. What is wanted, now that the boroughs have in a manner to scramble among themselves for the improvements they need, is a sort of public prosecutor of improvements, an office that naturally would fall upon the borough president, and which may become one of the most useful ones, if conducted in the way that the new incumbent of the presidential chair in Manhattan has, so to say, celebrated his inauguration with. If he succeeds in what he has undertaken he will not only earn his salary, but deserve the gratitude of the borough as well.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, Jan. 26.—The tide of important bills is beginning to rise. The Rapid Transit Commissioners sent a memorial here this week which plainly points to the introduction of a bill by them for the construction of an underground railroad in New York by private capital. Such a bill, it is understood, is now "on the stocks," almost ready to be launched, in the office of Tracy, Boardman & Platt in New York. It has been hinted that Mr. Boardman may arrive here with the bill on Monday next.

Senator Ford has presented a bill to increase the city's revenues, by authorizing the taxation of the franchises of every street railway, gas, electric light, and telephone company in New York.

Senator Marshall has presented bills (Intro. No. 137, Intro. 138, and Intro. 139), which authorize the Long Island Railroad Company to depress their tracks.

Following are the bills of the week:

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 162), authorizing the trustees of the New East River Bridge to buy more land for anchorages and the protection of the piers.

Senator La Roche (Intro. No. 158), repealing Chapter 469, Laws of 1898, which imposed upon the city of New York the keeping navigable certain streams in Queens county.

Senator D. F. Davis (Intro. No. 171), and Assemblyman De Graw (Intro. No. 320), empowering the Commissioners of Records of New York to collect and arrange the records of the old towns of New Lots, Flatbush, New Utrecht, and Gravesend.

Senator La Roche (Intro. No. 157), and Assemblyman McKeon (Intro. No. 310), terminating the terms of office of "all officers, boards, commissions, and commissioners, hitherto existing under the provisions of special laws or otherwise, in any of the territory consolidated into a city" by the Greater New York charter, "whose powers and duties relate in any way to the inauguration or prosecution of local improvements, the audit of claims, or the issuing of bonds, or other obligations, or to the management and control of funds or money heretofore belonging to any town or other political division of said territory." The bill further says that the powers and duties of the members of the commission thus terminated "are hereby devolved upon such officers or departments as shall be entrusted with like power or perform like duties in the government of said city.

Senator George F. Davis (Intro. No. 167), providing for a jury trial of facts when the probate of a will deeding real estate is offered for probate. It amends Section 2651 of the Code of Civil Procedure so as to read as follows: "Upon the return of the citation the Surrogate must proceed to hear the proofs and allegations of the parties, unless the petitioner, or any party cited, shall file with the Surrogate a written demand that such issues of fact arising in such proceeding shall be tried by jury. Either of the Surrogates of New York county may, in his discretion, hear such proceedings with a jury."

Senator Sullivan (Intro. No. 181), amending Sub-division 3 of Section 484 of Chapter 410 of the Laws of 1882, as amended by Chapter 557 of the Laws of 1897 so as to read: "3. All brick or stone arches placed between iron or steel floor beams shall be at least four inches thick and have a rise of at least one and one-quarter inches to each foot of space between the beams. Arches of (every) 'over' five feet shall be properly increased in thickness, as required by the (superintendent) commissioners of buildings, or the space between the beams may be filled with sectional hollow brick of hard burnt clay or of porous terra cotta, 'or of some equally good fireproof material, such material in every case to be approved by the board of examiners created by Section 504 of Chapter 410 of the laws of 1882, as amended by Chapter 275 of the Laws of 1892,' being a depth of not less than one and one-quarter inches to each foot of span, a variable distance being allowed of not over six inches in the span between the beams."

The following has also been inserted in the section: "In addition to the brick or stone arches and sectional hollow brick, and in lieu thereof, any other or different system of floor construction may be used and placed between or above the beams or otherwise, upon the sole condition that the same shall be constructed of cement, concrete, or of any 'other fireproof material or materials, or of any combination thereof approved by the board of examiners,' created by Section 504 of Chapter 410 of the Laws of 1882, as amended by Chapter 275 of the Laws of 1892. The bottom flanges of all wrought iron or rolled steel floor beams, when exposed, and all exposed portions of such beams below the abutments of the floor arches, shall be entirely encased with hard-burnt clay, or porous terra cotta, or 'with some equally good fireproof material,' or with wire metal lath properly secured and plastered on the underside." The words in parentheses are those which it is proposed to drop out of the existing law. The words specially quoted are new.

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 210), authorizing the Board of Docks, at the request of the Commissioner of Street Cleaning, to designate and set apart for the use of the Department of Street Cleaning and for a dump for the removal of ashes, garbage and refuse from the city of New York the bulkhead and pier at the foot of 79th street and the bulkhead and pier at the foot of 96th street.

Assemblyman Brown (Intro. No. 239), amending Article 1 of Chapter 418 of the Laws of 1897 by declaring that "liability for advance payment, collusive mortgages and incumbrances of any payment by the owner to a contractor, 'or by a contractor to a sub-contractor,' upon a contract for the improvement of real property, 'or by a municipal corporation, upon a contract for public improvement to a contractor therefor, or by a contractor for public improvement to a sub-contractor therefor,' made prior to the time when, by the terms of the contract, such payment becomes due, for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this article, shall be of no effect as against the lien of a sub-contractor, laborer, or material man, under such contract, created before such payment actually becomes due." The new parts of this proposed law are given in single quotations. The bill further amends Section 15 of Article 1 of Chapter 418 of the Laws of 1897 so as to declare: "No assignment of a contract for the performance of labor, or the furnishing of materials for the improvement of real property, 'or for a public improvement,' or of the money or any part thereof due or to become due 'under such contract' therefor, nor an order drawn by a contractor or sub-contractor upon the owner of such real property, 'or upon a municipal corporation, or by a sub-contractor upon' a contractor with such owner 'or municipal corporation' for the payment of such money shall be valid until the contract or a statement containing the substance thereof and such assignment, or a copy of each, or a copy of such order be filed in the office of the County Clerk of the county wherein the real property improved or to be improved is situated, 'or such public improvement is made,' and sub-contract, assignment or order shall have effect and be enforceable from the time of such filing. Such Clerk shall enter the facts relating to such assignment or order in the 'Lien Docket' or in another book provided by him for such purpose."

Assemblyman Guider (Intro. No. 244), providing that "all elevator shafts hereafter constructed in any hotel or other building of three stories' height or more shall be wholly constructed of iron, steel, stone, or brick, and without openings except for ingress and egress from each floor and where actually necessary for light and air. If built of iron or steel, the material used shall be at least one inch in thickness, and shall be fastened together by rivets and other suitable contrivance with such iron or steel supports, posts, or beams as may be necessary, and if constructed of stone or brick the same shall be at least one foot in thickness. There shall also be built and constructed around such elevator shaft a suitable staircase of iron, stone or brick leading from the ground floor of such building to the upper floor thereof." The bill further says: "Within 90 days from and after the passmentioned in this act in which an elevator is now placed or in age of this act the owner or owners of any building of the kind mentioned in this act in which an elevator is now placed or in use, shall cause the elevator and stairway to be altered and constructed in such a manner as to comply with all the provisions" of the section just cited "relating to the future construction of elevator shafts and stairways in such buildings." Any violation of the act is to subject the guilty person to imprisonment for not less than one year, or by a fine of not less than $100; or by both such fine and imprisonment." It should be mentioned that the elevator shaft is to be built from the ground floor of any such building continuously and up to the roof or to a point above the highest landing, where it is to be properly topped off and closed, wholly covered by some fireproof material. There is also to be placed at every opening in the elevator shaft suitable iron and steel doors. The elevator is to be wholly of iron or steel.

Assemblyman De Graw (Intro. No. 319), making it the duty of all assessors and officers performing the duties of assessors in cities to add one column to the assessment roll, which shall be placed immediately before the column in which is set down the assessed value of real estate. "In the column so added shall be set down the sum for which, in their judgment, said real estate, under ordinary circumstances, would sell if wholly unimproved."

Assemblyman Noyes (Intro. No. 338), creating a division of notification in the Department of Finance. It creates a division of notification in the Bureau for the Collection of Assessments and Arrears of Taxes and Assessments, and of water rents in the Department of Finance. The owners of any lot may register it in the division of notification "and in the said application the applicant shall designate a post office address, to which notifications addressed to him shall be sent." The bill then declares that "as soon as any assessment for any local improvement shall have been confirmed the owner of the lot shall receive a notice of the fact from the notification office, "together with the amount assessed thereon, date of confirmation, and title of the improvement for which said assessment is made, and a statement of the interest or penalty imposed for the non-payment of the said assessment, and the date from which the interest or penalty will be computed." The act further says that "the Collector of Assessments and Arrears shall devote a volume of the books of record in his office in each section of the city included within the Borough of Manhattan, as the same shall appear upon the tax maps of the city of New York, each of which volumes shall be subdivided into as many parts as may be necessary, each part whereof shall be devoted to blocks consecutively numbered upon said tax maps."

Assemblyman Grossman (Intro. No. 350), making it unlawful for any city authorities "to receive or take more than 6 per centum interest per annum on any taxes or assessments upon property. Nothing herein contained shall affect or alter any penalty imposed for the non-payment of taxes or assessments and any delinquency in the payment thereof."

Assemblyman Davis (Intro. No. 285), providing that the lien of all taxes, assessments, water rents or charges which, on the first day of January, 1899, had remained due and unpaid for a period of 10 years or more, shall be discharged. The bill also says that the period during which the collection of a tax, assessment, water rent or charge to which this act applies is stayed by a court or judge upon the application of the person from whom the same is due and owing, shall not be taken as a part of the 10 years provided for in the act.

Assemblyman Doughty (Intro. No. 358), an amendment to the Greater New York Charter which excludes certain lands now included in it and annexes it to the town of Hempstead. The boundary of the former town of Hempstead is re-established as it existed on Dec. 31, 1897, and the boundary of New York City on the East and North is established "by the East and North bounds of the former village of Far Rockaway and on the East by a line drawn due North from the Northwest corner of said village to the South line of the town of Jamaica as it existed on Dec. 31, 1897."

Assemblyman Grossman (Intro. No. 327), amending Section 980 of Chapter 378 of the Laws of 1897 relative to local improvements, and relates to the powers of the commissioners of estimate and assessment in allowing compensation for property required for improvements. The bill drops out of the section the following concluding portion of it: "If the said commissioners of estimate and assessment shall judge that any intended regulation will injure any building or buildings not required to be taken for the purpose of opening, extending, enlarging, straightening, altering or improving such street or part of a street they shall proceed to make, together with the other estimates and assessments required by law to be made by them, a just and equitable estimate and assessment of the loss and damage which will accrue by and in consequence of such intended regulation to the respective owners, lessees, parties and persons respectively entitled unto or interested in the said building or buildings so to be injured by the said intended regulation; and the sums or estimates of compensation and recompense for such loss and damage shall be included by the said commissioners in their report, and included in the assessment for benefit."

Assemblyman Martin (Intro. No. 375), exempting from taxation a mortgage on agricultural lands which bears interest at a rate not exceeding $5 upon $100 for one year.

Assemblyman O'Connell (Intro. No. 382), providing that every contractor or builder shall cause to be erected a box or place for the tools of mechanics at work on a building.

Assemblyman Egan (Intro. No. 395), amending Sections 4 and 13 of Chapter 418 of the Laws of 1897, as to extent of lien by providing that "if labor is performed or materials are furnished for the improvement of real property which is subject to a purchase money mortgage recorded prior to the filing of a lien, or which has been sold under a contract or other arrangement, by the terms of which the vendor is to loan money to or in any manner aid the vendee in the improvement of such real property, the lien for such labor and materials shall extend to the enhancement of the value of such real property caused by the performance of such labor and the furnishing of such materials." It also says: "Such lien shall also have a priority over any mortgage on the real property improved, given for the purchase money therefor and over any contract or other arrangement for the sale of such real property by the terms of which the vendor agrees to loan any sum to or in any other manner to aid the vendee in the improvement of such real property to the extent of the enhancement of the value of such real property by the furnishing of materials or the performance of labor upon which such lien is based.

OWNER, CONTRACTOR AND SUB-CONTRACTOR

"A Question of Contract" in the last number of "The Bulletin" to hand, is an interesting article bearing on the exact standing of architects in relation to work of sub-contractors whose contracts are with the general contractor. A difference on this point having been referred to Mr. Wm. H. Sayward, Secretary of National Association of Builders, he addressed a number of the prominent members of the Association, asking their opinion as to whether, under the operation of the following clause in a building contract between an owner and principal or general contractor, the owner may enter upon the work for the purpose of performing any part thereof not progressing to the satisfaction of the architect, leaving the contract otherwise still in the hands of the principal contractor; or whether the principal contractor should be deprived of the contract as a whole before the owner could enter upon the work for the performance of any part thereof; the said "part" being included in the contract between the owner and the principal contractor, but having been sublet by the latter to a sub-contractor:

If at any time any of the work mentioned in the said specifications is not progressing, or any of the materials are not in accordance with the said specifications, to the entire satisfaction of the said architect, after five days' notice having been served on the said party of the second part by the said architect, then the said party of the first part shall have the right to enter upon and take possession of said work and remove all materials that are considered by the said architect unfit for said work, and furnish suitable materials instead thereof.

The answers received were practically unanimous, to the effect that remedies must be sought through the general contractor. George C. Prussing, Chicago, ex-President of the National Association, said: "It is reasonable to suppose that the architect ere he serves notice on the general contractor, will advise him of his intention and reason therefor, and that the contractor will either agree with the architect's judgment and compel the sub-contractor to furnish suitable labor and materials, or will do it himself; or he may comply with the architect's direction under protest and leave the adjustment of greater value to arbitration; or, finally, he may refuse to do the work. In the latter case the architect, as agent for the owner, finds his remedy in giving notice, and enters upon the completion of the work." John S. Stevens, Philadelphia, ex-President of the National Association, was of the opinion that, the owner, or the architect, as the agent of the owner, should deal entirely with the principal contractor. Alfred Lyeth, ex-President of the Buffalo Builders' Exchange, said: "The owner can only act through the general contractor." J. Milton Blair, Cincinnati, ex-President of the National Association, held that should a sub-contractor fail to fully live up to the plans and specifications in his performance of his part of the entire contract, it is not within the province or jurisdiction of the owner or his agent, the architect, to interfere, except after he has exhausted the general contractor, and, therefore, cannot enter upon the work until he has first deprived the principal contractor of the contract as a whole. Mr. George Watson, Philadelphia, replied: "I do not think there is any doubt but that the general contractor has control and is responsible for the entire contract until the work is entirely completed; and if the owner or architect should enter upon the work or any part thereof on account of delay or defective material, the general contractor must be responsible for any additional cost and for any expense in completing said work."

The replies are understood to sense the opinions of the building communities from which they emanate, and besides their general interests to the trade, they serve to show the valuable practical work done by the National Association, not merely for its constituents, but also for the trade at large.

THE ASTOR SALES ON THE EAST SIDE.

Last week in a review of the realty business of last year given in these columns, a passing reference was made to the activity in Astor properties on the East Side as one of the notable movements of the year. An examination of the facts relating to it show that in extent and importance this movement deserves considerably more than a passing reference, in that it affords an evidence of the desirability of the section affected for speculative and investment operations. It is to be noted as a preliminary that the representatives of W. W. Astor, who, alone of the Astors, has been the seller, have all along maintained that he has no intention of closing out his East Side holdings, but was selling scattered parcels when he could do so with advantage. Still his sellings in this one section have been extensive, and it is understood that there are negotiations under way with his agents for a number of parcels in addition to those whose transfers have already been recorded.

It will be remembered that attention was first called to this movement by the announcement that Mr. Morgenthau had made a contract for the purchase of a considerable amount of property from W. W. Astor, most of which was under lease. Subsequently this agreement was modified by the withdrawal of some of the parcels included in it, and the substitution of others. In the final agreement Mr. Morgenthau took 45 parcels for which he paid $676,137. In the course of a few months he had resold every one of them for a total of, say $960,769, after a little estimating, which is indicated further on, or at a gross profit of $284,632. Some deductions from the last-named sum must, of course, be made for expenses, commissions, etc., but taking it altogether the profit on this transaction cannot have been much less than a quarter of a million of dollars. Four of these properties have been sold again, at a further respectable profit. About the time of the modification of the first Morgenthau agreement it was stated, and the statement has not been contradicted, that tenants of W. W. Astor property on the north and south sides of 4th and 5th streets and on the east side of Avenue A had the privilege of renewing their leases. On the streets the ground rent for a renewal of 20 years was to be $750 a year and on the avenue for a renewal of 10 years $950 a year. The old leases on the streets, which were about to expire, were for 20 years at $375 a year. On the avenue leases were made 50 years ago at $175 a year, running for 20 years; for a renewal for a second term of 20 years the ground rent was $375; a second renewal was made for 10 years at $950 per annum, at which rental tenants had the privilege of renewing again for 10 years. These figures applied to the property released back to the Astor estate by Mr. Morgenthau under the new agreement. For convenient reference the following table has been prepared. It shows the properties included in Mr. Morgenthau's purchase for $676,137, and the prices at which they were individually resold, and the prices at which third sales have been made wherever obtainable:

The operation embraced in the foregoing table arose from a proper appreciation on the part of its originator of the economic conditions that warrant advancement in values of real estate. Here was a district, which, because of the terms under which property was held and occupied there, had been stagnant for a long time, and on which population had been pressing for some years, making the demand for domestic housing, and the collateral demand for retail business housing, great. The period was approaching when the terms of tenancy, or of holding, must be modified under an advance in values. These together formed the opportunity for the remarkably successful operation that was conceived and carried out with the results shown by our figures. What is of further importance is that the closing of the first large operation did not end the movement; there was still room for profitable third sales, some of which have been made and more of which would undoubtedly have been made were it not that the second sales were mostly made to parties desiring the premises for speculative improvement, which has not yet had time to mature, to investors and to others desiring the premises purchased for domestic or commercial occupation.

The section in which the operation described was carried out is essentially one that demands that the land shall provide much more housing space than it has done previously, because of the increase of population within itself and the pressure of a growing population on all sides outside its boundaries, especially that to the south. Consequently the Morgenthau operation is likely to be only the first part of a movement which will finally reorganize the section by raising values and rebuilding the housing. That there has been a steady and persistent demand for property for improvement in the lower East Side has been pointed out in these columns for a considerable time past, and was particularly noticeable whenever any such came into the auction market. This is still noticeable to-day. Not to crowd in too many instances of the demand in the section more particularly referred to in this article, it will be sufficient to give the further sales by W. W. Astor made since his contract with Mr. Morgenthau, and which will be found collected in the following table:

THE TOMBS COMPROMISE.

Geo. B. Post, consulting architect, reported to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment on the cell plans of Horgan & Slattery, for the new Tombs prison, as follows:

"The plans are very similar in construction and detail to those of Mr. C. C. Cook, already approved by me, and both in general arrangement and disposition of parts are in conformity with the general scheme of Messrs. Withers & Dickson, the architects for the building. It is my opinion that in the details of cell arrangement the plans at present before me for examination are superior to those indicated at smaller scale on the original drawings. The interior cell walls are flush surfaces, and consequently easily kept in thoroughly good sanitary condition. The balconies forming galleries around the cells are protected with vertical bar-work, which will eventually prevent the suicide of prisoners by jumping from them or injury to jailers by an attempt by prisoners to throw them over the railing. The entire cell construction, as at present planned, is considerably heavier than that proposed by Messrs. Withers & Dickson, and the floor girders of two tiers of beams, which are abundantly strong to support the load of the cells as designed by them, will have to be strengthened to enable them to bear the additional load imposed by the weight of the cells themselves, as at present planned. The steel plates throughout this cell-work are considerably heavier than would be necessary if the manufacturers would guarantee that they could be manufactured with flat and true surfaces of less thickness.

"A provision for an accidental hypothetical load of 70 pounds to the square foot of floor surface has to be made, which is the minimum load which the most liberal construction of our present very imperfect Building Act allows. This load is very largely in excess of the load which the girders should be called upon to carry in conformity with correct engineering principles. It is fortunate that the construction is such that the strengthening of the girders can be done with ease, speed, and at a very moderate cost. With regard to the best method of strengthening these girders, I have been in consultation with the engineer of Messrs. Withers & Dickson, by whom, as the architects of record for the building, any amended plans for the strengthening of the floors should be filed with the Department of Buildings. I recommend the following specification for this work: The plates, 10 inches wide by 1 inch thick, shall be riveted to the upper and lower flanges of the 20-inch girder beams of the two floors supporting the cell construction, with ⅞-inch rivets spaced 6 inches apart, centre to centre, and so staggered that two rivets do not come together transversely on the girder. These plates to extend from the outer edge of the supporting bracket to the wall. Also bent angle brackets be riveted first to the webs of the same 20-inch beams and secured to the flanges of the columns with 5 rivets in each bracket, the present rivets to be cut out and the brackets carefully fitted each to its respective place, and drilled with holes corresponding to those in the column. New rivets to be driven then through bracket and column flange, thoroughly filling the holes and making a first-class connection."

He further recommended that Horgan & Slattery's plans should be amended by substituting a sheet of 8-lb. lead between the plates in place of deadening felt; and blue stone or marble for the cell floors in place of asphalt or other approved material. He also suggested some other minor changes. In order to secure unity of design throughout the entire building, he thought, Withers & Dickson should be required to make the details for the ornamental cell fronts. Mr. Post, having been supported by L. L. Buck, engineer of the new East River Bridge, to whom the correspondence of the several contesting architects had previously been referred, the Board decided that the work should be done in accordance with his recommendations.

THE WEST END ASSOCIATION.

The regular monthly meeting of this association was held on 9th inst., with Cyrus Clark, President, in the chair, when the following new members were elected: Royal Earl Deane, 154 W. 94th street; C. Henry Mattlage, 325 W. 88th street; George F. Mattlage, 59 W. 95th street; George H. Rhodes, 66 W. 87th street; Edward P. Cone, 314 W. 90th street; John Elderkin, 150 W. 83d street; George K. Tilden Swan, 37 Riverside Drive, Rev. Dr. Thomas R. Slicer, 27 W. 76th street; Charles H. Beckett, 306 W. 88th street, and E. S. T. Kennedy, 341 W. 87th street. The resignations of Mrs. S. M. Blatchford, W. J. Cassard, Henry Eggers, Percy L. Klock, George W. Montgomery and M. M. Sternberger were received and accepted.

The Legislation, Law and Schools Committee reported that they had arranged for the Session Bills, to be furnished from Albany and kept on file with the Secretary. Mr. McDonald reported that, in the matter of the Amsterdam avenue four tracks, the executors of the Hayes and Law estates had been communicated with, and efforts made to secure their influence toward inducing the use of one set of tracks by two companies; also with counsel for Third Avenue R. R., for same purpose, but without effect. Mr. Stabler moved that the Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools be empowered to spend $500, if in its judgment it seems necessary, in furtherance of the effort to defeat the four tracks in Amsterdam avenue, the said $500 to be paid to the Treasurer of the People's Committee, in the discretion of the Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools. This was carried unanimously. Standing committees for the year 1899 were announced, and the Executive Committee of 1898 re-elected for 1899.

"THREE ESTATES."

We have been the recipients, during the past week, from the office of Harry McVickar & Company, real estate agents, of a rare and highly-artistic treatise on country properties which they have for sale. The properties mentioned in the booklet are situated at Lloyd's Neck, Long Island, and comprise the Derby Estate, Alden Estate and Schmidt Estate. These properties are offered by the firm for sale to intending purchasers of country seats, and including a brief historical research of the land as far back as the Revolution, is given the names of many wealthy and prominent people who are owners of estates in the near vicinity. The catalogue, if it can be so termed, is, as before stated, a novel and rare work of its kind, and is a very happy reflection on the highly artistic business sense of this enterprising young firm of brokers. The firm would take pleasure in mailing, upon application, these booklets to anyone desirous of purchasing country seats. The booklet bears the title of "Three Estates."

THE MASON BUILDERS' ASSOCIATON.

At a meeting of the Mason Builders' Association, held this week, the following officers were elected for the year of 1899: President, John J. Tucker; first vice-president, Warren A. Conover; second vice-president, Charles T. Wills; treasurer, Walter S. Harrison; secretary, Charles A. Cowen; executive committee, Henry M. Tostevin, P. J. Brennan, J. Cockerill, P. Gallagher and James Livingston.

In a long and able address President John J. Tucker reviewed the work of the association and the gratifying results that have resulted from its efforts to bring about good feeling and harmony between employers and employees and in conclusion, in relation to the Arbitration Committee of the association, said:

"On the part of the employers the opportunity to meet with the men and talk over affairs which so vitally affected both, gave the chance to find that fairness and justice was as firmly imbedded in the hearts of the workman as in those that wore purple and fine linen. Again, what have we (the Mason Builders) done, or rather what influence have we had upon the affairs of our home—this city? When we (the Mason Builders) organized the amount spent per year on buildings was about $40,000,000. Since then it has risen to nearly $100,000,000. And who can gainsay that this association has not been largely instrumental in keeping this great advance?

"The Mason is, and always will be, the great factor in building, and the ease with which our part has been conducted, rapidly and frictionless, has contributed in no small degree to the decision on the part of the owners to proceed with the erection of the gigantic palaces that have been reared in the past ten years, giving employment to thousands and adding to the beauty and glory of our great city.

"Other bodies have accomplished much good in many ways, but we have a field peculiarly our own, and I am sure, you will agree with me, the harvest has been a grand one. We can rest assured as we look around that, like the missionary in a far away land, we have sown the seed, and the motto, 'Peace and good will toward each other,' can honestly and truthfully be engraven upon our banner."

The private sales' market continues to give little, if any, evidence of disturbance in consequence of the increased tax assessments. Unquestionably, certain classes of property will, at prevailing prices remain unsalable for some time to come, as for example, property in overbuilt neighborhoods, where, inasmuch as assessments are based on the market value of real estate instead of its present earnings, the tax will amount in many instances to a confiscation of income. However, the salability of certain other classes, as vacant land, especially in the suburbs, and antiquated property ready for reimprovement, has quite as unquestionably been stimulated by the augmentation of the tax. At any rate, the week's business has been satisfactory, both as regards quantity and quality. The aggregate stated consideration of the transactions reported, much of which, however, represents trades, exceeds that of any week since the opening of the season last October, and the business has been well distributed. Sales of vacant lots in upper Fifth avenue and Central Park West were a feature of the week, as was also the purchase of sites for improved apartments in other high-class residence streets. Among the other notable transactions were those affecting Nos. 564 and 568 Fifth avenue, the Nevada apartment house, No. 149 Fifth avenue, and No. 440 Broadway. The total number of transactions given below is 71, with considerations given in 25, and amounting to $3,234,400. Corresponding figures for last week were 70, 23 and $2,227,700 respectively.

The list of offerings at the Real Estate Salesroom were small, and comprised, with two exceptions, none but legal sales. Of the twenty-seven parcels offered at legal sale, three were adjourned and six withdrawn, while half of the remaining eighteen were bought by the plaintiffs. The executors' sales of No. 84 Houston street and No. 322 West 27th street, by Bryan L. Kennelly, resulted in the withdrawal of both properties. In a partition sale by Philip A. Smyth No. 29 Beekman street, a 5-story brick store, was purchased by Manly A. Ruland, of Ruland & Whiting, for a client, for $57,500. The property sold three years ago in the same suit for $67,000, although on account of some technical difficulty the sale was not completed. The difference between the price then and now is accounted for by the circumstance that the property has remained long empty and is out of repair.

A rare opportunity to secure a Boulevard corner all ready for immediate building is announced on page iii. The plot is excavated, area walls on the Boulevard and street built, sewer in and water for building purposes paid for. Besides, the plans for a 7-story apartment house, with suits five and six rooms and bath, have been drawn and passed by the Building Department. The owner, Andrew J. Kerwin, Jr., announces he will sell at a low price. Apartment houses on the Boulevard have lately been in good demand.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. announce the auction sale, by order of executors, of the 4-story and basement dwelling, No. 47 West 35th street; Nos. 663, 673-679 Water street, and Nos. 356, 362 364 and 368 Front street, for the 31st inst.; for February 8th, 7 lots on the north side of 99th street, between Madison and Park avenues. Particulars will be found in our business pages, or can be obtained of the auctioneer at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

Attention is called to the list of choice houses offered for sale by Messrs. Henry D. Winans & May. They are briefly described on the last page of the Illustrated Supplement which accompanies this issue.

Wm. Hall's Sons are offering in the advertising pages of this issue, to lease on favorable terms, their extensive premises on East 106th street, and to sell their engines, boilers, etc. At a time of revived confidence and increasing industry like the present, these offers ought not to remain long without takers. The premises and plant are in excellent order, have water front, and dispose themselves to subletting. The particulars given in the advertisement are commended to the attention of manufacturers and others in search of new or improved quarters.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

An extension of Belmont avenue, between 175th and 177th streets, has been approved by the Board of Public Improvements and now goes to the Municipal Assembly.

A Congressional Committee has inspected the proposed Bowling Green Custom House site, and as a result, it is understood, that a bill favoring that site will be reported.

Columbia College and other interested property-owners have entered objections to the assessment for widening 120th street, between Morningside and Amsterdam avenues.

The new "Orleans" apartment hotel, on the south corner of 80th street and Columbus avenue, was inadvertently located on 89th street in our list of Big Building Operations in 1898, given last week.

The preliminary report of the Commission appointed to condemn the site of the 114th and 115th streets high school has been made. The plot condemned is 225x201.10, fronting on both the streets named, between 7th and 8th avenues. It is divided into two equal parcels; the one fronting on 114th street belongs to Catherine A. Oelsen and Louisa Randell, and the one on 115th street to James Wood. The Commission places the value at $9,750 a lot. This finding is, of course, subject to decisions on objections.

The lowering tendency of interest on mortgage loans is affecting such loans in all parts of the country. An instance is afforded in the recently published report from New Haven, stating that two years ago the regular rate in that city was 5 per cent., and 6 per cent. mortgages on fair security not uncommon. Now a 6 per cent. loan is exceptional, and 5 per cent. loans on realty are steadily giving way to 4½ and even 4 per cent. gold loans. The old 6 and 5 per cent. demand loans are being quietly but steadily refunded by mortgagors into the lower rates.

The public hearing given yesterday by the Local Boards of the 13th and 14th Districts on the petition of the Sixth Avenue Improvement Association for an extension of 6th avenue to Canal street, was attended by a number of interested property owners, or their representatives, and business men, including John A. McCall, Shepherd Knapp, Nathan Straus, Ludwig Bros., Col. Wm. Jay, Courtlandt Field Bishop, Wm. H. Morrill, J. K. Kellogg, H. H. Camman (for the Trinity Corporation), Fulton Wells, E. H. Cruikshank, J. W. Dimmick, Henry B. Anderson and others. John D. Crimmins wrote approving the proposed extension. The hearing was adjourned to Friday next. The sketch map submitted showed an extension continuing the present lines of the avenue to Canal street at about its junction with Sullivan street.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND BROKERS

The long established firm of Charles Buermann & Co. have removed from No. 509 to No. 507 Grand street, where they have a well appointed, nicely furnished and commodious office. Messrs. Charles, William and August Buermann comprise the firm, and their long experience and knowledge of values leads to their frequent employment as appraisers of East Side parcels taken for park school, etc. They negotiate sales and mortgage loans and give special attention to the collection of rents and management of estates. Their down-town office is at No. 97 Cedar street.

Myer Hellman has bought out under foreclosure sale the business conducted since 1855 for the sale of second-hand building material of Thomas E. Tripler, at Avenue B, 17th to 18th streets. The business, which is the oldest established one of its kind in the United States, will be conducted on practically the same lines as heretofore, and builders desirous of purchasing second-hand building material of every description will find at all times a varied stock for selection. As in past years, the firm will give careful attention to the taking down and removal of old buildings, with that dispatch resultant from an experience of many years' standing. This is the only business of its kind in the country owning and operating its own sawmill. Telephone number, 474 18th street.

D. & W. Mullins, of No. 157 East Broadway, who succeeded Joseph P. Payten, for nearly half a century a leading agent on the lower East Side, like their predecessor, pay particular attention to the management of estates and collection of rents, and have a large and growing clientele. Their list of property for sale is most complete, and during the year 1898 they negotiated many important sales, including an exchange of the southwest corner of East Broadway and Rutgers street, for the northeast corner of Henry and Rutgers streets. By this transaction the Church of St. Teresa secures a big advantage in completing their ownership of the westerly block front on Rutgers street, between East Broadway and Henry street, and square out their plot, which now has frontages of 175 feet on Rutgers, 128 on East Broadway, and about 175 on Henry street.

Among the firms engaged in the real estate business of this city, Hackett, Newman & Butler, whose offices are located at No. 10 Wall street, Rooms 92-93, occupy a prominent place. They conduct a general real estate business, which includes the buying and selling, renting and care of properties. They announce that they have rare facilities for placing mortgage loans for intending borrowers on real estate, inasmuch as they place the loans direct without the aid of other brokers. In many cases this is a source of satisfaction to those desirous of procuring loans, as they are then cognizant of the fact that they are dealing directly with principals, which fact also often insures facility and despatch. The personnel of the firm consists of Messrs. C. J. Hackett, R. M. Newman and R. H. Butler. Any business entrusted to them will receive careful and prompt attention. They are young and energetic, and can furnish the best of references whenever required as to their business qualifications and integrity. Their telephone number is 4034 Cortlandt.

We submit to our readers the following list of sales and leases of property recently made by G. This firm has made a special study of realty in the sections of this city commonly known as the Italian section, and the foregoing list is a partial evidence of their ability to dispose of holdings for owners in these quarters.

Brooklyn.

The week's transactions show continued activity in suburban properties. In spite of the fact that the assessors report that complaints of tax assessments are largely confined to these sections, several large tracts have been purchased, and it is stated that negotiations are now under way for the purchase of several more. The dealings of the past week in suburban properties are set forth below. To conservative real estate men this activity is taken to indicate that the assessors have not dealt unjustly with the outlying wards. When such large sales are made just after the opening of the books of the tax department, it is evident that outside capitalists realize the value of these lands if the property-owners themselves do not.

Down town residential property received a slight boom early this week when it was announced that the Rev. Dr. Hillis, of Chicago, had accepted the call to the Plymouth Church, of which Henry Ward Beecher was the first pastor. While some may not regard this piece of news as pertinent to real estate and real estate values, to careful judges of First Ward property, the fact that so distinguished a preacher is to take charge of this old church, means much for the future of this section. The First Ward, or The Heights, while it contains some of the finest residences in this borough, is yet in that uncertain state in which few brokers can predict its future with any degree of certainty. Bounded by Fulton, Court and Atlantic, it is a little town by itself, and though most accessible to Manhattan by the ferries and the bridge, it is far remote from the parks and the boulevards. The demand for houses is largely limited to those who were born and brought up in the neighborhood, and it is upon this element alone that its future depends. When an old resident dies or moves away there is seldom an outsider to fill the vacancy. Under these circumstances it was not unnaturally feared that when Dr. Lyman Abbott resigned from Plymouth Church, the congregation might soon scatter unless a minister of equal distinction could be found to take his place. It is the hope of residents on the Heights that the eloquence of Dr. Hillis may make this oldest section of the borough an attractive residence for many years to come.

As a counteracting influence to the permanence of the Heights as a residential section, the purchase by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of the house adjoining its office on Remsen street, should not be overlooked. When this company, some two years ago, bought three houses on Remsen street, adjoining the Garfield Building, and later erected its present building, the move was regarded with surprise by real estate men, who hardly considered Remsen street in line as a business street. At one time the houses nearby were treated in the market as business possibilities, and now that the Title Guarantee and Trust Company has made this purchase, all properties on Remsen street, east of Clinton street, may have lost their value for residential purposes.

This house is known as No. 169, and is a three-story brownstone front dwelling, with a frontage of 22 feet on Remsen street and a depth of 100 feet toward Montague street. It was owned by the estate of Marquis D. Thomas, and though the company has been negotiating for its purchase for nearly a year, it was only this month that the contract was signed. The consideration was not disclosed, though the deed of the property, which was recorded on Thursday of this week, bears thirty dollars' worth of stamps, indicating a consideration of some $30,000. The house is assessed at $12,000. It is stated that the company will tear this building down and erect on the lot an addition to its present structure. This will give the company a total frontage of 88 feet. John F. James & Son were the brokers who negotiated this sale.

A new system of conducting the office of the Building Department is being practiced by Building Commissioner Guilfoyle which will do away with the delay in the settlement of violations of the building law. The new system was planned by Chief Clerk Byrnes, and has been in effect since the first of this month. According to its provisions all the records will be typewritten. After the inspector has reported a violation a copy of his report is immediately made out and placed on file. The original is then served on the owner, the notice-server making out his voucher of service, which is also placed on file. If, within a day or two after the owner has been served, he fails to communicate with the Department, and also fails to alter his building as suggested by the inspector's report, he is at once served with a notice from the office of the Corporation Counsel to appear in court to show cause why the usual legal proceedings should not be commenced against him. By this system the Department is enabled to compel offending property-owners to take some action within a very short time after the inspector has discovered a violation of the law. Under the old system it often took from ten to twenty days to bring a case to a settlement. After the notice was sent to the owner the Department was accustomed to wait some ten days before sending a formal complaint. If this complaint was unheeded, the Department then proceeded to act, but not until a week or two after the service of the complaint.

The adjournment of the sale for arrears of taxes, which was scheduled for Wednesday of this week, was granted because property-owners had shown such a desire to make settlements that it was considered advisable to give them more time in which to do so. This sale was for arrears of taxes of 1895 and prior years running back as far as 1881. It was first advertised to take place the latter part of December, but was then adjourned because the holiday season was considered a poor time in which to offer property at auction. It was also thought that it would be an unnecessary hardship on the owners to put up their property when the city really did not need the money. The further adjournment to March 29th, granted this week, was for the same reason. According to the Deputy Collector, there has never been a year in which so large a number of settlements have been made. It is quite possible that before the next adjourned date all claims on the part of the city may have been adjusted.

The announcement made early this week that Peter W. Schmitz had leased his store property, situated at the intersection of Flatbush avenue and Fulton street, for a period of ten years, at a total rental of $200,000, has given quite a boom to property in its neighborhood. This building was originally erected for a theatre, and was known as the Brooklyn Music Hall. O. G. Wallridge held it during its career as a theatre, but the business soon came up Fulton street, and it was considered more profitable to use this location for business purposes. It was then purchased by Peter W. Schmitz, the present owner, who made extensive alterations, and has since used it as a furniture store. When it became known that Mr. Schmitz was to retire from business, and had leased the property, a rumor that Weber & Fields, of Manhattan, were the lessees, and would make a variety theatre of it, gained considerable credence. Through Ernestus Gulick & Co., who negotiated the lease, it was learned that there was no truth in this rumor. It was stated that the new tenant will be a corporation, of which Elwin S. Piper, proprietor of the large dry-goods store on Grand street, will be the president. This corporation will conduct a large dry-goods store. Extensive alterations are to be made to the building. The present brick piers on the front will be removed and large show windows substituted. There will also be a large new entrance on the Flatbush avenue corner. It is probable that several new stories will be added. As at present constituted, this building is of four stories, and has a frontage of 76 feet on Fulton street, 85 feet on Flatbush avenue, and 52 feet on the triangular gore between these two avenues. The assessment books for this year show that it is assessed at $114,000, the same as in 1897. Because of its location, it is generally appraised at a much higher figure than this. To real estate men the establishment of another dry-goods house so far up Fulton street is an indication of what may be expected in a few years' time. When Journeay & Burnham removed from Atlantic avenue and located on Flatbush avenue, just off Fulton street, their action was regarded as of doubtful wisdom because they were going so far "up town." This was several years ago. At the present time property on Fulton street, clear to Flatbush avenue, is well built up with business houses, and Journeay & Burnham is surrounded with other substantial properties. With the establishment of this new dry-goods house on the Fulton and Flatbush corner, it would not be unsafe to predict the location of other business houses further up on both these avenues in the near future.

At the request of Postmaster Wilson a bill has been introduced into Congress for the purchase by the government of the property adjoining the present Brooklyn Post-Office on the north. This property consists of a lot, 22x121, on Washington street, on which is a small brick building. The building is in poor condition, and is entirely unoccupied. According to the opinion of the assessors, it is valued at $18,000. The postal department has long desired the property in order to erect a small addition to its present quarters. It is owned by the estate of Mrs. Eliza Low, who died recently. Mrs. Low held the property at such a high figure that its purchase by the government was out of the question.

The Germania Real Estate and Improvement Company has recently purchased another large farm with which to continue its realty operations. This laest acquisition is the farm of the late John A. Lott, consisting of over a hundred acres. It is located west of Flatbush avenue, opposite a portion of the present holdings of the company. It extends from Flatbush avenue on the east to Coney Island avenue on the west, and has Foster avenue for its northerly boundary line. On the south it reaches in part to Avenue H. This tract was once included in the old county towns of Flatbush, Flatlands, New Utrecht and Gravesend. It is not known what the company paid for the property, but it is rumored the figure was about $4,000 per acre. Good judges of values in this section consider this tract of high grade.

Through McNulty & Fitzgerald the farm of Garrit H. Wyckoff has been sold to Claud Lewis. This property consists of 23½ acres, and extends from the southwest corner of Ocean avenue and Kings Highway to Avenue S, with a frontage of 3,000 feet on Ocean avenue. The price paid was $2,600 per acre. The purchaser states he bought this farm as an investment, owing to the recent boom in suburban properties in this section.

BRUCE PRICE ON HIGH BUILDINGS.

The remarks of Bruce Price, President of the Architectural League, in closing the debate on "The Plan of the City," at the League meeting last week, were, though brief, more interesting and to the point than appeared in the summary reports of the discussion. They were:

We see the responsibility that is thrown upon us, the architects and engineers, and those to whom it shall be given to lay out and beautify the thoroughfares of New York. With a solution of a plan will come the solution of many other problems. Taking a bill up to Albany does not solve the problem of the high building; you have got to solve it by saying, this much must stand because this much you can do. By making broad avenues here and there, and by getting light, air and environment, by getting a bigger space for air and for commercial transactions, you can then say to the capitalists and builders, "Here you can have your other building that will pay you better than the enormous high building which is now crowded in upon a small space." When the Surety Building was put up it was a question of its influence upon other buildings, and its return to its owners, and the solution that I made was, that it would have, by controlling its environment, a right for going up. The Committee that passed upon that building insisted that the structure should have the very things that we are now striving to get for the city—light and air all about it—and I must contradict the statement that was made to-night that these were gained at a rate ruinous to the Surety company. It is a fact that the adjoining buildings were rented at an advantage of $12,000 a year to the Surety Building; they rented the buildings and re-rented them at that value. That was about the start of the high building. There were one or two others that started with blank walls, but it never occurred to me that architects would consider the question of sticking them into the centre of the block with blank walls, or that such a thing would be permitted or considered for a moment by any owner or building committee. It is about time to tell the authorities that it is not the way to solve the problem by saying that you shall not do thus and so, but it is for us to make that solution by showing how it can be done. The way out of it then is to go right into this bad city plan, overhaul it, and show them how to reconvert it, giving it air space and environment, by broad commercial avenues, reconstructing bad tracts and getting proper surroundings for a proper class of buildings. If you want to stop the high building, you must stop the necessity for the high building.

The Building Trades

MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—The arrivals from Haverstraw are unrestricted at present, and shipments are sufficient to meet current demands. The qualities are equal to former shipments and prices are somewhat mixed. The prevailing rates are: $6.25 and $6.50 for first grade, commons and specials. Pales are in quick demand at $4.00. All stock covered in barges has been sold at prices ranging from $6.50 to $7.00. The demand is very good. The mild weather allows construction work to proceed, and insures buyers a full supply of stock to meet their requirements. New Jerseys are moving well, although manufacturers are not forcing sales, and trade is confined to a nominal current business. Prices are about $6.00 for best grades.

LIME.—Arrivals in Rockland are light, and stock in first hands is well taken care of. Shipping facilities are limited, and as the demand is good the market is firm. The lack of vessels for carrying lime will be a serious obstruction to trade when the regular season opens, unless vessels can be procured from other lines of trade. As it is now, with the demand comparatively quiet, production is hampered, and there are fewer kilns on fire than usual at this season. Prices are firm at 70@75c. for common, and 80@85c. for finishing. Very little State lime is being shipped, the demand being seasonably quiet. Prices are steady, at 90c. for Jointa and 70c. for common.

LATH.—The arrivals this week were about 3,000,000. These went quickly at $2.00. Manufacturers are not disposed to make prices to arrive, but some are considering $2.25. There are few on the way, about 3,000,000, and there is little prospect of more being shipped for some time.

CEMENT.—The conditions in Rosendale are about the same as last week. Navigation is still closed, and the demand is seasonably good. More is being shipped by rail this year than for some years past. Prices are steady at 90c. and $1.00 for standard brands. Prices are firm for domestic Portland, and a few of the mills are booked up full for the present year. Trade is fairly active for the season, and manufacturers are holding for full values, anticipating an extensive demand at the opening of the regular season. Prices, are steady, at about $2.00 for standard brands. There is practically nothing arriving in imported Portland. The market is quiet, and shipments only occasional and on order. Manufacturers are quoting an advance of from 10 to 15 cents on early spring deliveries. Increase of the demand is expected to arise both at home and abroad.

NAILS.—The demand for nails, both wire and cut, has improved during the week, not only in the local market, but all over the country, and trade is seasonably brisk. Wire nails have advanced considerably over last week's quotations, and are now as follows: $1.55 f. o. b. Pittsburg, with a rebate of 5c. to jobbers on 1,000-keg lots; $1.70 on dock New York in single carload lots, and $1.80 small lots out of New York stores. Cut nails are: $1.25 f. o. b. Pittsburg, with no concessions; $1.40 on dock New York, and $1.50 small lots, New York stores. The increased activity in trade is probably due, more than anything else, to a desire on the part of dealers to buy freely now in anticipation of a further advance of values.

OIL.—The demand for spot oil is considerably better this week and there is considerable inquiry for futures. Seed has advanced about a cent over last week, and is now selling for $1.18½@1.19 cash, Chicago. The market has a firmer tone, which is due to the increased demand for immediate needs and the general feeling that oil is safe property at present prices. Out-of-town oil is at 40c. for quantity, and city oil is 41c. for 5-bbl. lots and 42c. for smaller quantities. Boiled oil is 44c. and 43c. Calcutta is 54c.

LEAD.—Pig lead being stiff, white lead is very firm, and although a steady current trade is going on, manufacturers are not seeking trade, preferring to hold for better prices, which, in view of the general conditions of the market, are liable to occur in the near future.

PAINTS AND VARNISHES.—In view of the general stiffness and, in some cases, the actual advance of values in constituent materials, as well as the increasing demand this week, manufacturers are looking for better prices in dry colors and mixed paints. Oil being stiff, and gum advancing, an increase in the price of varnish is reasonably anticipated.

GLASS.—Trade is seasonably good, and the assortment, although not extensive, is sufficient for the present needs of the market. Prices remain unchanged, at 80 for Plate, 80-10 for French window, and 80-20 for American window.

NAVAL STORES.—Although the inquiry for spirits of turpentine continues limited, and business is confined to small parcels, the general tone of the market is firmer. This is due to an effort on the part of dealers to secure a large proportion of the supply at present in the market, which, although it leads to no particular movement, establishes a firmer feeling among holders, and they decline to sell for less than 43c. for machines. The market closed at 42½c. for southerns, and 43c. for machines. Tar continues dull, with only a limited call for jobbing parcels, and as offerings are plenty, values are easier. Prices are: $1.60@1.65 for regulars, and $3.10@3.15 for oil barrels. Pitch was quiet and steady at $1.65@1.70.

LUMBER AND HARDWOODS.—The market in general is more active, and prices are firmer. The firmer tone of the market is due to limited stocks, coupled with new business. Yellow pine is active, and an effort is being made to establish a uniform price for this article. White pine is solid, with unvaried prices. North Carolina is in good demand, with prices unchanged. No objection is being made to the advance in spruce, and trade is active. The eastern men held a meeting last week and advanced the card all along the line. Poplar stocks are scarce, and although prices are about the same for regular sizes, values are spasmodic on small blocks of certain specialties. Culls are up, and are now selling for $17.50, which is an advance of $1.50 over the price of a month ago. Plain and quartered oak are in good demand, with stocks low, and prices are about the same for regular sizes, some specialties, however, bringing much higher prices. Ash is firm, with prices unchanged. Elm is much sought after, but stocks are nearly exhausted, and the new stocks are not on the market yet.

The announcement of the death of the well-known builder, Chas. Gahren, on the 19th inst., caused considerable surprise and regret to his many friends and acquaintances in the building trade. He was always very robust, and enjoyed good health until last fall, when, after a beneficial and enjoyable trip abroad, he found it necessary to undergo an operation, and general weakness afterwards caused his death at the age of 62 years. For a number of years he figured prominently in the improvement of the upper West Side, and he leaves many evidences of his indefatigable energy. Having a practical knowledge of the building business, combined with a sterling uprightness of character, he was well liked by all who came in contact with him. Although not very actively engaged during the past three years, he watched with interest the improvement of the West End district, where he leaves large interests. He was a member of the West End Association. A widow and four children survive him.

TRADE NOTES.

MAIL CHUTING.

Cutler Manufacturing Co.'s advertisement on another page calls attention to their mail chutes, which are so valuable and indispensable an interior fitting to the commercial and other large buildings. The interesting fact is stated that by means of these chutes more than 125,000,000 pieces of mail are posted in the upper stories of buildings in New York in one year, without any more cost to the senders than if posted in the street. The saving of labor involved in this is very large, indeed. The address of the Cutler Mfg. Co. is Cutler Building, Rochester, N. Y.

ARTIFICIAL STONEWORK.

C. Lehmann, the well-known contractor for artificial stone sidewalks, yards and cellars, has removed from No. 219 West 119th street, where he was located for many years, to well-arranged quarters at No. 31 Manhattan street. THE BRICK IN A GIANT NEW CHIMNEY.

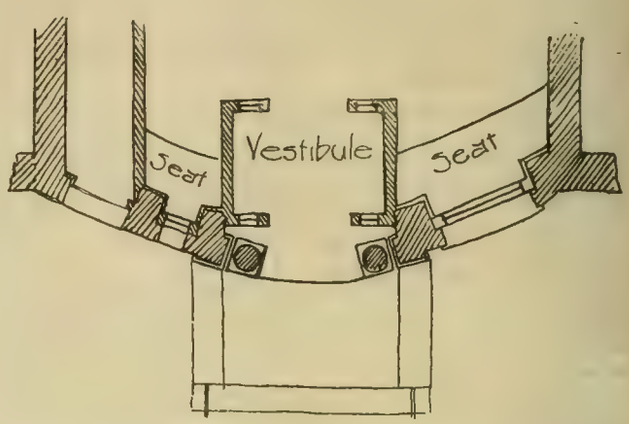
The John P. Kane Co., dealers in masons' building materials, supplied very many of the largest structures and public works started in the past year. The Metropolitan Traction Co.'s mammoth power house and giant chimney, on Upper First avenue, used about 12,000,000 brick. The chimney is 353 feet high, 22 feet in diameter, and contains 4,000,000 brick. Some idea of this great volume may be had from the facts supplied by Mr. Kane that the brick in this giant chimney would erect forty old-fashioned 4-story brownstone front houses, or from 18 to 20 ordinary 5-story, 25-foot front flats. A few of the many other contracts filled by the John P. Kane Co. include the University Club, New York and Gouverneur Hospitals, Bellevue Medical College, Germania Bank Building, Metropolitan Museum of Art; Cullen & Dwyer, contractors; St. Stephen's and St. Jerome's Schools, Holy Name and Holy Rosary R. C. Churches, Horticultural and Botanical buildings in Bronx Park; John R. Sheehan, contractor; Chesebrough Building, Hebrew Charities Building, 2d avenue and 20th street; Pabst Brewery building, West 48th and 49th streets; the new Tombs on Centre street, several public schools and fire engine houses, George Crocker's residence, 5th avenue; Model Tenements on 1st avenue; Sturgis & Hill, contractors. Other contracts embraced the subways throughout the city and work for the 8th, 6th, 3d and Amsterdam avenues, Boulevard, 42d and 125th street railroads, in addition to the Willis, Lenox, Brook, Melrose and City Island bridges and Riverside Drive viaduct. The main offices of the John P. Kane Co. are at No. 287 Fourth avenue, northeast corner of 22d street, with yards at the foot of East 14th and West 96th streets. Edward R. Carroll has been associated and connected with the company since January 1st, 1898.

FACTS, WHEN TERSELY PUT, CONVINCE.



Has the fact ever impressed you that spring hinges have to perform the hardest duty of any hardware? Besides carrying the weight of a door and suffering the wearing friction of constant usage, they must automatically close it. The importance of selecting a durable spring hinge fully able to do its work is, therefore, apparent. Bommer Spring Hinges are made of steel in any desired finish, and possess the inherent strength which the toughness of wrought metal gives. They are also made in bronze or brass, in which case all the bearings are reinforced and protected with steel. The Bommer Spring Hinge combines extreme durability with a pleasing exterior which blends harmoniously with any style of decoration and costs no more than other kinds. "Practically unbreakable," says the World's Fair Award, Chicago, 1893. Gold medal awarded at Omaha, 1898. All hardware dealers can furnish them.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been on official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

January 20, 21, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Questions and Answers.

INCORPORATION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

There are a few chattels money lenders in Greater New York, and they are using the word "incorporated." Would you state, if possible, when they were incorporated; who they were incorporated by; also, if there is any tax or bond required by law; also, who do you make application or apply to?

Answer.—For the information you require apply to the Secretary of State at Albany.—Editor Record and Guide.

FURNISHED ROOMS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is a person keeping a furnished room house compelled, in case of non-payment of rent, to serve a delinquent tenant with notice of dispossess, and also what is the rule in regard to baggage of such a tenant?

Answer.—He is not obliged to give such notice, and can detain the baggage for non-payment of rent due.—Law Editor.

FIREPROOFING DOORS ON SECOND STORY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The laws relating to buildings published by you and edited by Wm. J. Fryer, gives on page 253 that section of the law relating to fireproof doors in the second stories of tenement houses underscored, thus indicating that the said section has been omitted by the new charter. To-day I was served with a violation note from the Building Department for omitting these doors in a building erected and approved in 1898. In order to know what stand to take, kindly advise me whether the copy of the book states the que. sentence right.

Answer.—Section 1,318 of the Greater New York Charter does not contain the requirement for fireproof double swing doors to all entrances from stairs to halls on the second floor of all tenement houses not fireproof throughout, as required under section 661 of the Tenement House Act, as it existed prior to the new Charter going into operation. The new Charter took effect January 1st, 1898. If plans for the building referred to by your correspondent were filed in the Department prior to that date, and the applicant agreed to provide such doors, the omission of same would be in violation of his approved application, although the building might not have been finished until some time in 1898. The remedy is to amend the plans in respect to the second story fireproof doors, or if the building has been turned in finished by the inspectors of the Building Department, then to address a letter to the Commissioner of Buildings reciting the circumstances, and asking for the cancellation of the violation, and in all probability this request will be granted.—Editor Record and Guide.

LIABILITY FOR LABOR AND MATERIAL.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is the owner of a building in process of construction in this state, being built by contract, liable for labor and material unpaid by contractor?

Answer.—Not necessarily. The laborers or material men may file Mechanic's Liens, but "in no case shall the owner be liable to pay by reason of all liens created pursuant to this article a sum greater than the value or agreed price of the labor and materials remaining unpaid, at the time of filing notices of such Liens." Lien Law (Laws 1897. Chapter 418) Article I, section 4.—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—GAMBLING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Can a landlord be held responsible or in any way liable if he let his store to a shoe dealer who, in turn, has let the back part of the store as a policy shop?

Answer.—The landlord can dispossess the tenant if the latter carries on, or permits to be carried on, an illegal business upon the premises. If the landlord permits his building to be so used, he is guilty of a misdemeanor.—Law Editor.

WAR REVENUE TAX—SATISFACTION OF

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

(1) What is the required revenue tax on a satisfaction of mortgage or release of mortgage of $3,365.00? (2) Do I have to receive a release of mortgage or a satisfaction piece to pay off a certain small mortgage which falls due this coming June, so as to give a free and clear deed by February, as I have sold the property free and clear from all incumbrances?

Answer.—The act relating to stamp taxes does not mention a satisfaction or release of mortgage as being subject to tax, but one of the rulings of Internal Revenue Commissioner N. B. Scott is as follows: "In the satisfaction of a mortgage, where a regular lease is executed, sealed and delivered, it is held that this release comes under the head of a conveyance, and that stamp tax is required to be paid thereon according to the value of the interests released or conveyed by such instrument." The stamp tax, where the amount is $3,365, is $1.25. (2) You should have a satisfaction piece. If the mortgage is not due until June, 1899. and you are to give your deed in February, 1899, you cannot give it free and clear unless the holder of the mortgage consents to receive his money.—Law Editor.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

MURESCO!

It is a permanently hard wall finish. Over plaster it produces soft, even tints, giving the effect of kalsomine, without the flashing, with none of its disadvantages. It does not rub off against the clothing; will not crack nor peel. It will kill suction, and give a smooth, soft, even coat over an old plastered wall that has been patched. It comes in fifteen artistic colors and white.

You may have a color card and full information about Muresco for the asking.

Vol. LXIII. FEBRUARY 4, 1899. No. 1,612

JUST at the moment Wall Street is endeavoring to, using its own vernacular, size up the immediate situation. The daily business that is being done is large compared with usual experience and the market can be called dull now in comparison with the business of a few prior weeks only. With daily sales of from seven to eight hundred thousand shares and from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 in bonds, there is not merely considerable business doing, but a business that prior to a month ago was thought very good indeed. Moreover, there appears to be no pressure of long stock on the market, so that the moderate declines seen in the past week must be considered the result of speculative developments pure and simple. It is highly probable that a reaction of five or ten points would bring renewed buying, and certain that if a short interest of fair proportions could be induced to come in that a new upward movement would be undertaken. The circumstances of the times and the conditions of business do not sanction extensive bear operations or encourage the hope of big breaks. Cheap money and the prosperity of the community, as well as business activity, bulwark prices. Among the favorable features of the situation may be included the fact that Congress, for the first time in a long while, is now helping rather than hindering business. The House seems inclined to inaugurate that currency reform of which we will one day stand in need, even if we are independent of it for the time being, owing to our unprecedented commercial success abroad and renewed confidence at home. The Senate, we are informed on good authority, will ratify the Peace Treaty when the vote is taken in the coming week, and an extra session will not be necessary. There is a growing belief, too, that on the representations of the Inter-State Commerce Commission and of powerful business interests the position of the railroads will be favorably considered and legal sanction given in some form to pooling. If the railroads could be sustained in an endeavor to make and maintain fair and paying rates the continuation of the present favorable position of their securities would be assured for a long time to come. Returning again to the stock market, it may be remarked that if the present state of affairs there is only one of those lulls such as have characterized the market at intervals for nearly a year past, when the new movement is begun the features are most likely to be some of those issues that have as yet scarcely made any movement.

NO surprise need be expressed at the drop in the Bank of England's rate from 3½ to 3 per cent. The conditions of the market have called for it for some weeks and it was only delayed until the position of the United States toward Europe became clearer. Evidently the directors of the bank have become satisfied that the demand from this side for gold is not likely to be great for some time, and sustain the conclusion reached in these columns last week to the same effect. Should the situation change in the near future we may be prepared to see the bank promptly return to high rates, because, not only may the ordinary demands for money be expected to increase in a month or so, but pressure is being put upon, not only the Bank of England, but also upon the other British banks to considerably increase their customary reserves of gold. Another cause for satisfaction is the report that the reform of the Russian currency has been successfully completed and a large amount of gold and silver put into circulation and a corresponding amount of paper withdrawn. Fears of the flow of gold from the country have been dispelled and the currency put upon a sound basis. Labor statistics for the month of December confirm the reports of industrial activity which have been received from Britain recently. The Indo-China railroad loan lately issued at Paris was a great success, some $10,000,000 asked for having been subscribed thirty-six times over, which is regarded as a popular manifestation in favor of a vigorous colonial policy. This is in contrast to the placing of the German Imperial and the Prussian 3 per cent. loans with the Deutsche Bank rather than appeal directly to a doubtful public. Intending visitors to France will be pleased to learn that the railroad companies there are awaking to the need of reform in the arrangements for carrying baggage. As an experiment it is now intended to allow passengers who wish to break their journeys to send on their baggage, under certain conditions, to their final destination. Berlin has apparently passed safely through its monetary troubles; the condition of the Reichsbank improves week by week and the new banking bill now in the Reichstag promises to provide permanent relief. It provides that the capital of the Reichsbank shall be increased $7,500,000, making it $37,500,000, the legal limit of the reserve fund, by gradation, from $7,500,000 to $15,000,000, and the uncovered notes not subject to taxation by about $26,000,000 to $100,000,000; the government's share in the profits, now three-fourths after six per cent. has been paid to the stockholders, is to be the same proportion after the stock has received 5 per cent. The abatement of the stringency in the money market has been followed by a revival of speculation in industrial issues. Westralian gold production in 1898 amounted to 1,050,182 ozs., valued at about $20,000,000, as against 674,993 ozs. in 1897, valued at $13,000,000. The continued decline in the gold premium at Buenos Ayres is based upon the satisfactory results of the wheat harvest. Among the humors of finance may be included the proposition of France to borrow in Britain the means to build the navy which is to crush that of the lender and to blockade its ports. The agreement for the federation of the Australian colonies, announced yesterday, has to receive the approval of the parliaments of the several colonies and is therefore a long way from being an accomplished fact.

IT was not without significance that the Commission on Building Code was only fairly organized on the day fixed in the resolution of the Municipal Assembly, under which its members were nominated, for the filing of their completed report. Of course, more time had to be applied for and it is satisfactory to note that the request was promptly granted. The Commission has now five months in which to prepare the code, certainly not too long a time if the work is to be properly done. After that, presumably, the Municipal Assembly may discuss the provisions of the code before formally establishing it, so that it is impossible to say when it will take effect, though the delay ensuing on the filing of the Commission's report ought not to be great. The Commission will find the matter of framing the code beset with many difficulties, the most serious of which is its probable relation to building laws now on the statute books. Already there is a divergence of opinion upon this question, one side holding that the code when established will control in all matters relating to construction in this city, and the other that it will prevail only in so far as it does not conflict with the building provisions contained in the charter itself. The latter appears to us to be the correct view. In passing the charter the Legislature gave the Municipal Assembly power to establish a building code, but it also at the same time enacted an amended tenement-house law, which is a part of the charter itself. As there is no precise authority to that effect, it must be taken for granted that the Legislature did not intend that the Municipal Assembly should sit in judgment on and modify its acts.. This conclusion is supported by the language of the charter itself. Its framers evidently distinguished between the building laws and the tenement-house law, because the former are not set out in the document itself, but by a general clause are continued in force and effect until the building code shall have been established and then quite as generally repealed. A tenement-house law, however, is set out at length in the charter, in the chapter relating to Health Department and as it differs from the tenement-house law in force prior to the adoption of the charter it can only be assumed that it was the intention of the Commission that framed it and the Legislature that passed it, that this should stand irrespective of the views of the Municipal Assembly that might thereafter be embodied in the building code. It would have undoubtedly been better if the whole field of construction had passed to the Commission, but if, as we think, it has not done so, it will be well for the Commission to make sure of the scope of operations permitted them before framing the code, otherwise their labors may eventually prove to be vain and much trouble and annoyance ensue to the building interests of the city. The decision of Justice Scott, which we gave last week, shows how easy it is for both lawyers and laymen to be deceived in the intents of a law. It was so clearly the understanding of the promoters of the Act of 1897 limiting the height of dwelling houses that it should supersede previous laws on the same subject that the view taken by the Department of Buildings, and since sustained by the Supreme Court, that it did not repeal the Act of 1855, came upon them as a surprise. It will be easy for the Commission on Building Code to pave the way to other like surprises if they take any position for granted and do not first prepare the ground to sustain their code when framed.

THE proposed extension of Sixth avenue to Canal street has excited the oppcsition of "The Sun," which fears that it will "not only destroy much property, but would leave a number of useless gores and irregular lots, and thus inflict great damage upon their owners." Generally property is held to be benefited by being able to front on a great artery of travel, instead of being cut off from the commerce of the city, even if shorn of some of its proportions, and there is no doubt whatever that this will be the case of the property on the line of the Sixth avenue extension, if the improvement is made. The economic objection, based upon the city's straitened circumstances and the obligations it has already assumed, is also urged against this extension; but, in view of the time that must necessarily be consumed in technical preliminaries, the widely-operating favorable influence on values the improvement will have, and the fact that it is intended that the work shall be done at the cost of the section benefited, this objection is as weak as the other.

A GOOD deal has been said of money being available to borrowers on realty at rates below 4 per cent, but the records have not shown that much of it has been obtained. It is, therefore, gratifying to note that this week's mortgages include a fairly large one, placed on the property on the northwest corner of Broadway and 51st street,at 3½ per cent. By a curious coincidence yesterday's press dispatches included one from Chicago announcing the fact that a 3½ per cent. loan had been placed upon a building in that city. This is said to be the lowest rate ever made on real estate loans in Chicago. That is not the case in this city, though the exceptions are few and unimportant. The making of the new rate on large loans almost simultaneously in the two cities goes to indicate that it is finding favor and may soon prove the rule for first-class loans on realty in great cities.

PROPOSED SIXTH AVENUE IMPROVEMENT.

In the office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan, in the City Hall, there is now on view a map which shows the lines of the proposed extension of Sixth avenue, from Minetta lane to Cedar street, and gives in detail the metes and bounds of the property to be taken, with a statement of the assessed valuation of each piece or parcel. In a recent circular relating to this improvement, President Coogan says:

"The necessity of this improvement is obvious to all who are interested in the city's advancement, and its importance cannot be overestimated. It is only the beginning of a number of improvements we have in contemplation which we believe the rapid growth of the city demands and which we consider would be beneficial to its merchants, and at the same time give employment to mechanics, laborers and others, and would in our judgment be a benefit to the entire community. The work could be accomplished without adding one dollar in increased taxation, as the cost of the improvement (6th avenue) will have to be borne by the property immediately benefited, which will be quadrupled in value by the improvement. The success of this undertaking will lead to the erection of large business houses and stores on property which in its present state is hardly worth owning. It will blot out from the city map three dingy lanes, viz.: Hancock, Clark and Congress streets; along the lines of which are located a lot of old tumbled-down rookeries not fit for habitation, and which in the sanitary interests of the city should not be tolerated to remain. The improvement should be carried out with all possible dispatch. Expeditious handling by all who will necessarily have to do with it to meet the legal requirements will result in its completion within the present year."

A second public hearing was given yesterday by the Local Boards of the 13th and 14th Districts on the proposed extension. About 400 property owners, or their representatives, and business men were present. The speakers were Ex-Alderman Morris, representing the men of Jefferson Market; John Townsend, representing about 100 business houses in the vicinity of the proposed extension; John T. Little, Ex-Assistant District Attorney McClellen, Ex-Alderman Walker, Judge Wauhope Lynn and Col. Jay, all of whom favored the extension. Among others who attended the hearing were: Oliver Ayers, John Morris, H. H. Cammann (Controller of Trinity Corporation), Edward Schell, J. H. Little, R. T. Hoguet, H. S. Ely, John T. Williams, John M. Henshaw, F. R. Houghton, E. L. Pierson (representing the Paran Stevens estate), Charles Roosevelt, Courtlandt Field Bishop, Henry B. Anderson, Henry Alexandre, S. Van Rensselaer Townsend; Francis Johnston Hopson and H. S. Hoppin (representing John Jacob Astor). The hearing will be continued next Friday at 2 p. m. at the same place, the office of the Borough President, City Hall.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, Feb. 2.—The time for the consideration of bills at public hearings has arrived in the Legislature. This week an influential body of West Side property owners, headed by Cyrus Clark, was heard on Senator Ford's bill to prevent the use of four railway tracks upon Amsterdam avenue. The basis upon which the fight against the four tracks is to be maintained in the Legislature is indicated by the provisions of a bill introduced by Senator Ford on Thursday, which are:

1. It shall not be lawful to operate upon Amsterdam avenue, between 72d street and 125th street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York,any street surface railroad upon the road or tracks of any street surface railroad company by any motive power other than horse-power, unless the tracks or rails upon which said road is or shall be operated, are so located in said avenue that they shall be at all points at least 20 feet distant from the nearest curb line of said avenue.
2. Any street surface railroad company having at the time of the passing of this act, a valid existing right to operate a street surface railroad by any other power than horse-power upon the portion of Amsterdam avenue lying between 72d street and 125th street, shall have the right to place one or more of its rails between the rails of any other company operating on that portion of Amsterdam avenue, subject to the provisions of the first section of this act.
3. This act shall not be construed so as to authorize the change of motive power on any street surface railroad in the City of New York, without a due compliance with all the requirements of law relating thereto.
4. Any corporation or person deprived of any private property by the operation of this act shall have a right of action at law in the Supreme Court of this State against the City of New York, to recover just compensation for the value thereof, to be ascertained by a jury in such action.

Gas bills, reducing the price of gas in New York, have been introduced in large number. To-day a bill, apparently to permit the union of all the gas companies in New York was introduced by Assemblyman Mazet. It organizes the Astoria Heat, Power & Light Company—to have gas works in Queens County, and with authority to construct a tunnel beneath the East River and supply gas to the people of New York city, or to buy the property of other gas companies.

The leading bills with reference to real estate introduced the present week are given below:

Senator Brackett (Intro. No. 246) and Assemblyman Kelly (Intro. No. 496) amending S ection 4 of Chapter 315 of the Laws of 1878 so as to provide that no lien on public work shall be binding upon the property referred to unless an action is begun within 90 days after filing the same, or unless an order be made by a court of record continuing the lien and a new docket be made stating such fact.

Senator Coffey (Intro. No. 233) and Assemblyman Gallagher (Intro. No. 496) providing that the officer in New York having charge of the grading, regulating and paving of streets, in addition to the duties now devolving upon him, shall divide any portion of the city into sections to be improved, the order in which such improvements shall be made, the character of such improvements and the manner in which work shall be done, and the character of the materials to be used. (2) Grade, pave, gutter, curb, lay crosswalks, open and sewer any street in said city and connect said sewers with the main sewers in said city. (3) Cause to be opened any street which may be laid out upon any duly authorized map. The bill says further that the owner of all the land on a street or in a portion of a street 1,000 feet in length may deed the same to the city for the purposes of a street and that then the said property shall thereupon be deemed and held to be opened for all street purposes as a public street.

Senator Marshall (Intro. No. 259) declaring that whenever it appears upon any public record in New York that there is any old outstanding charge upon any real estate in the nature of an old tax assessment levied or imposed more than 20 years prior to Dec. 31, 1899, the collection of which charge has never been enforced by sale or lease of said real estate, and upon which said real estate all other taxes and assessments, levied or imposed since the levy or imposition or apparent levy or imposition of the old outstanding charge shall have been fully paid, the officer having any such record shall cancel thereon and clear the same of every such outstanding or apparently outstanding charge upon application therefor to be made within 90 days from the passage of this act.

Senator Ford (Intro. No. 285) "to extend the liability of employers to make compensation for personal injuries suffered by employees in their service." It says that "where after this act shall go into effect personal injury is caused by the employee who is himself in the exercise of due care and diligence at the time by reason of any defect in the condition of the place of employment or of the ways, works or machinery connected with or used in the business of the employer which arose from or had not been discovered or remedied owing to the negligence of the employer, the employee may maintain an action to recover damages for such wrongful acts, neglect or default by which such injury was caused against such employer, as if the employee had not been an employee of nor in the service of the employer, nor engaged in his work.

Senator Mitchell (Intro. No. 289) permitting the filing of certain claims under the provisions of "Chapter 537 of the Laws of 1815 as amended by Chapter 567 of the Laws of 1894 relative to damages caused by change of grade in the Borough of the Bronx." It authorizes persons owning improved or unimproved real estate in a large number of cases in the Borough of the Bronx to file a claim for damages by reason of a change of grade of certain streets, not named.

Senator Elsberg (Intro. No. 306) to enable courts of justice to receive in evidence in actions or proceedings involving a question as to title to real property certain testimony. The bill says that a person desiring to take a deposition may present to a justice of the Supreme Court a petition duly verified setting forth a description of the real property in relation to which petitioner desires testimony taken or perpetuated. Upon the presentation of the petition the court is to make an order appointing a referee to take such testimony. The examination of such person is subject to the same rules as if he were examined upon the trial of an action. The deposition, when completed, must be filed in the office of the County Clerk. The depositions may be read in evidence by any party to an action or proceeding which shall involve the title to such real property, subject to the provisions of certain sections of the act.

Senator Mitchell (Intro. No. 291) permitting the filing of certain claims for damages to certain property in the Borough of the Bronx caused by change of the grade of streets. The lots referred to are Ward No. 25 in Block No. 1119, Ward No. 51 in Block No. 1119, Ward No. 4"A" in Block No. 1667, Ward No. 1 in Block No. 1111 and Ward No. 28 in Block No. 1287.

Senator Coggeshall (Intro. No. 323) levying an income tax of graduated amount upon the gains of every citizen of the State for each year.

Senator Grady Intro. No. 316) authorizing the Comptroller, when directed by the Sinking Fund Commissioners, to issue corporation stock to the amount of $12,000,000 for the acquisition of property for the improvement of the water front of the city of New York.

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 315) amending Section 823 of Chapter ter 378 of the Laws of 1897 so as to read:

823. In all proceedings taken by the Board of Docks of the City of New York for the acquirement of wharf property, rights, terms, easements, or privileges, or lands under water and uplands in the City of New York, if said "uplands," wharf property, (or) lands under water, (or) "and" wharf property to which said rights, terms, easements, or privileges are appurtenance (is or) are situated between the southerly side of Gansevoort street, "or between the northerly side of Bloomfield street and the southerly side of Twenty-third street," upon, or adjacent to the North River, in the City of New York, or between the southerly side of East Eighteenth street and the southerly side of East (Twenty-first) Twenty-third street, upon or adjacent to the East River, it shall not be necessary for the said Board of Docks to make any attempt to agree with the owners of any such property, rights, terms, easements, privileges, uplands, or lands under water, upon a price for same before commencing the proceedings authorized by Section 822 of this Act.

The new portions of the section are quoted and the discarded portions enclosed in parentheses.

Assemblyman Fallows (Intro. No. 407) providing for the publication in The City Record of the annual record of the assessed valuations of real estate made and delivered to the Superintendent of the Record by the Board of Taxes and Assessments.

Assemblyman Grossman (Intro. No. 453) providing that where an elevated railroad or street surface railroad has failed to improve the immunities and rights obtained through its franchise in New York city, the Corporation Counsel of the city or the Attorney General of the State may bring suit to cancel it, and in the event of the failure of either to do so, a taxpayer or citizen may bring the suit.

Assemblyman Green (Intro. No. 413) providing that the Board of Docks may set apart for the use of the Department of Street Cleaning and for a dump for the removal of ashes, garbage and refuse, the bulkheads and piers at foot of West 79th street and the foot of West 96th street.

Assemblyman Bedell (Intro. No. 517) providing that guardians in socage may protect their rights by selling property to which they have a title and becoming purchasers upon the sale. The law at present restricts the rights of guardians in socage and prevents them from bringing a suit when their own interests are involved.

Assemblyman Fordyce (Intro. No. 491) an act providing that "the interest which the owner of a duly executed mortgage upon land situated in this State hereafter executed has in the land on which mortgage was given to secure the payment of money, the amount of which is fixed and certain shall, for the purpose of this act of the laws relating to assessments and taxation, be deemed real property and shall be subject to taxation as such in the place where the land lies, and the indebtedness secured to be paid by such mortgage shall not for such purpose be deemed personal property. There shall be assessed to the owner of land and to the owner of any mortgage interest therein respectively the proportionate value which each shall bear to the entire actual value of the land."

Assemblyman Brown (Intro. No. 508) an "act to enable a party whose property may be liable to assessment for an improvement to review and correct the district of assessment therefor." The bill authorizes a person whose land is liable to be assessed for any part of the damages or expenses of taking private property for public purposes to appeal to the Supreme Court from the act or decision of any board, body or officer, fixing a district or limit for such assessment. The court may try the issue made by the petition, and "may amend and reform the act or decision appealed from and make or fix a new or other or amended district or limit of assessment as to the court shall appear that justice shall require.

Assemblyman Bedell (Intro. No. 518) authorizing the Comptroller of New York "to cancel of record all taxes and assessments remaining of record as unpaid, levied and imposed on real property within the territory added to said city by Chapter 934 of the Laws of 1895 and issue certificates of redemption from the sales of real property for unpaid taxes and assessments whenever there shall be filed in his office a receipt for such taxes and assessments signed by the officer authorized to receipt for the same or whenever it shall appear to his satisfaction from any other documentary evidence filed or of record in his office that such taxes or assessments have been paid."

Assemblyman Sanders (Intro. No. 544) exempting the property of the Beth Israel Hospital Association from taxation so long as it shall be used for charitable purposes.

Assemblyman E. C. Brennan (Intro. No. 523) annulling the charter of the company having a franchise for the construction of a tunnel under the East River. The franchise gives the tunnel company prior rights over the bridge companies in the acquirement of terminal facilities between South 8th street and Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, and from corresponding points in Manhattan, which may be detrimental to public interests.

Assemblyman Finn (Intro. No. 561) authorizing the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the city of New York to audit and allow the present Sheriff of the County such legal expenses, not exceeding $5 00, as he may incur after his term expires.

Assemblyman Adler (Intro. No. 556) providing that a title and credit guaranty corporation to be incorporated must have not less than $250,000 capital, nor more than $2,000,000. The present limitations are a minimum of $150,000 and a maximum of $1,000,000.

Assemblyman Fallows (Intro. No. 407) a copy of Senator Ford's bill (Intro. No. 33) providing for the publication of the annual record of the valuations of real estate in New York in the City Record. It provides that within three weeks after delivery of the assessment rolls to the Municipal Assembly the Board of Taxes and Assessment shall furnish to the Supervisor of the City Record a copy of the annual record of the assessed valuations of real estate in the several boroughs as delivered by them to the Municipal Assembly, and shall add one column to the Record, which shall be placed immediately before the column in which is set down the assessed value of real estate. In the column so added shall be set down the sum for which in their judgment the property under ordinary circumstances would sell if wholly unimproved.

THE COMMISSION ON BUILDING CODE.

The commission appointed by the Municipal Assembly to draft a building code for the City of New York, met on Monday last in the offices of the Department of Buildings, 18th street and 4th avenue, and organized by adopting as their title "The Building Code Commission," and electing the following officers: Chairman, Thomas J. Brady (President of the Board of Buildings and Commissioner of Buildings for the Borough of Manhattan); secretary, Rudolph L. Daus, and assistant secretary, George H. Nicholas. A committee on finance, consisting of the chairman, secretary and Commissioner Morgan was appointed to arrange for permanent quarters for the commission and to apply to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for funds with which to meet their expenses.

Aa a second meting held on Wednesday a committee composed of Wm. J. Fryer, Cornelius O'Reilly and Daniel Callahan, with the chairman and secretary ex officio, was appointed on plan and scope. Their report will be presented on Monday next, when the next adjourned meeting of the commission will be held. In the course of the discussion had prior to the appointment of this committee, it seemed to be the general view that public hearings should be arranged as soon as possible, so that the views of the city departments interested, such as the Fire Department and the Board of Education, the architectural and building trade associations, and also those of individual citizens, could be obtained on the changes in the laws which they consider necessary. In the cases of the departments and the organized professional and trade associations, they will be given specific days on which to make their representations and propositions, it being assumed that they will go into detail and, therefore, each will require a good deal of time. There is also an idea prevalent in the commission that public sittings should take place in each of the boroughs, so as to give such of the people residing therein who desire to be heard an opportunity to do so.

The names of the gentlemen constituting the commission have been given several times before in this issue, but as the commission is now organized for business and as a final reminder, they are given again now in the order in which they were approved by the two bodies composing the Municipal Assembly. They are William J. Fryer, Robert McCafferty, George A. Just and Cornelius O'Reilly, of the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx; Rudolph L. Daus and Bernard Gallagher, of the borough of Brooklyn; and Daniel Callahan, of the borough of Queens, as experts in the science and practice of building; Rollin M. Morgan, as a representative of the Corporation Counsel, ex officio; and the Board of Buildings, consisting of Thomas J. Brady, Commissioner for the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx; John Guilfoyle, Commissioner for the borough of Brooklyn; and Daniel

Campbell, Commissioner for the boroughs of Queens and Richmond.

It will be remembered that the original resolution under which they were finally appointed required that the commission should present their report by February 1st, that being, of course, impossible, at the request of the chairman of the commission, the Municipal Assembly on Tuesday last extended the time to the second Tuesday in July.

A Statement.

If two or more men have the right to form a partnership for mutual help, we cannot understand why it is not also right for a number of firms to unite, if by so doing they can purchase or manufacture more cheaply.

Legislation against trade combinations has never seemed to us either necessary or wise. We believe men ought to have full opportunity to show whether by combining they can produce better results than by continuing as separate firms.

Starting a trust or trade combination is like beginning a new business, full of perplexities and uncertainties as to the result. If the firms uniting are manufacturers, the question arises which shops, if any, shall be closed. If machinery is their specialty, then comes the question whether each firm shall continue to manufacture its own machine, or all manufacture the machine of some one firm, or whether they shall take parts of different machines and try to construct a new machine of these parts. These and other difficult questions, of their business policy, they should be left to decide unhampered by adverse legislation.

We have frequently been asked, of late, if we are in a trust. To this we answer, "No." The true course for us, we believe, is to continue the policy which through sixteen years has brought to our business a steadily increasing prosperity.

This Company is a simple partnership, owned entirely by ourselves. We shall continue in the old way, giving the business our close, constant, personal attention; making prices solely with a view of getting a fair manufacturers' profit for the work we do; remaining independent in our methods of business and in everything that pertains to the business.

JANUARY FORECLOSURES.

Below will be found our usual table classifying and comparing the property sold at foreclosure last month with that similarly disposed of in January, 1898. In the aggregate this year's business shows an increase, which was not the case in the first month of last year, from which it may be taken, however, rather that a new series of building loan operations has approached its destined conclusion, than that the condition of the money market is forcing property to the hammer. In other respects the table explains itself. The results given are obtained from the issues of the Record and Guide published within the months named, and are, therefore, not the whole of the sales made between the 1st and 31st days thereof:

THE INSURANCE SITUATION.

As everyone knows, very earnest endeavors are being made to reorganize the insurance business of this city, which has for nearly a year been demoralized through rate cutting, it in turn having its reason in the desire of some of the companies to obtain a reapportionment of the business. As both property owners and real estate agents and brokers doing insurance business have a direct interest in this matter, the one through the changing cost of insurance and the other because reported new arrangements affect his business, a brief description of the situation will prove interesting.

As a result of the disbandment of the Tariff Association last April, insurance business became thoroughly demoralized. The companies wrote risks at very low rates, many of them for three or five years without the additional security of the co-insurance clause. With all these inducements before them, property-owners, whose risks were rated by the association, cancelled their policies, and in many instances the return premium was more than sufficient to pay for the new insurance. The incomes of the leading insurance companies for the last six months of 1898 ran from about one-half to one-tenth of the figures for a similar period in 1897. The loss of income and some severe fire losses, made last fall and in the beginning of the winter, caused the companies to come together to see whether something could be done to stop the demoralization of rates and to perfect a new working agreement. A committee of fifteen was appointed, and after many meetings and much hard work they reported an agreement for the formation of a new tariff association, for which later the name "New York Fire Insurance Exchange" was adopted. Probably all but a dozen of the 150 insurance companies doing business in this city have either signed or approved the agreement, and of the exceptions some, particularly the foreign companies like the Lancashire, Scottish-Union and Imperial, are awaiting only advices from headquarters before signifying their intention of joining the Exchange.

The chief business of the Exchange is to maintain a schedule of rates, which has yet to be arranged. It is confidently stated, while definite figures cannot be ascertained, that the new rates will be made so low that it will be unprofitable for any company to cut them. This will mean rates much lower than made by the old Tariff Association, though higher than those made now. To illustrate, it may be stated that rates on dwellings for three years have been made as low as eight cents per $100; the new rate may be, say, five cents for one year and 12 cents or 12½ cents for three years. This is a considerable advance upon the current or recent rate, but is much lower than that of the Tariff Association before cutting began and business was demoralized. Another important feature of the new Exchange which has been decided upon is the licensing of brokers and the restriction of outside business to licensed brokers through an agreement not to pay commissions to any others. The licensed broker is, too, to undertake, on penalty of losing his license, not to divide commissions in any way. In this way it is thought an additional protection will be thrown around the new rates when adopted and in force.

To summarize, what the owner of property in this city has to consider is the position in regard to rates. As soon as the tariff is arranged he will not be able to place his insurance at such low rates as he does now, though he will have the satisfaction of knowing that his case is one common to all property-owners. The real estate agents and brokers who are doing business also as insurance brokers, will have to be prepared to apply for licenses, and to do their business directly with the companies as insurance brokers, otherwise they will not be able to get any commissions for the business they do.

The private sales' market this week produced no transactions of conspicuous magnitude. Nevertheless, sales in the six-figure class have not been wanting, and the number of properties disposed of is very much larger than that of any week since the beginning of the season last October. The marked numerical increase of small operations is a very gratifying sign, as it is precisely this sort of business that creates general prosperity. Another promising feature is the pronounced revival of demand for the ordinary run of flat house property, this species of real estate being a favorite form of investment with small capitalists in good times. The activity in expensive building sites, including upper 5th avenue lots, shows no sign of abatement, while the same holds true of speculative holdings in the lower part of that thoroughfare. Among the notable transactions were those affecting the 5-story store and loft building at No. 83 Leonard street; the plot 71x75, at the southwest corner of Wooster and 3d streets; the dwellings at No. 813 and No. 31 5th avenue, and No 8 West 53d, No. 39 West 33d and No. 56 East 69th streets; the flat at the southwest corner of Lexington avenue and 86th street; and the vacant site on the north corner of 5th avenue and 98th street. The total number of transactions given below is 103, with considerations given in 16, and amounting to $782,750. Corresponding figures for last week were 71, 25 and $3,234,400, respectively.

Interest in the auction branch of the real estate market centered this week in the non-foreclosure sales by William M. Ryan, Richard V. Harnett, D. Phoenix Ingraham and George R. Read, on Tuesday, the only sales of the kind held during the week. The result of these events confirms the impression of a distinct, though conservative, improvement in the auction business produced about the middle of January by the sales for the King, Bathgate and Mulry estates. In view of the transitional condition of 5th avenue, it would be hazardous to give an ex cathedra opinion on the price brought by the dwelling in that thoroughfare, adjoining the southwest corner of 28th street, sold by Mr. Ryan. The property was disposed of for $190,000, the amount of a private offer previously rejected because of possible legal complications. Before the sale good judges estimated that this sum would be a fair consideration for the parcel, although others placed its value as high as $210,000; after the sale an offer of $10,000 was made for the contract. The buyer was Andrew J. Cornick, the 5th avenue tailor, whose place of business is in the block below. It was rumored in the Salesroom that Mr. Connick would, so soon as his purchase could be altered, remove his establishment thither, as he had an opportunity to sublet his present quarters at a profit. According to Mr Connick's son, however, immediate removal is not contemplated, there being no offer at hand for the lease, which does not expire before 1903. Plans for the disposition of Tuesday's purchase have not been definitely formulated. Mr. Connick also purchased the stable at No. 5 East 28th street, at $37,500. Both these properties were sold in partition for the Paran Stevens estate, and it is said that part of the proceeds will be utilized in remodeling the Victoria Hotel. No. 628 Hudson street and No. 318 West 11th street, residential properties, the former containing stores and both of which were sold at voluntary auction by D. Phoenix Ingraham, brought $9,100 and $8,000, respectively. Owners in this neighborhood apparently appreciate the investment quality of their property; it is not often that any of it appears in the auction room. The competition for the parcels in question was spirited, and resulted in good prices. The same observation as to prices holds true of the nine houses in Water and Front streets sold at executor's and trustee's sale by Mr. Harnett, eight of which were bought by Mandelbaum & Lewine. The $25,050 obtained for the antiquated property at 364 3d avenue, west side, 74.2 north of 26th street, sold at executor's auction by Geo. R. Read, probably does not far from cover the intrinsic value of the land, considering the retrogressive condition of that historic East Side thoroughfare. It was reported that $30,000 had been offered for the property at private treaty. This report, however, was denied by the attorney for the executor. As a reflection of opinion on the condition of the auction market, the announcement of a big sale of properties belonging to the estate of Amos R. Eno is of interest. The sale will take place on Feb. 21. Besides 20 parcels on West Broadway, there will be offered, among other properties, the Newport apartment house at 52d street and 7th avenue; Boulevard corners at 71st and 77th streets; the block front on the west side of the Boulevard, from 112th to 113th street, and several other fine frontages, on 61st, 62d and 64th streets and Columbus circle. Peter F. Meyer will be the auctioneer.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. announce the auction sale of seven lots on the north side of East 99th street, between Madison and Park avenues. Particulars will be found in our advertising pages, and the auctioneers will supply maps at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street. The sale is fixed for Wednesday next, 8th inst.

We will pay a liberal price for copies of The Record and Guide Nos. 253, 930, 1454, 1475 and 1556, delivered at our office in good condition.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

The Board of Public Improvements has approved the immediate completion of the Elm street improvement.

Robert D. Evans paid $200,000 for the plot, 32x130, at the southeast corner of 73d street and 5th avenue. The property sold in 1873 for $125,000.

George S Hall writes us that the two 5-story flats on Park avenue, between 74th and 75th streets, sold for $50,000 to Morris Jacobs, and not $47,000. This corrects paragraph in our last issue.

The New York Realty Company paid $385,000 for the southwest corner of Broadway and Walker street, plot 50.10x100.3 with lot on Walker street 25x98.9. At the time of sale the price was reported at $425,000.

Elizabeth B. Schley took title this week to No. 846 5th avenue at the southeast corner of 66th street and No. 845 adjoining, the price paid for the first being $250,00 and for the latter $200,000. At the time of the sale No. 846 was reported as selling for $350,000.

The southwest corner of Richmond terrace and Shore road, Port Richmond, Staten Island, comprising the 3-story brick store, office and public hall building, on plot 110x42, known as the Griffith block, has been purchased by the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co., of Milwaukee, for $22,000.

On Tuesday the Council passed unanimously the resolution to change the name of the Boulevard above 59th street to Broadway. The people on the West Side are a unit in favoring this change, and the completion of the other formalities required to give it legality will be regarded with the utmost satisfaction by them.

Following on the proposal to extend 6th avenue to Canal street comes another that 7th avenue be cut through to Varick street. The latter has not yet, however, been taken up by any municipal department or, apparently, by a large body of interested property owners.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND BROKERS

P. T. Canavan, of No. 120 9th avenue near 18th street, is a conscientious and hard-working agent and broker, and a growing clientele testifies to his success. His facilities for renting houses, apartments and stores and collecting rents are much improved, and for the convenience of owners and tenants his office is open evenings. Mr. Canavan takes entire charge of property, and his references are first class. He has many desirable parcels for sale and is frequently called upon to testify as to values and is exceptionally well posted as to property in the vicinity of his office.

Charles R. Faruclo & Co., Italian real estate brokers, of No. 203 Grand street, who make a specialty of leasing and selling property in the Italian quarters, have successfully negotiated the leases of the following properties: Nos. 303, 305, 307, 309, 311, 313, 315 East 71st street, seven 5-story double tenements, for the term of ten years, at an annual rental of $10,500, and repairs, from Feb. 1st, for Max Danziger, president of the New York Plate Glass Insurance Co., to Frank Pettelli, and also the two 4-story tenements known as Nos. 23 and 25 Prince street, for the term of three years from Feb. 1st, at the rental of $1,700 per annum, and repairs, for Michael Gaffeney, to Raphael Bellino.

Francis T. Underhill, of No. 7 Pine street, is about to retire from the real estate business to go to California to look after his interests there. Mr. Herbert A. Sherman, for fourteen years with Richard V. Harnett & Co., latterly as a member of the firm, has taken Mr. Underhill's offices and will conduct a realty business there on his own account.

G. B. F. Randolph, who has been Mr. Underhill's managing man, has entered into partnership with Walter E. Stabler, of Stabler & Smith. The new firm will be Stabler & Randolph, with offices at 672 Columbus avenue and 31 Nassau street, Bank of Commerce Building.

The week in realty circles in this borough has been a good one with quite a number of small sales, promising well for the business of the average broker. The hopeful feeling which ushered in the new year continues to be felt, and all signs point toward a prosperous season.

The announcement that the Hamilton Building, on the northwest corner of Joralemon and Court streets, would be torn down to permit the erection of a 13-story office building, is, perhaps, the chief item of news that the week has furnished. Through John F. James & Son, who represent David G. Leggitt, the owner, it was learned that the present structure could not be torn down until May 1 next owing to the fact that the leases of the tenants do not expire until that date. Work will then be begun at once, and it is the expectation of Mr. Leggitt that his new building will be ready for occupancy by the middle of April, 1900. The Hamilton Building corner is an ideal site for a fine office building. Situated on the corner of Court street and Joralemon street, it is most accessible to the Borough Hall, the Municipal Building and Court House, toward which it will front, giving a fine view of Borough Hall Square and the business section at the centre of which the square stands. The site has a frontage of 94 feet on Court street and 140 feet on Joralemon street. George L. Morse, who planned the Mechanics' Bank Building, on Montague street, is the architect of the new building. It is to be the finest office building in Brooklyn and will cost about $500,000. The materials of the front will be granite and light brick. The present Hamilton Building was erected some forty years ago by the late A. A. Low. It was then one of the few large office buildings in Brooklyn. At Mr. Low's death it went to his son, Seth

Low, who deeded it to the present owner several years ago in an exchange. It is rated on the assessment books at $187,000. The building is so old and lacks so many of the modern facilities that the land itself constitutes the chief value in this rating.

The scarcity of large office buildings in this borough warrants the prediction that this new structure will be a financial success. With the exception of the Real Estate Exchange, the Franklin Trust Company Building, the Mechanics' Bank Building, the Eagle Building and the Germania Bank Building Brooklyn lawyers and business men have been obliged to find quarters in structures which may be classed as second or third rate. The fact that the erection of these newer buildings has still left the older ones well rented would seem to indicate a large number of available tenants for this new structure. A natural consequence of such a fine new office building in the market will be to reduce the rentable value of the older ones. In time these will have to be torn down and new ones erected if the owners hope to compete successfully for the better class of tenants.

The auction sale on Tuesday of this week of the farm land comprising the estate of Maria Hopkins attracted more than the usual crowd to the Real Estate Rooms. This property is situated in the old town of Flatlands (32d Ward), adjoining Flatbush avenue on the east and East 33d street on the west. It lies between Avenues J and K on the north and south, though its immediate boundaries are the John A. Vanderveer tract on the north and the Jeremiah Bergen piece on the south. For the purposes of the sale the property was cut up into 44 lots, of which there were some twenty full lots of 20x100 and the balance gores and ones of lesser depth or width. The bidding for many of the lots was quite brisk, the total amount realized being $6,011.50. A firm of brokers offered $5,000 for the tract about a month ago. The property was sold unrestricted, and all the sales were for cash with no free guarantee of title, as has been usual at such auctions. Moreover, neither East 33d street, East 34th street, East 35th street nor Avenue J are opened, though these improvements are expected in the near future. Were it not for these facts the total would have been much larger. The five lots which abut on Flatbush avenue were the best of the tract and sold to A. Lazansky for $560 each. These lots together have a frontage of 102 feet 10¾ inches on Flatbush avenue and a uniform depth of 100 feet. Across the avenue is the property of the Vanderveer Park Company, where lots similarly situated are held at $800 apiece. The latter company, however, will give 10 per cent. off for cash and the balance in installment payments or mortgage, which brings the real value of the lots considerably lower; $560 per lot may therefore be considered a good price for these Hopkins lots in view of the fact that they were sold under the hammer.

The sale by Charles W. McChesney to Walter L. Johnson of his interest in the first section of the property known as Dyker Heights gives to the latter complete control of the property. This section is included between 83d and 86th streets and 10th and 12th avenues, and was opened some two years ago. The price paid was $65,000. The entire Dyker Heights district runs from 79th street to 86th street, and is between 7th avenue and 14th avenue. It has been practically created by Mr. Johnson within a few years. In the two years past over one hundred dwellings have been erected at a cost of from $5,000 to $25,000 each. Plans are now being made for the building of ten new houses, which are to cost from $8,000 to $10,000 each. In part payment for his interest in this section Mr. McChesney received the four-story double apartment house, Nos. 234 and 236 Greene avenue, known as "The Albert."

The recent appointment of commissioners to formally extend Utica avenue will insure to neighboring property-owners material advantages as the result of such extension. The portion which is now to be opened runs from Paedergat Woods on the north to Flatbush avenue on the south, intersecting the latter avenue near Avenue T. In distance this extension is some two to three miles, and runs through the property of the Homesite Company, which has recently acquired large holdings in this section. Up to the present time this section has been in a dormant state, and is not built up compared to other parts of Flatbush and Flatlands. As soon as the extension is completed it is expected that a trolley will at once be placed on the avenue and thus supply much-needed communication to all other parts of the borough.

In regard to the purchase by Cloud Lewis of the Garrit H. Wyckoff farm of 23½ acres, it has been learned on reliable authority that the true consideration was $2,300 per acre, and not $2,600, as stated last week. The larger figure was the one originally given out, and the true price was only learned this week.

At a meeting held on Tuesday of this week at its offices in the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange, the Jacob Cole Real Estate Company was formally organized. The company was capitalized at $5,000, and the following officers chosen: President, James L. Brumley; Vice-President, J. S. De Selding; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles K. Brumley. All the stock was subscribed by the officers, except what was taken by Mrs. Cole, the widow of the late real estate auctioneer, Jacob Cole. As has been stated, this company was organized to perpetuate the name of Jacob Cole among Brooklyn real estate men, with whom he was so long associated. Its offices are the same as those used by Mr. Cole, on the ground floor of the Real Estate Exchange, just off the auction rooms.

Frank Wilson, who has been for many years connected with the D. & M. Chauncey Real Estate Company, has recently associated himself with Frank A Barnaby, in the conduct of the Frank A. Barnaby Company.

In the list of recorded conveyances this week should be noted the transfer of the property known as Zipp's Casino, on Elm place, to A. I. Namm, the dry goods merchant. The sale of this property has already been mentioned, but the price paid was not known. It was estimated at $100,000 by good judges of land in this business section. The deed, however, shows a consideration of $80,000, but as the Kings County Trust Company loaned $60,000 to complete the purchase, it can be seen that the price paid underestimates the real value of the property.

2d street, No. 128, south side, 40 feet east of Bond street, 3-story frame house in front, with 3-story frame house in the rear; Sarah Wenz to F. B. Dickerson in exchange for ten acres of farm land at Rocky Point, Town of Brook Haven, Suffolk County, Long Island; broker, J. Wenz.

moved and opened his attractive show room at No. 225 East 42d street, near 3d avenue, where he will welcome builders and show a complete line of mantels, tiles, gas logs, etc.

IMPROVED PLASTIC SLATE ROOFING.

The firm of J. Casmento & Co., No. 160 5th avenue, are well known because of the high character of their work, which owners and builders now appreciate. The Building Trades

MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—Navigation to Haverstraw is again closed. The supply of North Rivers now in the market on barges will probably be sufficient for the needs of the market between now and the time that navigation again opens. The demand is seasonably good and prices are firm at from $6.25 to $6.75 for specials and first grade commons. Pales are in quick demand at $4.00 for a good article. New Jerseys are moving well, but there is not a large quantity on barges in the market. Navigation between points of manufacture and New York is closed. Prices are steady at about $6.00 and $6.25.

LIME.—All the Rockland in first hands has been disposed of, and there have been no new arrivals for the past two weeks. An advance in values is looked for. Dealers are anxious for arrivals, as they have no stock with which to meet their needs, so that the market is at a standstill. Manufacturers are not making any prices to arrive. The last sales were made at 70@75c. for common, and 80@85c. for finishing. No new kilns are going on fire owing to the greatly hampered shipping facilities, together with the difficulty experienced by sailing vessels in making this port owing to unfavorable winds. Business in State is seasonably good, with prices at about 70c. for common and 90c. for Jointa.

CEMENT.—The demand for Rosendale is seasonably good. Navigation is still closed and shipments are being made by rail. Prices for standard brands are steady at 90c. and $1.00. Trade in domestic Portland continues seasonably fair. Manufacturers are not pushing sales, in anticipation of a brisk demand on the arrival of open weather. Prices are firm at about $2.00 for standard brands. The arrivals in imported Portland are scattered and small, and the demand is seasonably fair. Prices at the advance noted last week are firm, and a strong and active market is expected at the opening of regular spring business.

LATH.—There are few in the market and a limited amount on the way. Last sales were made at $2.00 for large lots and $2.10 for smaller quantities, and manufacturers are asking $2.25 to arrive.

NAILS.—Both wire and cut nails occupy a strong position this week, due to the perceptibly increased demand, both local and general, and which is occasioned by the desire of dealers to buy before prices advance further. Wire nails are $1.55 f. o. b. Pittsburg, with a rebate of 5c to jobbers on 1,000 keg lots; $1.70 on dock New York in single carload lots, and $1.80 small lots out of New York stores. Cut nails are: $1.25 f. o. b. Pittsburg, with no concessions; $1.40 on dock New York, and $1.50 small lots out of New York stores.

GLASS.—The inquiry for glass in general is seasonably brisk, and stocks are sufficiently extensive and well assorted for the present requirements of the market. Prices are 80 for plate, 80-10 for French window, and 80-20 for American window.

PAINTS AND VARNISHES.—The conditions of the paint market noted last week are, if anything, more marked this week. Turpentine has advanced and values are rising on other component materials so that, with the increase in demand at the start of the regular season, an advance in values on paints as well as varnishes is reasonably expected.

NAVAL STORES.—The demand for spirits of turpentine was quiet with, however, a firm undertone, and a general feling prevailed for a better demand and consequent higher prices. Trading was mostly confined to small parcels and jobbing lots on a basis of 46c. for machines, with some holders asking 46½c. The position favors holders, as stocks are decreasing and receipts in the South are running light. The market closed quiet and firm at 45½c. for Southerns and 46c. for machines. There was a moderate inquiry for tar, but buyers are not taking large parcels. Values are steady at $1.60 and $1.65 for regulars and $3.10 and $3 15 for oil barrels. Pitch was quiet at $1.60@$1.70.

OIL.—The market for oil is firm and the demand from the standpoint of the manufacturers is satisfactory. Seed is keeping at about $1.19, with slight variations for cash in Chicago, so that prices remain steady. Manufacturers look for considerable output in the next thirty days, and the tendency of the market is to stiffen if not to advance, and the feeling in general is one of confidence. Holders are not pushing sales, being content at present with the current business in view of the anticipated increase in the demand in the near future. Prices for city oil are firm at 41c. for 5-bbl. lots and 42c. for small quantities. Boiled oil is 43c. and 44c. and Calcutta is 54c.

LEAD.—Pig lead is still advancing and oil is stiff, so that white lead, red lead and litharge are in a very firm position, with a marked tendency to advance, the demand being seasonably brisk. Prices on the above products in kegs quoted by the National Lead Co., f. o. b. New York, subject to their usual terms, are as follows: In lots less than 500 lbs., 6 cents net; 500 lbs. and over, 5½c. net; dry white lead in bbls., ½c. per lb. less than price in kegs; red lead and litharge in bbls. and half bbls., ¼c. per lb. less than price in kegs.

LUMBER AND HARDWOODS.—The situation in the lumber and hardwood markets is one of decreasing stocks and steady and increasing demand. As the regular demand of the early spring season will begin before new stocks arrive in the market, better prices on all kinds of lumber are reasonably expected. As it is, the spruce manufacturers are contemplating another advance, which they consider justifiable by the general condition in this wood. White pine is moving well, with prices stiff but unchanged. Yellow pine finds an easy market at relatively easy values. The spruce and North Carolina mills are working under pressure to fill orders for spring delivery, in view of the excellent demand which is expected in these stocks, as well as in all the other branches of the market. Plain and quartered oak are in good demand, with stocks limited and prices firm but unchanged from last quotations. Ash and elm are good property in view of light stocks and good current demand. Poplar is scarce, but prices remain about the same. With the advent of new stocks and the resumption of regular business, which promises to be of unusually large volume this year, business should be in a condition as favorable to the buyer as to the manufacturer.

A judgment for $234.85 was recently secured by J. Casmento & Co. against Contractor John McCallum for failure to carry out contract for roofing after accepting bid. The judgment includes costs.

An opinion was received from the Corporation Counsel by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to the effect that the contract for the new Hall of Records was valid although not awarded to the lowest bidder. The contract price is $1,997,900, and it was decided to issue bonds to the amount of $2,100,000 to meet the expenses of the work.

It is reported that serious trouble is imminent between the granite cutters in New England and the manufacturers over a demand for the reduction of the hours of labor from nine to eight per day and an increase in the wage scale from 29½ cents per hour to 32 cents, to take effect March 1. The manufactureres will agree to the eight-hour schedule, but they are opposed to any increase in the wage scale.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment yesterday authorized the issue of $2,000,000 bonds for repaving streets. Of this sum $1,000,000 is to be spent in Manhattan, $700,000 in Brooklyn, $200,000 in the Bronx, $75,000 in Queens and $25,000 in Richmond. Commissioner Keating will have the spending of the $2,000,000 extra, which is not included in the budget, and he will proceed to make contracts as soon as the Municipal Assembly acts on the matter.

The following is a statement of the permits granted for new buildings and alterations in Brooklyn during January, and the estimated cost of the same: Brick buildings, 99; frame buildings, 161; total buildings, 260; alterations, 162; total number of permits, 422. Estimated cost of brick buildings, $543,089; estimated cost of frame buildings, $426,610; estimated cost of all buildings, $969,699; estimated cost of alterations, $94,020; total estimated cost, $1,063,719; total estimated cost in January, 1898, $1,056,357; excess in favor of 1899, $7,362.

The Builders' League excursion to Washington took place last week and was very successful and greatly enjoyed by its participants. Forty members, together with the lady members of their families, formed the party, which spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the capital, and on the morning of the last day were received by the President at the White House. They brought back many souvenirs and pleasant recollections of the beauty of Washington and the kindness of its people, particularly, of course, of the dignified courtesy of the nation's present head.

Comptroller Coler informed the Board of Public Improvements on Wednesday, in reply to a request for the probable amount of assessment bonds which the city, under existing conditions, could issue: "The increased margin given the city in which to issue bonds caused by the increase in assessed valuation will not become effective until July 1. After that date it will be safe for the board to authorize improvements chargeable to the Street Improvement Fund, to the amount of $1,000,000." The Comptroller holds that although this decision is not final, such improvements may be authorized before July 1 to the amount of the excess chargeable into the fund, over the total of contracts authorized against that fund. This excess on Jan. 1 was $220,711.16.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that an examination has been scheduled to be held, beginning March 1, 1899, for the position of Assistant Inspector of Engineering Material, Bethlehem Iron Works. From this examination there will also be filled three vacancies in the position of Assistant Inspector of Engineering Material, Bureau of Steam Engineering (Navy Department), at a salary of $5.00 per diem each. Persons who desire to enter this examination should at once apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for application blanks (Forms 304 and 375), which should be properly executed and promptly filed with the Commission at Washington.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been on official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; a'r stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.

When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

Questions and Answers.

FEE FOR SEARCH OF TITLE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A gets a loan from B and agrees to pay B for searching of title. B, who is not a lawyer, demands for his services a sum which is larger than lawyers generally expect. Must A pay said amount or not?

Answer.—A can only be compelled to pay a reasonable sum for the search of title. The customary charge of lawyers fixes what is reasonable.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION—WHEN PAYABLE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If a broker effects a lease of property for term of years, when is his commission due and payable?

Answer.—As soon as the lease is effected.—Law Editor.

Bind your copies of the "Record and Guide." They are invaluable for search and reference. MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

MURESCO!

It is a permanently hard wall finish. Over plaster it produces soft, even tints, giving the effect of kalsomine, without the flashing, with none of its disadvantages. It does not rub off against the clothing; will not crack nor peel. It will kill suction, and give a smooth, soft, even coat over an old plastered wall that has been patched. It comes in fifteen artistic colors and white.

You may have a color card and full information about Muresco for the asking.

Vol. LXIII. FEBRUARY 11, 1899. No. 1,613

THERE is a shrinking of business and an irregularity in prices on the stock market which shows that the public desires to hold off to see what the outcome and influence of recent events will be. The position of affairs in the Philippines is serious enough to justify this to a people that did not, and does not, want to mow down semi-nude barbarians with machine guns, but only to bring them peace, plenty and freedom from oppression. It is too bad to find, according to scare-head English, that their proteges have become "rebels." The financial condition of the Government is also again becoming as prominent as it was in the latter part of President Cleveland's administration, through remarks recently made in Congress. It should be borne in mind, however, that the case is very different now from what it was then. There is no question of the ability of the Government to maintain gold payments now as there was then, and there had been then no distinct decision of the country to abide by the gold standard, as there has been now. It would be infinitely better, of course, if the Government's fiscal arrangements made a balance between income and expenditures more nearly possible than has been the case for some years; but while the adjustment of differences is disturbing, the issue of a few hundred millions of dollars in bonds more or less can make very little difference to a country as large, rich and as lightly involved as this. Therefore, if it is finally decided to issue bonds, that fact ought not to disturb business. It will be remembered that the last issue was positively inspiriting and that the Cleveland issues, notwithstanding the gloomy times in which they appeared, actually served to make business better, for a time at least.

IN spite of the reductions in the bank rates the conditions of the money markets of Europe have only to become something more than ordinary and nervousness immediatey arises as to the ability of operators to obtain funds readily. This was the case only this week when the settlements were being made in London and Paris. The continuation of the high price for gold also shows that there is still more than a usual demand in the market for that metal. The market is in expectation of an announcement from Portugal regarding Delagoa Bay, the idea being that although the King is bound by his promise not to alienate any Portuguese territory, a lease of the bay would be no violation of that promise—especially if the terms are pecuniarily satisfactory to Portugal. London has shown a better disposition toward government loans than has been observed for some years past, the reported success in advance of the proposed Chinese and German offers being evidence of this fact. This is due to the growth of capital during half a dozen years of successful commerce and manufacture. In France the success of the Indo-China railway loan has encouraged the Government to prepare schemes for railway construction in other of the French possessions. The Minister for the Colonies has stated that the Government was taking measures to open up trade in the colonial domain by railways. According to "Der Deutsche Oekonomist," the new issues of capital in Germany in 1898 amounted, taken at the issue price, to $570,000,000. There has been a constant increase in issues since 1895, when they amounted to $340,000,000, followed in 1896 by $470,000,000, and in 1897 by $490,000,000. The establishment of joint-stock companies was the greatest, in point of capital, since 1873. The "Oekonomist" places the capital of these new companies at $115,000,000, against $95,000,000 in 1897. The Austrian Board of Trade minister has had an inquiry made as to the advisability of destroying the iron ring, represented by the Prague Iron Industry Company, about whose affairs so much sensation was aroused a few months ago. It was stated among other things that iron manufacturers in Germany refused to take Austrian orders because of agreements they had with the Prague Company. Altogether it looks as if a report in favor of abolishing some of the protective duties on manufactured iron will finally be made. The decline in the gold premium at Buenos Ayres noted last week as a consequence of the favorable reports from the Argentine harvest fields has not continued this week, but on the contrary there has been a rise, from which it may be taken that later crop reports are not as good as earlier ones were. Public comments point to Macedonia as being likely to give cause for a break in the terms of European peace. The people there suffering under Turkish rule have almost as good as declared their intention of compelling other nations to intervene in their behalf by drawing down massacre upon a part of themselves. That, they argue, was successful in Crete, and it would be better to sacrifice a part of their people if it brought relief to the others than to remain in the cruel bondage of the Pashas.

WHAT CONSTITUTES EQUALITY IN TAXATION?

THE charter, in conformity with State law, provides that real property shall be assessed for the purpose of taxation at "the sum for which the said property under ordinary circumstances will sell." Of course, in practice, the assessed valuation is always, except in rare and unintentional cases, less than the market value—a practice which owes its origin to the general desire on the part of each tax unit of the State to pay a smaller share of the State tax than the others. Nevertheless, in each tax unit the assessed valuation bears some more or less uniform relation to the market value. The assessed valuation of a piece of property is affixed to the tax roll by the assessor only after he has first determined in his own mind the selling value. Roughly speaking, therefore, the selling value furnishes the basis for taxation.

Now, the sum at which a particular piece of real estate will sell is a matter which is subject to the widest difference of opinion, even in neighborhoods where sales are of frequent occurrence. In the absence of recent sales the difficulty of securing a just appraisement in a given locality is enhanced. As regards such localities assessors estimate the probable increment in realty values from the sums expended in recent building improvements. It so happens, however, that it is precisely in those localities where the construction of new buildings is largest that rents tend the most, for the time being, to a minimum. Overbuilding leads to reduction of rents, although the price of property advances, or, at least, does not retrograde, in anticipation of a readjustment of the supply of and demand for the class of housing affected. The New Mercantile District is an excellent illustration of the tendency of the selling price to have regard to prospective rather than present earning capacity. But it is certainly not the intention of the law to tax future earnings; such a tax would be open to other objections besides inequality. In Mercer, Greene and Wooster, including side streets, many millions of dollars have been expended in new buildings in recent years. At the same time, rents have decreased absolutely and perhaps relatively, trade having to some extent left the district for reconstructed Broadway. Nevertheless, the tax assessments for 1899 have been augmented here as well as in sections of the city where the earning power of improved realty is on the increase. What is the result?

The owners of certain properties have called the attention of the Record and Guide to the hardships which the increased assessment compels them to bear. Take, for example, an old 5-story building in Wooster street, where rents have declined, say, 33⅓ per cent. since 1893, and where the To Let sign is discouragingly conspicuous. This building is now fully rented for the first time in six years. Six years ago it brought $15,400 per annum. It now brings $9,935. Last year the assessment on this building was $85,000, which, with a rate of 2.01, made the tax $1,708, or 19 per cent. of the net rents received. This year the assessment has been increased to $115,000, which, with a 2.50 rate, will make the tax $2,875, or over 32 per cent. of the rents. If the rate shall prove to be 3 per cent., as anticipated by some, the tax will exceed 38 per cent. of the net earnings of the property. In the case of certain premises on Crosby street the assessment has been raised from $12,000 to $16,000. The premises, when fully rented, bring $600 a year. This year, after the taxes, insurance and cost of repairs have been paid, the owner will be out of pocket about $100.

That it is not old buildings only which are so overburdened is evident from the income and expenditure account of a modern structure in Greene street. The gross rents for 1893, 1894 and 1895, when the building was fully occupied, averaged $24,000 per year. The depression in rents and the decrease in the tenantry of the locality has been so great that the owner has found it impossible to obtain more than $11,300 this year, a large part of the premises remaining empty. The expenses for elevator service, steam heat, insurance, etc., amount to $2,450, leaving $8,850 as net rent from which to pay the taxes. In 1898 the tax on this property, which was assessed at $150,000, was $3,015, or about 35 per cent. of its present income. For 1899 the assessment has been raised to $175,000, which, with a rate of 2.50, will make the tax $4,375, or about 50 per cent. of the rent.

On the basis of earnings, property in the New Mercantile District certainly pays a disproportionately high tax, when compared with more flourishing sections of the city. The property owner is, in fact, mulcted for the building improvements which he or, at any rate, his neighbors have made, and whose natural tendency, even under circumstances most favorable to the landlord, is to benefit the tenant as well as the owner. The idea of equality in taxation, about which the charter expresses so much solicitude, is, in fact, flagrantly violated, although the blame attaches to the law itself, not to the administration of it. The only equal tax is a tax which leaves individuals in the same relative condition in which it finds them. The question arises whether it would not be well to modify our system of assessing taxes in such a way that rental income should be considered instead of selling price as regards certain classes of real estate. Of course, the farmers up the State are not yet ready to give up our ridiculous general property tax—to tax incomes instead of capital. But they might consent to a modification in order to secure relief for those classes of urban realty where peculiar hardship could be proven, and where the property could not be deemed essentially speculative.

THAT the condition of Elm street has again become the subject of public discussion is a fact that property owners and business men on that thoroughfare will note with satisfaction. This is due to the energy of a recently appointed city official, and that he is likely to be successful in securing the completion of the work known as the Elm street "improvement" seems to arouse the jealous opposition of others. The latter offer a number of reasons why they have allowed Elm street to remain in a disgraceful condition ever since they have been in office, but do not include the right one, which is that hitherto there has been among them no one having the spirit of initiative and of ingenuity to take up the work in the right way. The departmental chiefs never seem to have rallied from the paralysis into which they were thrown, about a year ago, by the announcement from the City Hall that the city had no money for improvements and that consequently none could be made. This announcement has been modified from time to time, as other announcements were made that ways of issuing city bonds had been found, but until Borough President Cocgan moved in it no one seemed to think that the benefits of these newly-discovered borrowing powers could reach Elm street. When he discovered it, some other officials, fearing that he would get the credit he deserves, opposed him with the result that they may have tied the matter up again. But as the impecuniary objection can no longer be urged against doing the work of completing the improvement, the delay will probably be very short. The moment is propitious for interested circles to urge the Municipal Assembly to take action and to support the Borough President; if these are done energetically and forcibly, it will not be possible for this great improvement to be neglected any longer, or the vast sums of money invested in it to continue to lie idle.

CAN it be that the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company are only humbugging us again? They have deceived too often to be implicitly believed now, and the fact that the announcement of their intention to electrically equip and improve their property is made just as a bill is about to be introduced into the Legislature to invite capital into an underground rapid transit enterprise, just as other announcements were made as rapid transit seemed to be about to take a step forward, throws considerable suspicion upon it. Indeed a stranger student of this "rapid transit" movement in New York city would find much to justify him if he came to the conclusion that it was wholly a game of "bluff" on all sides—poker on a large scale, in which rapid transit facilities were matched against the most valuable passenger-carrying franchise in the world, and in which there had been much calling and many re-deals. The Manhattan Company could at any time they wished have furnished this city with the best kind of travel north and south and could do so to-day if they were so minded, while all efforts made to secure quick travel independently of them have been checkmated so regularly as to almost make it appear, to the stranger student previously created, that they were impractical from the start and were only made for effect upon the delinquent company that ought to provide the right kind of travel. If that was ever really the case, it would be too pessimistic to assume that it is so now. We would rather believe that the Manhattan Company are sincere in their promises, but at the same time would urge the Legislature to pass any proper bill for the construction of an underground railroad by private capital. In the years that have elapsed since private capital last failed to take up this enterprise, the costs of both constructing an underground railroad and of operating it when built have been immensely reduced and the problem of profitable working has thereby been proportionately simplified. This increases the prospect for the gradual development, if not for an immediate creation, of an underground system of fast travel, without regard to the sincerity or insincerity of the Manhattan Company.

NATURALLY, while the public generally has ceased to be interested in the sensational increase of tax assessments in the borough of Manhattan, property owners, and especially those organized into associations for mutual support and protection, continue to be impressed by them, especially in their bearing upon the future. This has found expression in the appointment of committees by several associations, notably the Real Estate Exchange, to study and examine the question of taxation of real property and, presumably, with the purpose of securing fair treatment for the property they are most directly interested in. Whenever such investigations are made it should be borne in mind that the larger burdens that realty in this borough is called upon to bear are wholly the result of consolidation; and that, therefore, if a remedy is to be found at all, it is in the amendment of the consolidation act of 1897. The ideal amendment would be found in a very short act of one section, to-wit: Chapter 378 of the Laws of 1897 is hereby repealed. Failing the possibility of so sure and simple a remedy, the next best resource will be found in amending the tax sections of the charter relating to the equalization of valuations and taxation, by a requirement that each borough shall be made to bear the expense of its own improvements. Without some such amendment no relief is possible, and Manhattan will have to continue to bear the increasing charges for the entire city. The injustice done by the law as it stands cannot be brought out more clearly than by a comparison of the activity in acre property in the outlying sections of Brooklyn and the dullness that prevails in similar property in the Bronx, which at the time of consolidation was as much a part of New York city as were those outlying sections parts of the city of Brooklyn at the same time. It is true that some of this activity in the newer wards of Brooklyn is a natural consequence of the development of transit facilities and their direct connection with the business section of Manhattan via Brooklyn Bridge, but it is much more the result of improved pecuniary circumstances derived from a consolidation with Manhattan upon terms that threw the burdens of the contract upon the latter. We have seen the results of equalization and Manhattan should now, in despair of the more radical and simple relief previously referred to, try to obtain equitization of taxation; with that the continuance of equalization of valuations might be conceded. In any appeal to the Legislature for relief Manhattan can show a good case of injustice in the condition into which its improvements have been thrown for a year or more and in the larger tax burdens that it must hereafter face, which are a direct result of consolidation. Such a case is supported by the reports and statements of the heads of the departments having control of public works and of the Tax Department. Whether the Legislature will consent to the taxation of the several component parts of the consolidated city being more equitably distributed may appear extremely doubtful. It will certainly do nothing unless strong pressure is brought to bear upon it, and if it can be brought to do anything it is only in the direction indicated here that it can apply a remedy for the complaints of Manhattan realty interests.

THE BUILDING CODE COMMISSION.

The Building Code Commission has adopted the following general rules for their future guidance:

1. That before proceeding with the work of preparing the building code public hearings shall be given at such time and place, or places, to be hereafter determined by the Commission, in order that the members may hear what general objections there are against the existing building laws, and in what particulars changes are desired.

That an invitation be sent to such departments of the municipality, societies connected with or interested in building, and individuals as the Commission may hereafter determine, and setting the time when a hearing will be given to each.

That shorthand notes be taken at each public hearing, and that the same be typewritten, 12 copies of same be made, one to be mailed to each member of the Commission, and one to be filed away by the Secretary for future reference.

2. That in preparing a new code the old New York "building law" shall be taken as the basis.

That special provision shall be made for the suburban or frame-building districts; and

That due provision shall be made for the sparsely settled territory.

3. That in taking up the old New York law, each section be called separately in their consecutive order, but this shall not prevent the calling of sections whose transposition may be deemed advisable by the Commissioners.

That when a section is called any member of the Commission proposing to amend said section shall present his amendments orally or in writing, preferably the latter.

That proposed amendments shall not be acted on, unless by unanimous consent at the same meeting when offered, but shall be printed or typewritten, and duplicate copies transmitted to each member with the least possible delay.

That when the amendments to any one section have been acted upon, such section shall be deemed to have been tentatively adopted and then shall be printed and duplicate copies transmitted to each member.

That copies of the tentatively adopted section or group of sections covering one subject may be transmitted to such departments or societies as the Commission may select.

4. That after disposing of one subject, a day be set when the representatives of those departments, societies and individuals shall be heard on that one particular subject and on no other at the same time.

5. Amended sections shall be adopted finally by a majority vote of the Commission.

6. That the Commission shall hold its regular business meetings on the afternoons of three days in each week, namely, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 4 o'clock, and for the public hearings at (hour not yet determined) o'clock.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, Feb. 9.—The flood of city bills continues to pour into the rooms of various committees of the Legislature; while no action has been taken upon them. Governor Roosevelt indirectly expressed his disapproval of one of them this week by saying that constant cries of "home rule" were uttered in New York, and protests against any interference at Albany with the city government, and yet here was Senator Ahearn proposing in a bill to raise the salaries of all the school teachers; a power, the Governor said, already possesed by the authorities of New York.

Two bills of large importance to the taxpayers were presented to-day by Senator Marshall, of Brooklyn. In one of them the Commissioner of Street Cleaning is authorized to enter into a contract for the sprinkling of the streets of New York for the very long term of ten years. In the second bill the same Commissioner of Street Cleaning is authorized to make a contract for three years, on the expiration of the present contract, for cleaning the streets of Brooklyn.

In the street sprinkling bill also the Commissioner of Street Cleaning, to all appearances, is authorized to construct a water system in such localities of the Greater New York territory where there are no water pipes or supply of water. Besides these there are important bills relating to the framing of a building code for this city, and to the powers of the borough presidents.

The Senate Commitee on Railroads gave another hearing today on Senator Ford's bill prohibiting the running of street cars on four tracks on Amsterdam avenue, New York.

The bills presented this week, with their introductory numbers, are given below:

Senator Ford (Intro. No. 363), depriving the Municipal Assembly of authority to "establish and from time to time amend a code of ordinances to be known as a Building Code," and also making the following declaration: "Any Commission or Commissions heretofore appointed by the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York under and by virtue of Section 647 of Chapter 378 of the Laws of 1897, is hereby abolished. Any Building Code established by the Municipal Assembly pursuant to and by virtue of Section 647 of Chapter 378 of the Laws of 1897 is hereby repealed, and such Building Code herewith declared to be no longer in force and effect."

Senator Ford (Intro. No. 364), authorizing the Governor to appoint a Commission "to prepare a code of laws relating to, concerning, and affecting the construction, alteration or removal of structures or buildings erected or to be erected in the city of New York. The said Commission shall consist of eleven members, as follows: A member of the Board of Buildings of the City of New York, the Chief of the Fire Department of the City of New York, one representative of the Health Department of the City of New York, one member of the Tenement House Commission, appointed pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 479 of the Laws of 1894, who shall be an architect; one representative of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the City of New York, one Civil Engineer, to be chosen from a list of three names to be submitted to the Governor by the American Society of Civil Engineers of the City of New York, three architects, to be chosen from a list of nine names to be submitted to the Governor by the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, one practical builder of at least five years' experience in the construction of modern fireproof buildings; one Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law who has been admitted to practice in the State of New York for at least five years. The Commission shall report to the Legislature of the State of New York at a date not later than the 15th day of January, 1900, a proposed Code of Building Laws concerning, affecting, or relating to the construction, alteration or removal of buildings or structures erected or to be erected in the City of New York. Said members of said Commission shall serve without compensation. The Corporation Counsel of the City of New York shall act as counsel to said Commission."

Senator Roche (Intro. No. 361), amending Section 4 of Article 1 of the Tax Law (Chapter 908 of the Laws of 1896), which exempts certain property from taxation, by adding thereto another subdivision, which is to read as follows: "18. Bonds secured by mortgages covering real estate situated in the State of New York. But this exemption shall not include corporate bonds secured by a deed of trust or trust mortgage."

Senator Ahearn (Intro. No. 343), incorporating the Ward's Island Bridge Company, with authority to build a bridge with two branches over the waters of Hell Gate to Ward's Island from Queens County; one running northerly over the waters of Little Hell Gate, over Randall's Island, and over the waters of Bronx Kills to the County of New York, and the other running westerly over the westerly side of Ward's Island and the waters between Ward's Island and the County of New York to a point in the County of New York opposite, or nearly opposite, the westerly side of Ward's Island. The Commissioners of the bridges are to be one man appointed by the Mayor of New York, one man appointed by the President of the Borough of Queens, and John G. O. Keeffe, George S. Bonner and Peter E. Desvernine, Jr. The corporation is a private one, and is given the right to condemn lands as though it were a public one.

Senator Stranahan (Intro. No. 357), amending that part of the Constitution which relates to the debts of counties absorbed into cities.

Senator Stranahan (Intro. No. 384), amending the collateral inheritance law to provide for the immediate taxation of a part or remainder of and estate left in trust to be divided subsequently on the death of an heir.

Senator Ford (Intro. No. 385), requiring tax collectors to notify non-residents of the time of receiving taxes.

Senator Plunkitt (Intro. No. 366), providing that a certificate of acknowledgment or proof made by or before a commissioner of deeds in any part of New York City shall be authenticated by the City Clerk, and that no other certificate shall be required to entitle a conveyance to be read in evidence or recorded in any other county or part of county in the confines of the City of New York.

Senator Plunkitt (Intro. No. 367), repealing Chapter 682 of the Laws of 1897 entitled "An act for licensing and regulating bonds of auctioneers in cities of one million and over," passed May 22, 1897. The act says: "The repeal of said act shall not impair or affect any existing right of action upon any bond heretofore filed in pursuance of the act hereby repealed, provided, however, that no judgment in any action upon any such bond shall take precedence of mortgages, liens, conveyances or other encumbrances affecting or relating to the property of the sureties upon such bond, and delivered or imposed prior to the recovery of such judgment, unless the plaintiff in such action shall have filed within six months after this act shall take effect, a notice of pendency of such action, pursuant to Section 1670 of the Code of Civil Procedure, containing a brief description of the property out of which the plaintiff will claim to collect or enforce the judgment in such action."

Senator Mitchell (Intro. No. 368), authorizing the Board of Assessments to ascertain and determine the damage to real property, Ward number 5, Block number 1558, Borough of the Bronx, caused by its being appropriated for a court house site under Chapter 209 of the Laws of 1897.

Senator Ford (Intro. No. 385), providing that on the demand of a non-resident owner of real property included in a tax roll the tax collector shall enclose in a post-paid envelope directed to such non-resident owner a statement of the amount of taxes assessed against such property, with a notice of the dates and places fixed by him for receiving taxes.

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 388), repealing Chapter 672 of the Laws of 1897 requiring iron or steel guards to windows opening above the first or ground floor not leading directly to fire escape balconies.

Senator Marshall (Intro. No. 430), authorizing the Department of Street Cleaning to make a contract for sprinkling the streets of New York for a period of 10 years.

Senator Marshall (Intro. No. 431), authorizing the Commissioner of Street Cleaning to make a contract for a period of 3 years for the cleaning of the streets of Brooklyn.

Assemblyman Costello (Intro. No. 740), making the factory inspector responsible for the enforcement of the labor laws, and giving him power to have scaffolding, ropes, blocks and ladders inspected, to receive complaints and assign persons to investigate them as is now done by the Chief of Police. The factory inspector, jointly with the Chief of the Building Department in cities, is made responsible for, and given supervision over, the enforcement of the building laws. No minor and no woman is to be allowed to work over 10 hours a day, or 60 hours a week, except to make a shorter work day on Saturday. Children under 16 are not to be allowed to operate dangerous machines. The bill has the approval of the factory inspector, and embodies the changes suggested in Governor Roosevelt's message.

Assemblyman Mazet (Intro. No. 690), making the borough presidents of Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond members of their respective boards of estimate and apportionment, and of the local boards of public improvements. They are to have a seat in the council, with a voice, but no vote. They are to have veto power over every resolution or other vote of the local board of public improvements, the veto to be overruled only by a vote of three-fourths of all the members of the local improvement board. The bill also says: "Each local board, through the president of the borough or his secretary, may require any department in the city to report all necessary facts concerning the advisability of any proposed improvement, and also to provide it with such approximate estimate in writing, of the cost of any proposed improvement, and such approximate statement of the assessed value, according to the last preceding tax roll of the real estate included within the probable area of assessment, as may be necessary to enable the local board properly to consider any petition for the local improvement." The bill also provides that "all local improvements referred to in this or in the preceding title must be first presented to and acted upon by the local board having jurisdiction thereof, and shall not in the first instance be presented to nor originated in the Board of Public Improvements or the Municipal Assembly, or the Board of Public Improvements and Municipal Assembly conjointly." The presidents of the boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx are empowered to appoint successors to the members of the school boards in those boroughs as their terms shall expire. The presidents of Richmond and Queens have the same powers, but are to appoint successors for the members of the boards for a full term of three years, without the qualification of waiting until the terms of the incumbents shall expire. Vacancies caused by death, resignation and removal in school boards are to be filled by the presidents, and they also are to hear charges against a member of a school board and remove him if they see fit, a function which now devolves upon the Mayor.

Assemblyman Adler (Intro. No. 651), to exempt from taxation the real estate of the Educational Alliance and of the University Settlement Society of New York.

Assemblyman Mangin (Intro. No. 672), extending Riverside Park, so as to include land beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the easterly side of Claremont avenue with the northerly side of West 122d street, running thence northerly along the easterly side of Claremont avenue 450 feet, thence easterly parallel to West 122d street 200 feet to the westerly side of the Boulevard, thence southerly along the westerly side of the Boulevard 450 feet to the corner formed by the intersection of the westerly side of the Boulevard with the northerly side of West 122d street, and thence westerly along the northerly side of West 122d street 200 feet to Claremont avenue, at the point or place of beginning.

Assemblyman Adler (Intro. No. 652), to prevent the placing of a high board fence, except a picket or open wooden fence, on the front of any lot or lots in any portion of the City of New York known as the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn, and to have all the high board fences now standing removed before August, 1899.

Assemblyman Grossman (Intro. No. 637), (reintroduced), confining the provisions of last week's bill in regard to the forfeiture of railroad franchises in the Borough of the Bronx to elevated roads, and eliminating "street surface roads" from its provisions.

Assemblyman Adler (Intro. No. 618), providing that ropes, as well as other material used in scaffolding, shall conform to the provisions of the law for the protection of builders.

Assemblyman Slater (Intro. No. 629), providing for a repeal of the law requiring that stone and material used on public buildings or municipal buildings shall be dressed and finished in this State.

Assemblyman Adler (Intro. No. 704), calling for the appointment by the Governor of a commission to revise the building laws being the same as the bill introduced by Senator Ford into the Senate. Assemblyman Adler to-day said that this bill had been introduced in the interests of his constituents, the poor people living on the East Side of New York, who have been suffering too long from the abuses of the tenement house system. The Municipal Assembly of the City of New York had previously appointed a Commission of Builders to prepare a code of building laws in accordance with Section 647 of the Charter. In the opinion of Assemblyman Adler, this commission is improperly constituted, and will not secure a good law. Mr. Adler says that if the Legislature is to pass building laws, and the Municipal Assembly is to have power to make ordinances and amend them at any time, there will be conflict and confusion, and it is to obviate this confusion that this measure has been introduced. Mr. Adler also introduced bills repealing the provisions of the city charter, which conflict with this measure. He claims that Tenement House Commission interests, theArchitectural League and similar organizations are supporting his bill.

NOMENCLATIVE EXTENSION OF BROADWAY.

The Municipal Assembly, having authorized the abolition of subsidiary names and the substitution of that of "Broadway" for the one connected thoroughfare from Whitehall street to the city line, and the resolution in which this authority is embodied having gone to the Mayor for approval, Frank R. Houghton has written to the latter, saying:

As the originator of the proposed change of name of the Boulevard to Broadway, I beg to call your attention to the following facts: It is proposed to continue the name of Broadway, from 59th st. to the northerly boundary of Manhattan Island at Spuyten Duyvil Creek, where it would meet on the opposite side of the river the thoroughfare which has always been known as Broadway, and which extends to the Yonkers City line. I believe that a new bridge has been ordered to be built across the river at that point.

At the present time, the Boulevard and its continuations are known by six different names, namely, the Boulevard, the Grand Boulevard, the Western Boulevard, Eleventh avenue, the Boulevard Lafayette, and the Kingsbridge road.

The Kingsbridge road is frequently described in conveyances as Broadway; the fact of having so many names for what is only one thoroughfare tends to much greater confusion.

The proposed change to Broadway, if effected, would not only make greater simplicity, but in the opinion of the best judges would increase the value of real estate all along the line.

It would be much easier to remember the numbers on Broadway and to get accustomed to them, than it now is to do so under separate names.

I think I am quite safe in saying that every newspaper in New York advocates the proposed change of name.

A petition was filed with the Municipal Assembly which contained nearly two thousand signatures of tenants, store-keepers, residents, and property-owners along the entire West Side.

The proposed measure was passed unanimously by the Board of Aldermen and also by the Council, I therefore beg to request that you will permit it to become a law, by giving the bill your signature.

PROPOSED EXTENSION OF SIXTH AVENUE.

With this we publish a sketch of the lines of the proposed extension of 6th avenue, from Minetta lane to Canal street. As stated last week, there is a map on file in the office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan, in the City Hall, which shows the property proposed to be taken for this improvement by metes and bounds. Below we give the locations of the several parcels included in this map, stating whether the whole or part is to be taken, and the assessed valuations of each parcel when given. In most cases where the assessed valuations are not given, only a small part of the parcel indicated will be taken if the improvement is carried out, and on the lines now proposed. It will be noticed that, as a whole, judged by the assessed valuations, the property marked out for condemnation is of poor quality, there being but few large or modern buildings included. On the other hand, a considerable amount of inner property now of poor value will be made to front on the extended thoroughfare, and be benefited accordingly, to say nothing of the extended benefits folfowing the connection of the present retail section of 6th avenue with the wholesale district south of Canal street:

THE PERFECT ELECTRIC LIGHTER.

There has been, for a long time past, a need for a lighting device which, while offering all the advantages of matches, eliminates the inconvenience and danger which attend the use of them. There has recently been placed on the market a lighting apparatus, known as the "Matchless Electric Lighter," which is a model of convenience as well as taste, and which in cost of installation and maintenance is more economical than any means of supplying temporary light that has yet been offered for general use. As will be seen from the illustration the lighter consists of a torch of ornamental metal work which when not in use rests in a socket held in a porcelain holder. The torch is ignited, as it is drawn from the socket, by an electric spark produced by the contact of the tip of the torch with two "contact points" in the socket.

The torch has an asbestos packing, and no liquid is present in any part of it. The chief merit of this device lies in the safety it insures against fires incurred by the dropping of half-lit matches, for the torch is extinguished when returned to the socket, or, even if it were dropped carelessly the weight of the ornamental end of the handle is sufficient to keep the burning tip at least an inch from the surface on which it falls, and, furthermore, the quantity of gas present in the wick at any time is hardly sufficient to allow the torch to burn one minute. Returning the torch to the lighter will in a moment render it again available for use. The statistics of fire insurance companies, demonstrate conclusively that about two-thirds of all fires are caused by the careless discarding of matches, and as this lighter renders the use of matches unnecessary, one of the principal causes of fire is thereby eliminated. In addition to this, marring of furniture, wall surfaces and wood caused by the scratching of matches is prevented.

The lighter may be operated from an ordinary electric light circuit; either alternating or direct up to a voltage of 240, in which case an attachment plug and cord are furnished, or, if more convenient, the apparatus can be attached directly to the electric light circuit; or it can be operated quite as easily from an ordinary electric gas lighting circuit. If, however, a circuit is not available the lighter can be operated by one pair of dry batteries and an ordinary gas-lighting spark coil. Any number of lighters can be connected on one circuit or set of batteries. With the lighter is furnished a complete diagram of connections, so that any one may successfully install the apparatus. The cost of installation is extremely low, and the amount spent yearly in its maintenance is a trifle more than one cent a month, as the batteries will last, with ordinary usage, a year or more, and a teaspoonful of naptha poured into the torch will suffice for several weeks. The lighter, either in the style of a bracket or a portable stand can be made in any design in plain or decorated china. It is adaptable to use in smoking rooms, hotels, apartment houses, private residences, office buildings, palace cars, etc., and in view of its security against fire is especially desirable in yachts, and vessels of all kinds, and its adaptability to marine work is clearly demonstrated by the complete satisfaction resulting from the installing of a series of forty of these lighters on Mr. Howard Gould's yacht "Niagara." Marine architects and ship builders are specifying and recommending the use of this safety device on vessels, and the United States Navy Department is considering the installing of safety lighters on all United States battleships.

The fact that it is endorsed by the Board of Fire Underwriters and the Fire Department makes it doubly advantageous where insurance is carried. The construction of the lighter is warranted electrically and mechanically perfect, and will not get out of order.

The fact that Stanley & Patterson, of Nos. 32 and 34 Frankfort street, New York, an old established and conservative electric manufacturing company, are placing this device on the market is a sufficient guarantee that the article will prove in every way what it is represented to be.

Architects and builders will be promptly furnished with samples of this device or any data as to the cost and construction upon request, either by telephone or letter. The lighters may be purchased of all electrical and hardware dealers in the United States.

BROKERS' COMMISSIONS—A NEW THEORY

Hitherto it has been understood that if a broker, having real estate to dispose of for the owner, brought one "ready, able and willing" to consummate an agreement, he was entitled to his commission. This idea had the sanction and support of decisions of the courts of last resort. Recently decisions have been reported from the courts of early resort which, if sustained by the Court of Appeals will altogether upset this idea and make a commission uncollectible if by reason of honest error of the broker's principal, the intending buyer refuses to consummate the deal.

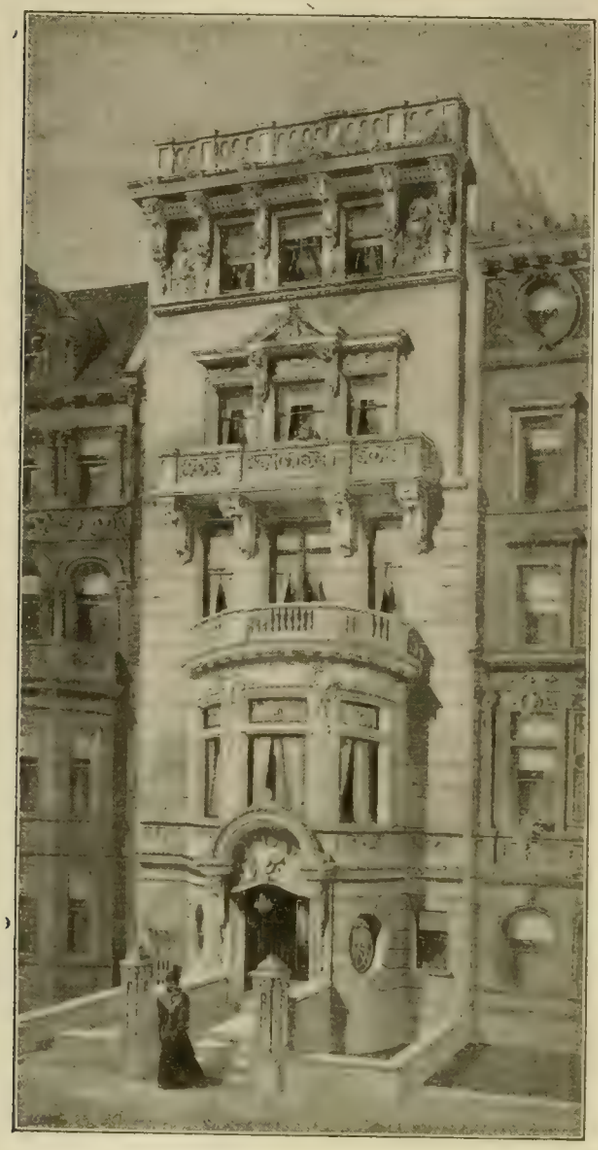
This statement is based mainly upon the decision reported to have been rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of Diamond v. Hartley. In this case, it is stated by Mr. Charles Putzel, an attorney who has taken interest in the matter because it affects cases now in his charge: "The broker failed to recover his commission by reason of there being no enforceable agreement between the purchaser and seller. The latter believed he had a 25-foot lot, on which his building stood, but before the execution of the agreement (the agreement having been approved), it was discovered that there was a shortage of about 5 inches. There was no fraud in this case, for the seller gave the description in the contract just as he found it in his own deed. The purchaser desired a reduction in the purchase price because of the shortage. The seller refused to make any allowance or deduction of any kind, and the sale fell through. The broker sued for his commission, and failed, although he had produced a man who was "able and willing" to take the premises at the price and upon the terms of the seller. The court intimated that the seller was not bound by the description, and if his attorney made an error he was not bound thereby for a misdescription, as he was to sell the property in its generic terms. The court laid down the rule that a misdescription in the dimensions does not affect the contract between the parties. That the broker, therefore, failed to bring the minds of the buyer and the seller to an agreement for the sale. That there must be evidence of the parties to the transaction so as to bind them in an agreement, also that there must be some benefit shown to have been obtained by the seller. Again, that the purchaser must have placed himself in such a position so that he could be compelled to perform or that damages could be recovered for non-performance."

TESTS MADE UPON FIREPROOF WOOD TREATED BY THE ELECTRIC FIREPROOFING PROCESS.

There has just been completed by the Department of Tests (the Stevens Institute of Technology) an elaborate investigation on the non-flammable wood, which as we see from the daily papers, has just been adopted by the English Admiralty for the new warships, and is also to be used for the new yacht which is building for Queen Victoria.

It may interest our readers to know that this wood has been used in the construction of several warships of the U. S. Navy, and also in the fittings of several of the tall buildings recently erected in New York. Its non-flammable character is absolute. Fine shavings made from it may be piled on a table and then cannot be ignited by burning a whole box of matches under them. A block of this wood placed in a bed of hot coal, slowly decomposes or distills, leaving a black residue, but "goes out" as soon as it is removed from the fire.

The questions to be determined by the Department of Tests were:



1st. What, if any, reduction of strength was caused in the wood by fire-proofing treatment?

2d. What, if any, reduction in strength would result from exposing the wood to successive wetting and drying?

3d. How uniform and thorough was the impregnation of the wood by the chemical salts with which it was treated?

4th. What were the effects upon the electric properties of the wood?

To answer these various questions hundreds of mechanical, chemical and electric tests have been made and have been going on during the last eight months, under the charge of Professors Jacobus, Stillman and Geyer, with results which we feel at liberty to state in general terms are satisfactory as showing that the treated wood is not so affected as to interfere with its use as a material for such constructions as it is desirable to use it in, and that no deterioration, as the result of exposure to atmospheric changes, need be feared. This work has been done for the British Non-Flammable Wood Co., of London.—"The Stevens Indicator."

THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, or "the Equitable," as it is more familiarly called, is one of the oldest and largest organizations doing a life insurance business in this country. The volume of its annual business, as well as its financial strength, may be seen in the statement published by the society in our business pages. None of the life companies has as yet raised the amount of its insurance outstanding at any one date to $1,000,000,000, but that of the Equitable comes nearest to it, and, as it will require only about 10% of the new business done last year, will undoubtedly next year be well over it. The statements and figures contained in this society's annual statement are of extreme interest and importance, not only to people already insured by the society, but also to those who may be contemplating this most judicious form of provision for the future. They are: Outstanding assurance, Dec. 31, 1898, $987,157,134; assurance applied for in 1898, $198,362,617; examined and declined, $30,318,878; new assurance issue, $168,043,739; income in 1898, $50,249,286.78; assets Dec. 31, 1898, $258,369,298.54; assurance fund ($198,898,259) and all other liabilities ($2,160,550.27), $201,058,809.27; surplus, $57,310.489.27; paid policy-holders in 1898, $24,020,523.42. Henry B. Hyde is the President of the society, and J. W. Alexander the Vice-President.

Both in volume and character, the business of the private sales' market this week has been well up to the satisfactory average maintained since the beginning of the year. The dealing in improved realty has been well distributed and of a miscellaneous nature, flats and dwellings predominating. Among the mercantile properties that have changed ownership may be mentioned the 4-story building No. 1164 Broadway, the 3-story business building at Nos. 140 and 141 West street; and the old U. S. Appraisers' Stores, covering the block bounded by Washington, West, Hubert and Laight streets. As regards unimproved property, the activity in high-priced lots shows no sign of diminution, while the same holds true of suburban land.

An obvious inference from this continued activity in choice uptown building sites is that speculative builders and building loan operators are turning their attention in larger measure than heretofore to the construction of elevator apartments. During the past month plans were filed for fourteen flats, the average estimated cost of which was over $120,000, in West End avenue, the Boulevard, and Riverside Drive. Meantime many similar projections affecting these and other select residential streets, but which have not yet reached the Building Department, were announced in the news columns of the Record and Guide. The growing partiality of speculative builders for operations of this class is no doubt attributable, in part, to the abundance of cheap money. It is, further, accounted for by the general improvement in industrial conditions. Increasing prosperity invariably finds expression in a more pretentious style of living, and the summer renting season disclosed an excellent demand for the better grades of residential housing. But the popularity of the elevator apartment with speculative builders is, perhaps, chiefly to be regarded as an indication of a growing scarcity of cheap land within the lines of transportation convenient to the centres of metropolitan activity—the City Hall, the shopping district, the theatres and places of amusement. That the theory of an excessive supply of 5-story flats does not deserve all the importance which has been attached to it is evident from the circumstance that, while the production of elevator flats is on the increase below, say, 125th street, there is an equally marked increase of activity in the production of non-elevator flats north of that parallel, particularly in Bronx Borough. In other words, activity in the construction of the average 5-story flat is gradually descending to the less expensive land at the periphery of the strictly urban residential centre. Other things being approximately equal, especially in the matter of transportation facilities, the speculative builder prefers to devolop the cheaper of two neighboring parcels of land. The improvement being practically determined by the cost of the site, less capital is required to develop the cheaper parcel, while a purchaser is more readily found for inexpensive than for expensive improvements. Four years ago the only considerable section of undeveloped cheap land remaining below 125th street was the district immediately north of the park, between 110th and 125th streets, Morningside and Park avenues. Consequently, this section has been the chief seat of the extraordinary building movement of the intervening four years. From January, 1895, to August, 1898, 744 flats and 209 dwellings were projected in the district, aggregating in estimated cost $22,765,700. The flats were, with few exceptions, 5-story structures. It is true that the rapid development of this section has proved more or less detrimental to the antiquated flat house neighborhoods of the upper East Side. But in the new district itself rents are high, and tenants plentiful. The improvements which have been made during the past four years have caused the price of land to rise from 25 to 30 per cent. There remains about 1,000 vacant lots. These comprise a majority of the most desirable sites in the district, by reason of the tendency of builders to develop the cheaper land first. Much of the unimproved land is still offered for sale at prices which will insure a profit to builders of 5-story flats. But an increasing portion of it is held at figures which preclude profit on improvements of this nature. It is this circumstance which is compelling the erection of 6 and 7-story elevator flats, with frontages of 28 or 30 feet, which are being projected in the district in increasing number. And the tendency toward larger and costlier buildings noted in this particular locality is, as a matter of course, more pronounced in respect of higher-priced land elsewhere in the city.

The total number of transactions given below is 54, with considerations given in 6, and amounted to $947,200. Corresponding figures for last week were 103, 16 and $782,750, respectively.

The offerings in the Real Estate Salesroom this week were, with few exceptions, connected with foreclosure events. Of the 31 parcels scheduled at forced sale, one was withdrawn, and six adjourned; of the 24 sold, 13 were purchased by other than plaintiffs. There were only two voluntary sales—one by William Kennelly, and one by Richard V. Harnett. The three vacant lots, 25x90, in St. Ann's avenue, near 156th street, offered by the former, were purchased by Frank Walker, of the Petty, Soulard & Walker Realty Co., at $3,250 each; while three lots at the corner of Woodruff avenue and Waterloo place were bid in at $3,350 each. Seven lots in 99th street, near Park avenue, offered by Mr. Harnett, were withdrawn at $5,950 each. The real temper of the auction market, however, is to be sought in the business announced to take place in the next few weeks, rather than in that achieved during the week just closed. The announcements of many important sales are already out, and there are rumors of others, including one affecting downtown property, valued at $1,500,000.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. call attention in our business pages to the auction sale of the 3-story and basement, high stoop, brownstone dwelling, 18x57x108½, No. 254 West 88th street, on Tuesday next, 14th inst. Maps, etc., can be had of the auctioneers, at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

Wm. M. Ryan announces the sale at auction of a valuable parcel on the northeast corner of 3d avenue and 72d street, on Wednesday next, the 15th inst. Though comprising two numbers on the avenue and one on the street this property will be offered as an entirety. The sale is in partition, and to effect a division of interests in the estate. Terms are announced as very liberal. Particulars will be found in our business pages, or can be obtained at the office of the auctioneer, No. 111 Broadway.

The much heralded partition sale of Manhattan realty by the Amos R. Eno Estate is announced in our business pages. It will take place on the 21st inst., and Peter F. Meyer will be the auctioneer. The offices of the executors of the estate are at No. 111 Broadway, and those of its attorneys, Lord, Day & Lord, at No. 120 Broadway. At either of these places books, maps and terms of sale may be obtained. In all thirty-six parcels are to be offered, and while they do not include the very choicest holdings of the estate, they are all more or less valuable and particularly attractive from the investor's point of view. This list is specially commended to the attention of would-be buyers. It goes without saying that the sale will be auction event of the season. The auctioneer's address is No. 111 Broadway.

Attention is called to the offering of a plot of 22 lots on Webster and Brook avenues and 167th street, announced in our business pages, by A. B. Kight. They are ready for building, and the buyer can secure a building loan if he so desires.

The dwelling No. 41 West 72d street, near Central Park West, is illustrated on another page. This is one of two new high-class residences just completed by Architect A. B. Kight. They are in the French and Italian Renaissance style of architecture, and very carefully planned and constructed of the best materials. The houses are each 25x72, with butler's pantry extensions 12.6x 16.6 on lots 102.2 deep.

We will pay a liberal price for copies of The Record and Guide Nos. 253, 930, 1454, 1475 and 1556, delivered at our office in good condition.

Gentleman, thoroughly experienced in every branch of, and well known in Real Estate, desires position. Address "JAMISON," ca[illegible] James Bailey, 1489 Broadway.

Ziegler, Benjamin Richards, J. Romaine Brown, Frederick Wagner, Wm. J. Roome, Marx Ottinger, Henry Wilson, James W. Pringle and Hiram Merritt.

The Sinking Fund Commission has directed the Comptroller to sell Nos. 49, 51 and 53 Ridge street. The property was condemned for use of the Fire Department in 1895. Subsequently the Department found it did not need it, and the Commission was asked to transfer it to the Board of Education; but the Corporation Counsel being of opinion that there was no authority in law for the transfer of property from one department to another, the Commission ordered it sold.

The lot, 75x71, at the southwest corner of Wooster and West 3d streets, sold last week, was bought by A. S. Kalisher and S. Weil in 1893 for $76,000. It was traded by them with Peter Herter for two 5-story tenements at the northeast corner of Rivington and Cannon streets, the flats being subject to a mortgage of $70,000, and the Wooster street property to a mortgage of $74,000. Mr. Herter improved the property, which was recently destroyed by fire. The price reported in the present sale is "between $100,000 and $115,000." Ogden & Clarkson and Maurice E. Strauss were the brokers.

The State Board of Railroad Commissioners has approved applications of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and the Broadway and Seventh Avenue Railroad Company for a change of motive power to the underground current of electricity for lines upon the following streets and avenues: 96th street, from Lexington to 1st avenue, thence through and along 1st avenue to 93d street; thence through and along 93d street to Avenue A, and along Avenue A to a point near the entrance to the Astoria Ferry; also upon 3d street and 4th street, between West Broadway and Wooster street.

F. C. Moore, Chairman of the Water Supply Committee of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, advocated before an Aldermanic Committee, on Wednesday, the salt water supply for the protection of the downtown section of the city from fire. He said that by laying mains for it in the territory between Chambers and Canal streets, the dry-goods district would be protected at a cost of $84,000. The new dry-goods district, he said, could be protected in a like manner for $60,000. George A. Stanton, who said he represented a number of insurance men, opposed the scheme, as did Jacob Levy, representing a number of East Side property-owners, and Willim J. Fanning, counsel for the Hotel Association. The hearing was adjourned until March 2.

An interesting transfer is that of the "Beard" building, Nos. 120 and 122 Liberty street, through to Nos. 123 and 125 Cedar street. It is a 12-story office building, and was one of three properties the Metropolitan Life gave in trade for the "German-American" building, at the southwest corner of Nassau and Liberty streets, in March of last year. It was first transferred to James A. McMillin, to whom the Metropolitan Life loaned $575,000, and on the same day by McMillin to the New York Realty Co. In July it was transferred by the New York Realty Co. to Juliet M. Hotchkiss; in September, by Juliet M. Hotchkiss to William E. Hebberd, and, finally, by the latter to its original owner, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Just previous to each transfer, except the last, the building was reported sold again.

Geo. R. Read's amended and accepted offer to the Sinking Fund Commission, of offices for the city's use in the Ivins Syndicate Building, on Park Row, was contained in a letter stating: "Herewith I beg to hand you plan of the 14th floor of the Park Row Building, showing the prices marked for each office, which contains approximately 6,845 square feet, with a total rent of $12,010, at an average of $1.75 per foot. We make this rate with the understanding that the city will take seven floors, each an entire floor. The rate above quoted is from the 14th to the 17th floors, inclusive; for the 18th and the floors above that, which contain approximately 6,955 square feet, the rate would be $192.50 additional per floor. Where a part only of any of the above-mentioned floors is taken, the rate will be $2 for the offices immediately fronting on Park Row, and $1.75 for all other offices. It is understood that in addition to either of the rates above mentioned the city will pay for such space as will be added to the offices by reason of the removal of partitions, at the same rate as named for such offices, and also will pay for such parts of the corridors as shall be used for office room, or corridors inclosed with its offices, at the rate of $1.50 per foot. I also hand you plan for the 18th floor. It is understood that the landlord will, on a lease of five years, remove such partitions as may be designated and re-erect others in their stead, and that the leases now in existence for the departments which will occupy space in this building will be assumed by the landlord." The figures first quoted for the 14th floor, as a basis for the whole transaction, were $1.82 a square foot, or a total of $12,490, a reduction of 7c. in the square foot, and of $480 in the total.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND BROKERS

H. L. Phelps, of No. 216 Willis avenue, near 137th street, has made a specialty of Bronx Borough real estate for several years. He has established a large collection business, and takes entire charge of property. His specialty, however, is the management of operations for speculators, and his office is the headquarters for many operators and builders.

The brokerage and agency firm of Stabler & Smith has been changed to Stabler, Randolph & Co., Mr. Walter E. Stabler, G. B. F. Randolph and L. M. Smith comprising the firm. Their office will continue as heretofore at No. 672 Columbus avenue, near 93d street, For the greater convenience of their customers, they have opened an office downtown, at No. 31 Nassau street, Bank of Commerce Building.

Herbert A. Sherman, who for the last fourteen years was with Richard V. Harnett & Co., announces that he has taken the offices in the Astor Building, 9 Pine street, on the ground floor, lately occupied by Francis T. Underhill, whom he has succeeded in his real estate business, and office plant. Mr. Sherman's long experience in all branches of real estate should ensure him success. He will act as broker, auctioneer, or appraiser; loan money on bond and mortgage, and make a specialty of collecting rents and taking entire charge of estates, and, as he says, "Getting good tenants and keeping them." His telephone is 4786 Cortlandt.

The week in Brooklyn realty shows continued interest in farm properties in the outlying wards. A number of deals which were in course of consummation were prevented by the stormy weather. The sales reported below were all put through last week before the ground was covered with snow. With the opening of spring it is expected that many farm properties will be bought up and placed on the market. A noteworthy fact in the dealings in this class of properties is that many of the purchasers represent out-of-town capital. There have been several sales already reported in the Record and Guide to Manhattan operators, and this week the purchasers are syndicates from other cities, notably Boston and Philadelphia. It has been a subject of remark among real estate men that outside operators seem to realize the ultimate value of such properties better than Brooklyn capitalists themselves.

The Coney Island Jockey Club of Manhattan has purchased a portion of the Ryder farm, of nearly an acre. This piece is situated near the other holdings of the club, and was purchased to square up the lines on Avenue V and Neck road. The Jockey Club now owns a large tract in this section which they are holding for investment purposes. Woodlawn Park, belonging to Judge Cornelius Fergueson, H. Gubner and George Exstein, consisting of some thirty acres lying both sides of 22d avenue, from 64th to 69th streets, has also been sold for $7,500. The farm of Melvin Brown, adjoining Woodlawn Park on the north, has been disposed of to a Manhattan syndicate for $40,000. This farm is one of seventeen acres. The same syndicate has also purchased three and a-half acres of the George Stillwell farm in the same vicinity for $80,000. The property of S. Benjamin, formerly known as Ike Ryder's Old Homestead, has changed ownership during the week for a consideration of $6,750. This property has a 48-foot water front on Gravesend Bay, and runs back 233 feet. It is on the corner of 27th avenue. In years past the Old Homestead was famous for its fish dinners. Out-of-town capital was representated in the purchase of the Stephen Wyckoff farm, which went to a Philadelphia firm for $35,000. This farm consists of 23 acres on Kings Highway and Ocean avenue. It is stated that the purchasers will at once improve the property and place it on the market in the shape of building lots.

The following important rule of the Supreme Court in Kings County was adopted January 28, 1899:

"All referees or officers hereafter making sale of real estate situate in the County of Kings, or of an interest or estate therein, pursuant to any judgment, decree, order or direction of the court, shall, in addition to complying with the requirements of Section 1678 of the Code, cause to be published with the notice of sale a diagram of the property to be sold or in which an interest is to be sold, showing the street or avenue upon which such property is located, its street or avenue number, if any, and specifying the number of feet to the nearest cross street or avenue, and also, where such sale is made to satisfy any lien or charge upon the real property sold, the approximate amount of such lien or charge shall be stated in a note annexed to such notice of sale; and where there are taxes, assessments or other liens upon said property which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the surplus money, or which are to be paid by the referee, the referee or officer making such sale shall also state, at the foot of such notice, the approximate amount of such lien or charge.

"An unintentional error, however, in such diagram or in the amount of the lien or charge for which the property shall be sold, or the amount of such taxes or other lien to be allowed to the purchaser upon the sale, shall not invalidate the sale, nor authorize the court to relieve the purchaser, or to order a new sale.

"This rule shall take effect on the first day of March, 1899."

This rule is similar to that adopted by the Supreme Court in New York County last year, and which has been found to work quite satisfactorily there.

The purchase by the People's Trust Company of the office building No. 181 Montague street, directly opposite the present quarters of the company, is an item of importance to property-owners of this street. This building is a three-story brownstone structure, situated on the north side of the street, 50 feet east of Clinton street. It has a frontage of 25 feet and a depth of 100 feet. Originally built as a dwelling-house, it has been remodeled and used for office purposes. Montague street on this block has been used for business purposes for many years, and since the erection of the Franklin Trust Company Building, on the southwest corner of Montague and Clinton streets, many of the houses west of Clinton street have been altered for business purposes. The $70 worth of stamps on the deed to the Trust Company shows a consideration of some $70,000. On the books this property is rated at $40,000 for purposes of taxation. Though no official statement to that effect could be obtained, the impression seems to be general that the Trust Company has purchased the building with a view of using the same for its own offices. There is also a rumor that the present building will be torn down, and a fine new office building erected on the site. Should this rumor prove correct, such a building would materially enhance values on this street.

The records of the Register's office show that the mortgage of $60,000 made by the Kings County Trust Company to help purchase the Zip's Casino property for A. I. Namm, bears 4½ per cent. interest as to $50,000, and 5 per cent. as to the remaining $10,000. On a loan of 75 per cent. of the selling price this low interest indicates a strong faith in the future value of this property.

The House of Representatives has passed the bill authorizing the Treasury Department to set aside $30,000 for the use of the Brooklyn Post-Office. As stated recently in the Record and Guide, it is the intention of the Brooklyn Postmaster to use this money in the purchase of the small brick building on Washington street, adjoining the Post-Office Building on the north. If, however, the Eliza Low estate, which owns this property, will not sell at a reasonable figure, the money will be used in other post-office improvements. The extension of the mailing floor out to Adams street is another improvement contemplated. In case of a purchase it is the intention of the department to alter the building so as to allow the entry of mail cars direct. This change would do away with the present curve on Johnson street. The bill authorizing the setting aside of this sum will soon be introduced in the Senate.

Through Geo. E. Lovett & Co., contracts were signed during the week for the transfer to a Boston syndicate of farm property belonging to the estate of the late William Post. This property consists of over 127 acres, and includes the farms of N. R. Stillwell, Thomas Rice, the Lake estate, and the holdings of J. S. & H. Ryder. On the south it reaches the Kings Highway, running to a point midway between 22d avenue and Avenue O on the north. Its eastern and western boundaries are Gravesend avenue and West 9th street, respectively. On the north it also adjoins Woodlawn Park. It is stated that this entire tract was held in the Stillwell and Ryder families for over one hundred years, until its purchase about seven years ago by William Post. The latter paid $1,200 per acre. The price realized by his estate is given out at over $350,000 for the whole tract, making the figure, per acre, about $2,750. The exact selling price cannot be learned until the deed of transfer is recorded, but if it is approximately the figure given, the estate has made a very handsome profit. This tract has as yet no streets cut through, but it is the intention of the syndicate to make all the necessary improvements in the way of grading, paving, sewering, etc. It is also said that the syndicate will market the property on an entirely new plan, though just what this plan is has not yet been given out.

MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—The cold weather has prevented the use of brick in exposed positions, so that the demand is quiet and nothing is arriving. Stocks covered on barges and held in the open market are limited to few barges. Nearly all arrivals having been sold just previous to the cold weather, the market is at present at a standstill. There is plenty of stock ready for shipment at Haverstraw and the up-river points of manufacture. Prices are steady at $6.25@$6.75 for special and first grade; commons and Pales are $4.00. No New Jerseys are coming to the market at present. There are none in first hands in this market. Manufacturers are not disposed to make prices to arrive and the market price is about $6.00@$6.25.

LIME.—There is no Rockland in first hands, and there have been no arrivals in the past three weeks. Dealers are unable to meet the requirements of the market, and business is at a standstill. Manufacturers are still unable to make any prices to arrive in view of the absolute uncertainty of arrivals. Last sales were at 70c.@75c. for commons, and 80c.@85c. for finishing. Owing to the lack of shipping facilities and the general tied up condition of the market several kilns have gone out and only a comparative few are on fire. Trade in State lime is seasonably fair, and prices are unchanged at 70c. for common and 90c. for Jointa.

LATH.—There are no lath here in first hands, and the number on the way is very small and is entirely inadequate to the present requirements of the market. Manufacturers are asking $2.25 to arrive, and last sales were made at $2.10, this price being paid this week for a full cargo.

CEMENT.—Rosedale is in seasonably good demand. All stock that is needed by dealers to meet the needs of the market is at present being shipped by rail, as navigation in canals is closed. Prices for standard brands are steady at 90c. and $1.00. A very active spring trade is reasonably expected. Trade in domestic Portland is seasonably good. Manufacturers are not pushing trade, feeling certain of a brisk demand in the early spring. Prices for standard brands are quoted at about $2.00. The inquiry for imported Portland is very good for the season of the year, and is decidedly better than at this time last year. Arrivals are occasional and small. The feeling for an advance in values on the opening of the spring season continues strong. The orders for spring delivery are exceedingly large and a large volume of business is anticipated by some dealers in spite of the increased demand for European cement at home and from foreign countries besides the United States.

NAILS.—Prices in nails, both wire and cut, have advanced 5c. on a keg since last week. This is occasioned by the steady and heavy demand both local and general, due to extensive buying of dealers who are taking stock in anticipation or a further rise in values. Prices for wire nails are $1.60 f. o. b. Pittsburg, with a rebate of 5c. on 1,000-keg lots; $1.75 on dock, New York, in single carload lots, and $1.85 small lots out of New York stores. Cut nails are $1.30 f. o. b. Pittsburg, without concessions; $1.45 on dock, New York, and $1.55 small lots out of New York stores.

GLASS.—Trade in glass is seasonably active, with the assortment on hand sufficient for the present needs of the market. Discounts remain the same at 80 for Plate, 80-10 for French window and 80-20 for American window.

OIL.—Seed being still at about $1.19 for cash Chicago, the market for oil is firm, and prices are steady. The demand from the standpoint of the manufacturer is all that can be expected at this time of year and a considerable output of stocks in the next few weeks is anticipated. Holders are not seeking trade, being satisfied for the present with the existing volume of business in consideration of the expected increase in the demand in the near future. The general tendency of the market is toward a stiffening if not an actual advance. There is no out-of-town oil to be obtained under 40c., except under extraordinary conditions, and city oil is selling for 41c. for 5 bbl. lots and 42c. for smaller quantities. Boiled oil is 43c. and 44c., and Calcutta is at 54c.

PAINTS AND VARNISHES.—Although the demand for paints and varnishes being affected by the unfavorable weather has been quiet during the week, the prices on component materials and those incidental to manufacture are either advancing or stiff, so that prices are firm with a tendency to advance.

LEAD.—Lead continues to occupy a strong position. Its parity with the price of raw materials is inconsistently low, and if general conditions continue the same an advance in white lead, red lead and litharge is reasonably liable to occur in the near future. Prices on the above products in kegs quoted by the National Lead Co., subject to their usual terms f. o. b. New York, are as follows: In lots less than 500 lbs. 6c. net; 500 lbs. and over, 5½c. net; dry white lead in bbls., ½c. per lb. less than price in kegs; red lead and litharge in bbls. and ½ bbls., ¼c. per lb. less than prices in kegs.

NAVAL STORES.—Trade in spirits of turpentine was quiet with values showing a decline of 1 cent over last week's quotations. The inquiry was limited to a jobbing trade on a basis of 45c. for machines. Moderate sales were made during the week, mostly to varnish men, which aggregated several hundred barrels, and a better trade is anticipated in the same direction during the coming week. The southern market is at about 42c.; little is held in first hands, and the trade in futures for summer deliveries has been very heavy. These are mainly for export, and a feeling prevails that the market for the coming season will not go so low as it did last year. Local values closed steady but quiet at 44½c. for southern, and 45c. for machine. Tar was steady and quiet and featureless at $1.70 and $1.75 for regulars and $3.10 and $3.15 for oil barrels. Pitch was steady and quiet at $1.70 and $1.75.

LUMBER AND HARDWOODS.—Stocks are gradually getting lower, and prices in general are rising. Values are better in the West than they are in this market, as it is reported that better prices are offered by Western firms for stocks at the mills than are offered in this city. White pine has advanced from $2.00 to $3.00 over prices of a month ago, and stocks are scarce in the West and are none too plentiful here. Poplar is scarcer than ever and is selling for about $1.00 more than last month, with a strong tendency to go still higher. Stocks in white pine and poplar are finding a very easy market everywhere in the country. Yellow pine is in excellent demand with prices proportionately low. The spruce and North Carolina mills are still working under pressure to fill orders for spring delivery, and several have sold their white pine and poplar cuts for the coming year. Plain and quartered oak find an easy market at firm prices and show a tendency to advance. Ash and elm are in good demand, with prices firm. Stocks in oak, ash and elm are light. Business in general is assuming proportions that have not been reached for several years past, and everything points to a year of plentiful stocks and fair prices.

The tenth annual meeting of the Building Trades' Club will be held on Monday, February 20—February 13, the usual date, falling on a legal holiday.

Comptroller Coler, at the request of the Sinking Fund Commission, is preparing an estimate of the cost of a new building suited to the requirements of the Health Department.

Nathan Langer, architect, now at No. 276 Madison street, will go into the recently-completed Germania Bank Building, Nos. 190 to 194 Bowery, on or about March 1st.

Charles D. Kellogg, Secretary of the preliminary committee in charge of the proposed women's hotel, reports that about $70,000 of the stock has been taken, and that from $50,000 to $75,000 additional is in sight, and will probably be subscribed within a few days. As soon as three-fourths of the proposed capital stock of $400,000 is taken the company will be incorporated.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the New York Zoological Society held this week, it was announced that new subscriptions had raised the building fund of the society to $128,000. The committee approved the plans for the antelope house, and directed its immediate erection. Work on the foundation of the monkey-house was also ordered to be commenced, and the building will progress as fast as funds are received.

The annual dinner of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Board of Trade will be given at the Hoffman House on February 22d, and promises to excel all previous efforts of the organization. Governor Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to be present, and other distinguished men will respond to toasts. Maurice F. Holahan, President of the Board of Public Improvements, will respond to the toast of "Greater New York, the Work of Consolidation and the Future of the New City." C. C. Shayne will preside. R. M. Walters is Chairman of the Banquet Committee.

TRADE NOTES.

EFFECTIVE WINDOW LIGHTING.

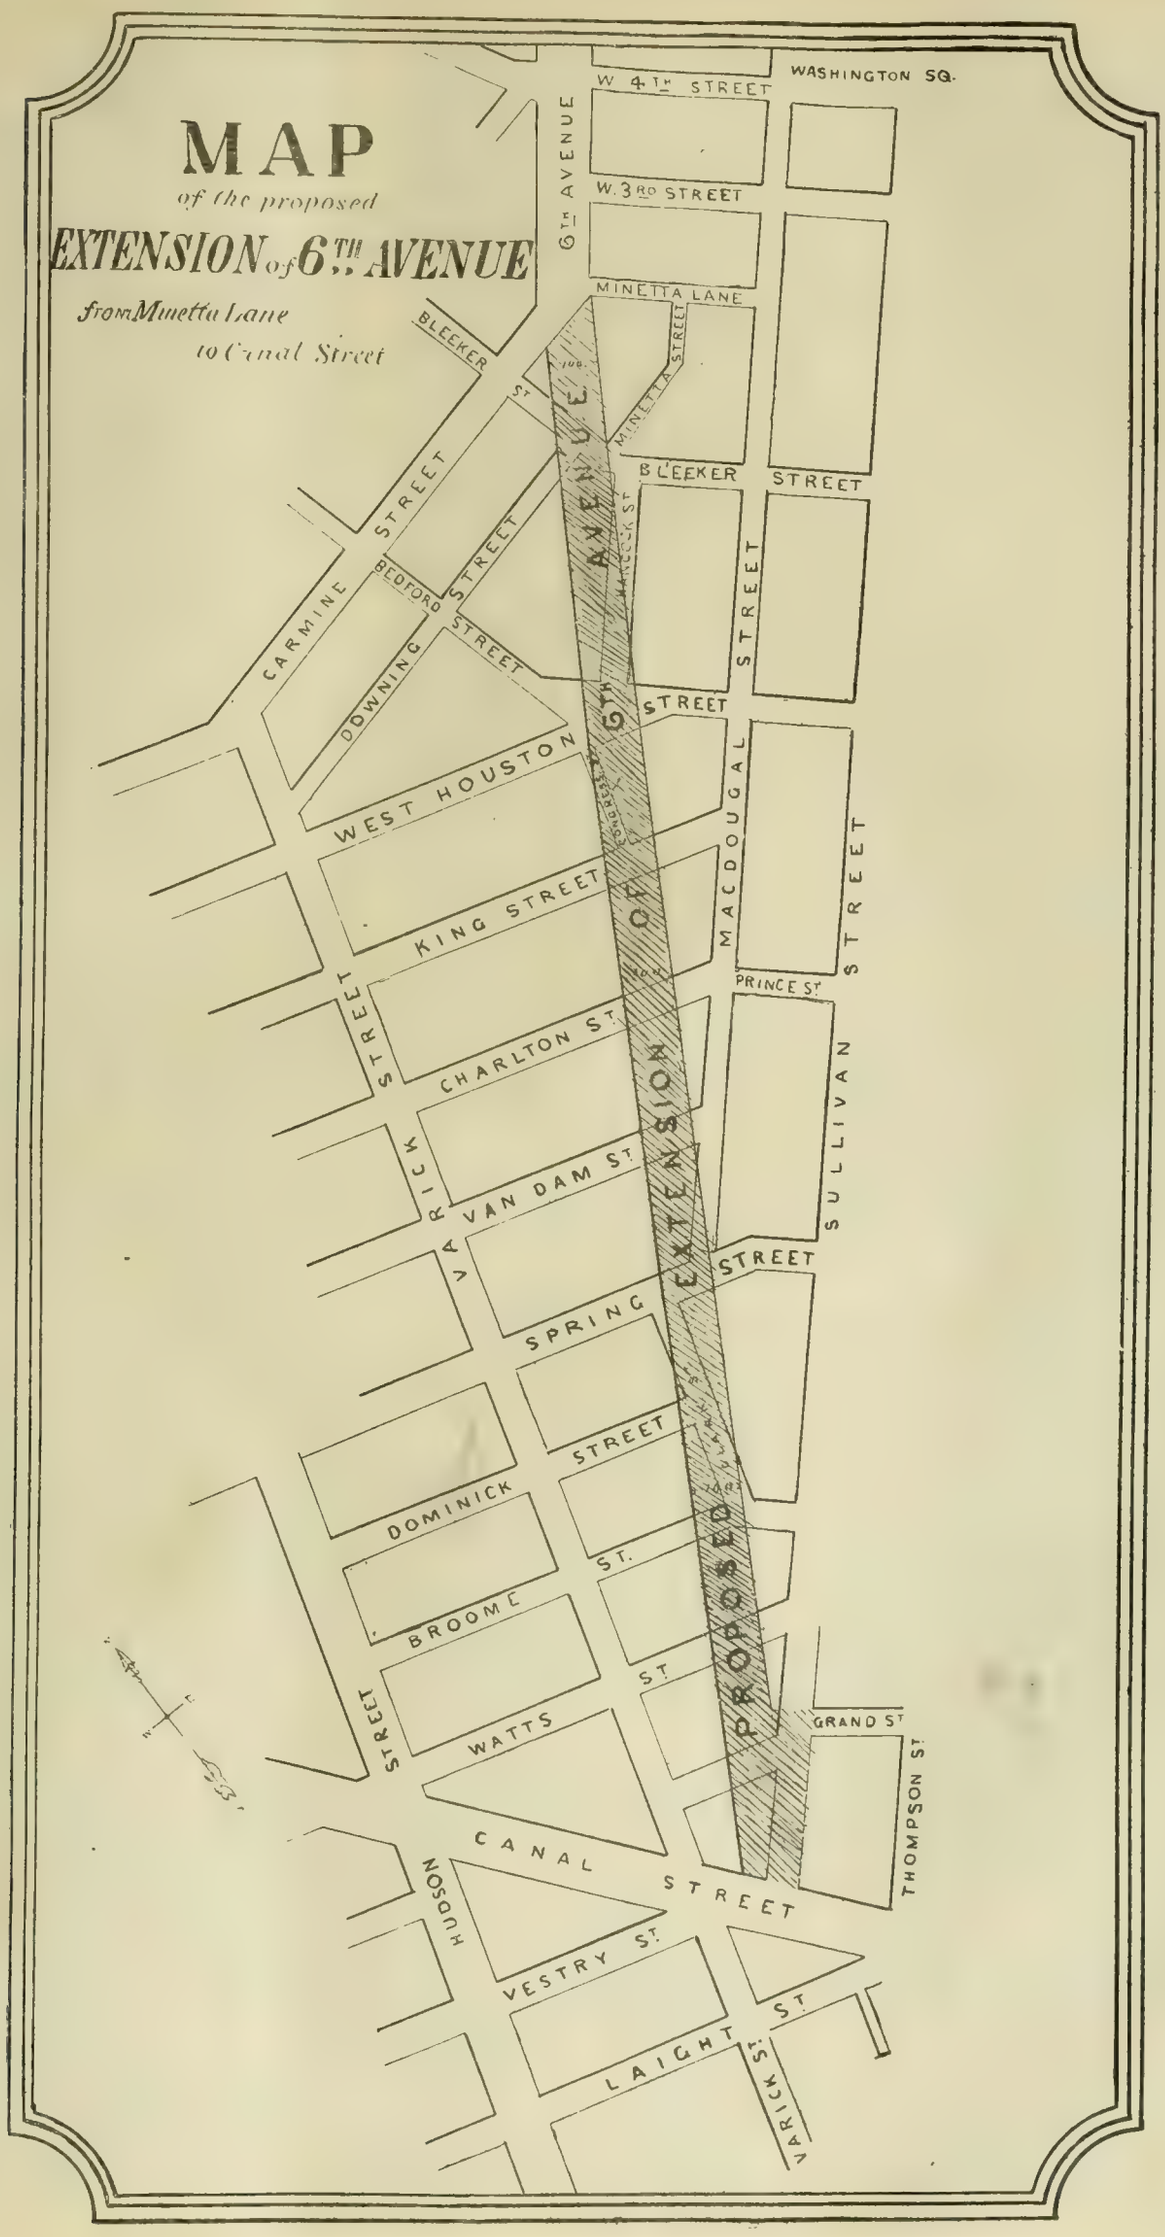
The proper lighting of show windows at night does not always receive the attention it should. In this connection it is interesting and instructive to note the difference in effect between windows lighted in the ordinary way, with incandescent lights in full view, and those lighted by the Frink store window reflector, where no lamps show, but where there is light in abundance. Oculists agree without exception that the source of light should be from behind a person, or at his side, in order that an object may be seen without the least strain on the eyes, and this cardinal principle is recognized in the Frink system. It consists of a hood-shaped reflector, running alongside the inside of the glass at the top window. Inside the reflector the lamps are placed. The shape of the reflector shields these lamps from outside view, while the angles of same reflect a brilliant light within the window. Coming thus from practically over the observer, the light falls full upon the objects before him, giving an effect obtainable by no other method of lighting. Full information concerning this reflector may be obtained by addressing I. P. Frink, 551 Pearl street, New York.

PITTSBURG PLATE GLASS CO.'S NEW QUARTERS.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will, the latter part of this month, move from their present quarters to the southeast corner of Hudson and Vandam streets. Their new warerooms will have a frontage of 142 feet on Hudson street, and 160 feet on Vandam street. The building in which they will locate was built especially for them. Therefore, their new quarters will necessarily be the most complete of their kind in the country, both as regards size and arrangement, offering every known facility for the handling of their immense and ever increasing business. The counting-room and executive offices are spacious and roomy, and fitted in the most modern manner. Adjoining the main warerooms they have had built and equipped one of the finest silvering and bevelling establishments known in the trade, consisting of a two-story building 60 feet in width by 140 feet in length, fitted with all the latest improved machinery to be run by electric power. To architects and builders in quest of plate glass for buildings, the new warerooms and offices of this company offer a pleasant place for the making of selections.

NEW YORK SHEET METAL WORKS.

Coleman & Krause, proprietors of the New York Sheet Metal Works, are now established at 257 West 33d street, near 8th avenue, with increased facilities and improved machinery. They are experienced in cornice, skylight, and metal roofing work, making a specialty of hot and cold air pipes for heating and ventilation. They will cheerfully figure on work in their line for owners, architects and builders.



Questions and Answers.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I am given a house and lot for sale by the two executors of an estate, at $20,000. I procure a buyer for it and am obliged to deal with only one executor, as the other is out of the city. After repeated offers, a price of $19,500 is agreed upon by the buyer and the one executor. An appointment is made to meet in the afternoon to sign contract at my office. An hour prior to the time, seller comes in says that his co-executor will not take the price that had been agreed upon, as he could get more for it. My buyer is willing and ready to take it at any time at the agreed price of $19,500. Is the estate indebted to me for the brokerage or only the one executor individually, or, according to these facts, am I entitled to any?

Answer.—Where a power of sale of lands is given to executors, all who qualify and are living must join in the execution of the deed. You cannot recover your commission from the estate nor from the executor who refused to accept the $19,500, but I think you have a good cause of action against the executor who agreed to accept the $19,500, personally.—Law Editor.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been on official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.
When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

MURESCO!

It is a permanently hard wall finish. Over plaster it produces soft, even tints, giving the effect of kalsomine, without the flashing, with none of its disadvan-tages. It does not rub off against the clothing; will not crack nor peel. It will kill suction, and give a smooth, soft, even coat over an old plastered wall that has been patched. It comes in fifteen artistic colors and white.

You may have a color card and full information about Muresco for the asking.

Vol. LXIII. FEBRUARY 18, 1899. No. 1,614

WHEN the stock market advanced in the face of such conditions of weather as have prevailed this week, it certainly gave the most remarkable evidence yet seen of the confidence of the investing and speculating publics. There must be great faith in the permanence of improved business when, instead of declining, as might reasonably have been expected, with one-half of the country snowed under and its progress arrested, even though it might be for a week only, prices advanced and that materially. Not only have there been substantial advances because of new and favorable developments in particular directions, but the market has given signs of broadening, speculation having reached issues that did not respond to the good feeling prevailing in the past two months. Some weeks ago we pointed out that any new upward movement would include these issues. There seems to be be a tacit determination to keep everything favorable to the fore and to overlook what is otherwise. The interruption to business and increased working costs on the railroads will appear later, but are taken to be more than fully offset by the growth of traffic confidently believed to be coming. The inability of national income to meet expenses cuts no figure in the minds of the people who make the stock market, for the reasons given here last week, and because it is taken for granted that the administration will not hesitate to avail itself of its powers to issue income bonds, or other forms of bonds, if necessary to prevent any inconvenience arising to the nation from that source. Later on, maybe, this very fact will be used against the market if it will help to secure a different object than the prime movers in it have now in view, but at the moment it is put aside as inconvenient and without influence. The fact that it renders an early reform of the currency impracticable is also coolly overloked. Back of the bull enthusiasm there is, of course, something more than a mere desire to see prices go up. The improvement in business is growing so rapidly that the setback of this week is accounted as nothing against it. The circumstances of the times enable arrangements to be made which could not have been attempted three years ago. Corporations are able to anticipate the maturing of their mortgage debts, and thereby greatly improve their financial standings; electrical developments are opening up ever larger fields of enterprise, and under the stimulus of greater demand prices are advancing pretty generally all along the line. With such influences as these at work, it is hard to dampen public confidence in corporate securities.

PRESIDENT FAURE'S death, the sad news of which has just been received, may serve to check reckless agitation in France and bring the disorderly to a sense of the peril they threaten their country with. That Europe has no guarantee of the long continuance of the present low rates for money seems to be the opinion of the financial authorities; one of the best of them says: "As to the future course of the market, there must be great uncertainty. The expansion of trade, the great development that has recently taken place in stock exchange speculation and the knowledge that a number of foreign loans are being projected, all point to a probable increased demand for money, and consequently a possible hardening of rates." Among the governmental loans recently financed are, the Prussian and German Imperial 3 per cent. loans, together amounting to $50,000,000; the Chinese 5 per cent. railway loan of $11,500,000, and the New Zealand $5,000,000 3 per cent. loan. Municipal corporations are also becoming large borrowers. Bids for an Edinburgh $5,000,000 3 per cent. loan covered double the amount asked for and ranged from 2 per cent. to 5 per cent. premium. An Argentine loan of $30,000,000, secured by the spirit tax, is also reported as placed. The French Parliament has raised the duties on foreign wines. The French shipping trade was unusually active last year, the entries of vessels laden having increased, compared with the previous year, from 14,927,131 tons, to 15,939,106 tons, and the clearances from 10,346,239 tons to 10,670,952 tons. Berlin views with much satisfaction the successful floating of the two home loans previously mentioned. The fact that a single institution, the Deutsche Bank, was in a position to promptly respond to the overtures of the Imperial and National governments, and the further fact that the needs of the two governments are now met for some time to come, creates confidence in the situation. Since, however, it is now reported that foreign investors will get from 25 to 50 per cent. of their bids, it may appear to the outsider this confidence in Germany is a little overdone. What these figures really mean is not clear, but as it is a rule among subscribers to a good loan to ask for several times more than they really wish for, on the theory of proportion a very large part of the loan must be going away from home, a fact that does not sustain the view first presented when the results of the bidding became known, that it was German investment capital that had taken the loan. Fined down, it means that a German bank was able to supply the governmental wants and to secure the profits of issuing the loan, but even the satisfaction arising from this fact is lessened by another, that the bank selected to carry out the operation is the one most in touch with British and American capital. Vienna is still sadly disturbed by the apparent impossibility of Austria and Hungary concluding a satisfactory fiscal agreement, to which is added the injury done by standing anti-Semiticism and a newly developed outcry among the German elements of the Empire against Rome.

THE VINCENT BUILDING.

OF the very recent tall buildings the Vincent, at the southeast corner of Broadway and Duane street, which is not yet completed, is the most striking and, perhaps, the most interesting. Nobody who has seen the Times building and the Union Trust and the Prudential in Newark, has any need to ask whose work it is. The authorship is quite unmistakable. The author has reverted, in the present work, to the respectable tradition of these structures, after an escapade which recalls the parable of the Prodigal Son. In this unlucid interval he has produced the second tallest building on Manhattan Island, and the very best abused, and upon the whole justly so, even though the denouncers of it have failed to take fair account of the author's conditions and limitations. It is damning the more recent edifice with praise altogether too faint to say that it is a relief and a refreshment after the other. Now, after the St. Paul, the work goes, comparatively speaking, bravely on.

There is nothing particularly trying or unusual about the problem in the case of the Vincent. The site is a parallelogram on a corner, something like 50 feet on Broadway by 100 on Duane street, and the building, "astonished at its own moderation," stops at what is now for such a site the modest altitude of sixteen stories. It is apparently built of Indiana limestone, really, of course, of a steel frame to whfich the ostensible walls are a mere screen. But it is throughout designed without reference to the actual structure, and is to be considered and judged as a structure of masonry. To say this is to say that it affords no help toward a solution of the real problem of the tall building, and that it is not to be regarded as a serious work of architecture. But that is only to say what must be said of all the other steel-framed, tall office buildings in the United States, with half a dozen exceptions. At the very outset, however, it should be made clear and emphatic that in the case of a building which is not "the real thing," but a conventional treatment of a feigned construction, criticism must be also conventional. Otherwise it would consist of denunciation only, and all the tall buildings conventionally designed would be put upon the same level and receive the same condemnation. Whereas everybody knows that there are immense differences among them.

That the Vincent is, upon the whole, one of the good ones few observers will be prepared to deny. The assumption that it is of masonry is upon the whole consistently carried out. From the illustration, and even from hte building, one could not say decisively that it was inconstructible in stone, or even that it was not constructed in stone. It is true that, given these dimensions and a stone construction the walls would look painfully thin. But it does not follow that they would be dangerously thin. What the piers lack in breadth would have to be made up in depth, and the architect would be censurable, if he had built walls actually so thick as would be required to carry themselves for sixteen stories, not to have exhibited and emphasized their thickness. The single segmental arch of the front, the three segmental arches of the side, seem to exercise a thrust that requires to be taken up by powerful abutments. But the apparent abutments are provided in the separate and solid treatment of the corners, "spiked," and held firm as they appear to be by the great superincumbent height of fourteen stories. It is true that in the building this abutment is not so visibly supplied as in the drawing. The outer corner pier would have given a great assurance of stability if it had been made the merely solid mass which the draughtsman, out of craft or uncertainty, has left it. Even in that case it would have not been architecturally appropriate because it would have brought into question all the other parts which should have been equally proportionally solid, but which are in fact disproportionally thin and open. Of course no owner of a commercial building would have acquiesced in such a waste of the most valuable space in his building and no "practical" architect would have ventured to suggest it. As a matter of fact, what in the drawing appears a solid mass of pier, much to the advantage of the building, is in fact a great hole, covered with a projecting show window, and leaving the corner pier, precisely the most important apparent prop of the whole building, without any visible means of support whatever, while the doorway is cut through the counterparting pier at the other end of the front. Of course, this is nobody's fault. But it illustrates one of the conditions that prevent the tall building from being a successful imitation even of a building of masonry, not that like solecisms do not occur in commercial buildings of actual masonry, but they are recognized as fatal by the very architects who have to do them. A metal construction is in all these cases introduced and concealed. In a building of which the whole structure is of metal this and all other solecisms which must occur in the attempt to make it look like masonry might be avoided by foregoing that attempt.

THE VINCENT BUILDING.
S. e. cor. Broadway and Duane St. George B. Post, Architect.

But upon the whole, with this painful exception, the Vincent building might apparently be of the masonry of which it apparently is. It follows the accepted division into base, shaft, and capital upon which most of the architects of tall buildings are agreed, and which was first introduced with emphasis in the front of the Union Trust building, to which the front of the Vincent bears a very close resemblance. That is only a street front, while this has two sides completely and permanently visible, and a third, the south side, of which the treatment shows an intention to make it at least provisionally presentable. The opportunity here should be correspondingly greater. But the building is not so successful.

It is the Broadway front which most distinctly recalls the earlier work, of the success of which it distinctly falls short. The frontage may be about the same, and the altitude of the later building nearly twice that of the earlier up to the cornice line, sixteen stories against nine. The triple lateral division in the Union Trust, which is really a masonry building, gave an opportunity for solid lateral piers which, if reduced to the minimum, were not reduced below the minimum of apparent sufficiency. In this case, with a skeleton construction, very possibly the most eligible arrangement was that adopted, which had been previously adopted in the front of the Home Life, that is to say, a flanking pier, kept as plain and solid as the introduction of a window in every story would permit; and a much lighter and more open centre, to which the two sides should serve as apparent abutments. But with three openings in the centre, the fivefold division here adopted, with the consequent thinning of the pier, would have made them spindle painfully if they had been no taller than those of the prototype. But there are in fact seven stories included here under the arches, against only five in the Union Trust, and the piers are thinned much below what would be an allowable minimum in stonework, while the mouldings that decorate the more massive piers of the lower building are very nearly if not literally reproduced. The effect is not good upon the Broadway front, and upon the longer side, where the arrangement is continued, and which one sees from the side, it is intolerably "liny" and spindling. Still the simplicity and comparative massiveness of the angles effectually frame the two fronts and give them a considerable unity and impressiveness.

Decidedly the best thing in the building is the basement, the architectural base, that is to say, including three stories. The scooping away of the angle-pier is, of course, most injurious, but upon that score the designer is to be commiserated, rather than condemned. But the angles, as they were designed and meant, look the more solid by contrast with the great segmental arches and seem effectually to enclose and abut them. The cutting of an entrance through the other pier is also unfortunate, although by contrast with the huge central arch the entrance at the side seems a mere postern. On the long side the intermediate piers are reduced to a minimum not only without detriment, but with advantage to the effect of them. The detail of the basement is all well designed and well adjusted in developed Gothic, by the way, instead of the Romanesque of the Times building and the Union Trust.

On the other hand, decidedly the worst thing about the building is the top. In the first place the allotment to it of five stories in a sixteen story building seems excessive. In the next place it seems entirely capricious. It is true a good deal of art would have been necessary to take away that appearance from a division which is really arbitrary, and that art has not been exercised. The side piers, the abutments of the front, are continued through this division without change, and crowned at the top with their own steep hoods. Only a balustrade, a balustrade obviously without any other purpose, crosses the front to designate this division, while at the centre are three arches of the same span and treatment as those below, but running through two stories instead of seven. So far, the whole arrangement seems entirely capricious, and its apparent capriciousness is increased by the tormenting of the sky line. At the centre is a gable which seems to be a sham, although it is backed with a visible ridge of roof, as may be seen from above or below. But from across Broadway it looks like a sham, until one gets far enough down Duane street to see that its ridge runs back to a hipped roof. But it is at a distance of blocks that this becomes discernible. Along the side the sky line is broken by gablets which apparently belong to dormers, and these are shams, since the wall is built up to them and there is no roof against which they can be relieved. The two-story dormers of the Times building may leave something to be desired, but they are at least dormers of which only one story is in the parapet-wall, the other being really projected from a retreating mansard. But these gablets are nothing at all, so far as can be seen from the opposite sidewalk, from which they must be viewed at the trying angle of some eighty degrees. Add that the accurate judgment of scale which marks the lower part of the building has here failed the designer and that his finials are exaggerated to grosseness, and it will be seen that the top of the Vincent building is far from being in itself a success. Still, it does in a rough but effective way "crown the edifice," and the edifice is, on the whole, in spite of its faults, a favorable specimen of the skyscraper, by reason of its broad framing piers, of the effectiveness of the basement and of the generally careful and successful detail. One detail of workmanship is worth notice, and that is the elaborate appearance of bonding in the masonry, which would be creditable in a real wall, but has the air of solemn trifling in a mere veneer.

IN naming General James M. Varnum to succeed Surrogate Arnold, Governor Roosevelt has made an appointment which, apart from merely political reasons, will please most real estate people. The Surrogate's office is not, of course, a department that is primarily interested in real estate, yet in the course of time a large proportion of all real estate comes under its operation and jurisdiction. To insure good management, the Surrogate needs to be a man of many qualifications. He must be of unquestionable integrity, a first-class executive, a lawyer of high training and experience, and he ought to be familiar with real estate conditions. Very few incumbents could lay claim to all of these qualifications. General Varnum can, as our readers will recognize this, for he is perhaps quite as well known among real estate men, in whose affairs he has been most usefully active for many years, as he is among members of his own profession.

THERE are those in realty circles who deprecate any further discussion of the increased assessments in Manhattan as rather calculated to injure than benefit the property affected by them. That is to say, that for the sake of the market it would be better to sit in injured acquiesence in the present state of things than to agitate for a remedy. Those who favor this attitude overlook the fact that whatever injury the charter provisions relating to taxation can do to realty in Manhattan has already been done; the daily press of New York was especially careful in seeing that none of their influence for evil was lost. It is fortunate that the announcement of the increased assessment was made at a period of commercial confidence, and when the chances of transferring the burden of increased taxation from landlord to tenant were good. Had that not been the case, the property affected might have suffered more seriously than it did. Despite appearances to the contrary, the additional tax burdens have an adverse effect, if not in producing decline, then in preventing the full measure of advance warranted by the circumstances minus the increase. The apparent indifference of the market to the action of the Tax Department is wholly due to a change in business sentiment so general that realty circles could not escape the contagion. At the same time, an injustice has been done, and it is right and proper for those hurt by it to seek a remedy. Those who oppose discussion to this end might just as logically oppose the treatment of the sick for the sake of appearances, although an agrement to disregard the sickness from which they suffer would not hide it. The injustice to realty in Manhattan having been perpetrated, whatever steps are taken to prevent its continuance help it, and its value will improve in proportion as the chances of success are good. The mere fact that the interests affected are not sleeping upon their injuries, but are determined to be vigilant in their own defense, will reflect favorably upon the value of their property.

THE introduction into the Legislature of a Rapid Transit bill, which is not the bill of the Rapid Transit Commission, and which, there is reason to believe, voices the sentiments of the City Hall, shows that any hopes that may have been cherished of seeing the rapid transit movement put upon a practical basis this year, may as well be sent to join similar hopes cherished in other years. It is evident that the Rapid Transit Commission and the City Hall have not found that understanding upon which they can work together, and conflict in the Legislature, with nothing done finally to relieve the distress of the traveling public, is likely to be the result. And this is government by and for the people!

SEWER CONNECTIONS.

In the Council, on Tuesday last, the Committee on Law Department reported recommending the adoption of the following ordinance to regulate the issuing of licenses to plumbers for making connections with sewers, etc., and on the motion of Councilman Mundorf the consideration of the matter was laid over for two weeks:

Be it ordained by the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York, as follows:

Section 1. Said bond to be conditioned that they will carefully make the street opening in the manner described by the head of the Department having jurisdiction to permit such openings to be made, and close up the same to the satisfaction of the said head of department.

Sec. 2. Upon such license being issued, the said President of the Board of Public Improvements shall forthwith notify the Commissioner of Sewers, the Commissioner of Water Supply, and the Commissioner of Highways, that such license has been issued, and also transmit to each of the said Commissioners the date of issuing said license and the name and address of the person licensed.

The Tenement House Committee of the Charity Organization Society of the City of New York, has sent out a circular letter over the signature of George B. Post, as secretary, calling attention to Senate bill No. 375, which proposes to so amend the Charter that the Building Code Commission recently appointed by the Municipal Assembly shall be legislated out of office, and that any building code which may be established by the Municipal Assembly shall be of no force or effect; and Senate bill No. 376, which authorizes the Governor of the State to appoint a Commission which shall report to the Legislature in January of next year a building code for the City of New York, the said Commission to be composed of the chief of the fire department of the City of New York; one representative of the health department of the City of New York; one member of the tenement house commission, appointed pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 479 of the Laws of 1894, who shall be an architect; one representative of the board of fire underwriters of the City of New York; one civil engineer, to be chosen from a list of three names, to be submitted to the Governor by the American Society of Civil Engineers of the City of New York; three architects, to be chosen from a list of nine names, to be submitted to the Governor by the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects; one practical builder of at least five years' experience in the construction of modern fireproof buildings; one attorney and counselor-at-law who has been admitted to practice in the State of New York for at least five years. The circular letter gives the following reasons for advocating these two measures:

1. Building operations in this city have never before been controlled by city ordinances, but always by State laws. It seems most unwise to depart from this well established custom. The Municipal Assembly has at present the power to amend such ordinances on any day by a bare majority vote, without public discussion, and on the day the amendment is introduced.

2. With the Municipal Assembly amending a code of ordinances and the State Legislature passing new building laws from time to time, there will always be endless conflict and confusion.

3. A Commission to codify the building laws of the State, should not represent merely the interests of the builders, whom it is sought to control, as the Commission appointed by the Municipal Assembly does, but should represent the interests of the people, and should be composed for the most part of architects, engineers and lawyers, who alone possess the requisite expert knowledge.

4. The Commission appointed by the Municipal Assembly has no power to amend the Tenement-House Act, which needs amending, as some of its provisions are unnecessarily severe, and others not sufficiently strict, to secure the health of the occupants.

As these measures will undoubtedly be opposed by certain speculative builders and others, it is important that all persons interested in Tenement-house reform, and in having safe and sanitary buildings, should support Senator Ford's measures.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, Feb. 16.—There was a less number of bills relating to New York presented this week to the Legislature than in previous weeks, but one of large importance was introduced—which has no earthly chance of passing. The bill in question was one presented by Senator Grady, authorizing the sale of a rapid transit franchise by the Rapid Transit Commission to a corporation, an individual, or to an existing railway corporation in New York. The reason it will not pass is that the Republican majority in the Legislature would not consent to the supervision of the construction of the road by the Democratic administration of New York.

It is reported here on good authority that the Rapid Transit Commissioners will have a bill here on Tuesday next, authorizing them to sell the franchise for constructing a rapid transit road.

A large number of bills have been introduced amending New York's charter, but thus far they have not escaped from the hands of the committees which have them in charge.

The bills introduced this week with the names of the introducers and introductory numbers are:

Senator Marshall (Intro. No. 436), abolishing the fees of the sheriff of Kings County and substituting a salary of $15,000 a year; (Intro. No. 437), abolishing the fees of the Register of Kings County, and substituting a salary of $8,000 yearly; (Intro. No. 438), abolishing the fees of the County Clerk of Kings County and giving him an $8,000 salary yearly in lieu thereof. In each case fees received are to be turned into the Treasury of the City of New York.

Senator Coggeshall (Intro. No. 445), amending Sections 19, 20, 61, 77, 78 and 81 of Chapter 415 of the Laws of 1897 in respect to the inspection of scaffolding, ropes, blocks, pulleys and tackles. The amendments give the factory inspector authority to require proper scaffolding, ropes, blocks, pulleys and tackles in cities, to require the protection of persons employed on buildings in cities, to appoint fifty persons as factory inspectors, to forbid the employment of a woman or a minor under 18 years of age in a factory after 9 p. m.; to require protection from employes operating machines, and giving the factory inspector authority to enforce the amendments referred to above.

Senator Stranahan (Intro. No. 485), amending section 471 of Chapter 410 of the Laws of 1882, so as to declare that if the exterior wall of a building "shall extend not more than (four) ten inches upon any street it shall not be removable."

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 477), amending the Penal Code's provisions in regard "to conspiracies and acts not expressly forbidden (boycotting)." The words "wrongfully interfering" are inserted in the bill. It amends sub-divisions five and six of Sections 168, 170 and 675 of the Penal Code. Sub-division 5 will read as follows, after its amendment: "5. To prevent another from exercising a lawful trade and calling, or doing any other lawful act by force (threats, intimidation) or by wrongfully interfering (or threatening to interfere), with tools, implements, or property belonging to (or used by) another, or with the use or employment thereof; a"

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 496), adding the following subdivision to Section 4 of Chapter 908 of the Laws of 1896, which says, "The following property shall be exempt from taxation." 18. A bond, debt, or other demand, secured by mortgage upon real estate within the State of New York, to an amount not exceeding the value of said real estate, and not exceeding the value of said real estate over prior incumbrances thereon; provided the rate of interest on said bond, debt or other demand does not exceed 5 per centum per annum." This bill would exempt from taxation mortgages paying less than 5 per cent.

Senator Norton (Intro. No. 491), authorizing the Comptroller when authorized by the Municipal Assembly and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, to issue bonds for the laying of water mains, providing hydrants, stop cocks, connections and the driving of wells when and where necessary.

Assemblyman G. W. Meyer, Jr. (Intro. No. 758), ratifying the action of the municipal authorities of New York in laying out the lands between 84th and 86th streets, Avenue B and the East River for a small park.

Assemblyman Adler (Intro. No. 761), providing that where an assessment for a local improvement has been annulled in whole or in part by the judgment of a court, any sum of money which has been heretofore or shall be hereafter paid thereon or on account of any assessment upon property included in the same assessment roll for such local improvement may be refunded with interest from the time of such payment. "If not so refunded within one year from the time of such judgment or order so annulling such assessment an action may be maintained to recover any sums so paid as aforesaid with interest thereon."

Assemblyman Brown (Intro. No. 752), changing the dower law to read that a widow shall be endowed of the third part of all the lands whereof her husband was seized of an estate of inheritance "at the time of his death." The law at present reads at "any time during the marriage." Sections 171, 186 and 187 of Chap. 547, Laws of 1896, will be hereby repealed.

THE DISPUTE IN THE MARBLE TRADE.

The decision of William C. Whitney to stop all work on his new house at 68th street and 5th avenue, has developed an unexpected phase in the dispute that has been going on for some time past between the employers of the marble industry and certain employees in that trade. The incidents leading up to the disagreement between the marble employers and their employees extend over a period of some months past, and their beginning can be traced to a misunderstanding in the trade union between the marble cutters and the polishers and helpers.

The cutters, being skilled workmen, objected to the dictations through equal representation of the polishers and helpers, who were classed as unskilled workmen and were especially opposed to sympathetic strikes which deprived them of their means of livelihood for periods of varying length while matters really concerning other trades were being adjusted. The Building Trades Council reorganized during the past year, and the principal features of their new constitution were the measures taken to prevent sympathetic strikes. The marble cutters and the polishers and helpers recently joined the council and their strained relations were renewed. The employers would not recognize the polishers and helpers as a body, but wished the privilege of hiring unskilled labor where they pleased. A large number of helpers left the Helpers' Association and went back to the shops under the protection of the Employers' Association.

The helpers who did not resume work were in the minority, but they closed the books of the association and refused to admit any new members without an initiation fee of $100. In addition to this they proposed to impose a heavy fine on all the helpers who resumed work, before they can be reinstated in the association. No new men are joining the association, and the employers need twice as many men as there are regular members. One of the rules of the association is that a cutter who is a setter in a building must have a helper, and when work grew pressing there were not enough helpers to accompany the setters, and feeling began to manifest itself between the skilled and unskilled workmen. The control of matters was, however, in the hands of the Helpers' Association.

The principal cause of the recent strike was a misrepresentation made by a committee of the Building Trades Council, which held a conference with the executive committee of the Marble Industry Employers' Association, and reported back to the Council that the Marble Industry Employers' Association refused to do anything further in the matter, whereas the Employers' Association claim they only asked for a postponement of action a few days until the entire Marble Industry Employers' Association would be in session. They additionally claim that there is no non-union marble being used in either the Whitney house or the University Club, as has been reported, and are willing to bring affidavits to support this statement.

THE WEST END ASSOCIATION.

The usual monthly meeting of the West End Association was held on 6th inst. Cyrus Clark, president, was in the chair. Theodore T. Baylor, 35 Nassau street; Wm. E. Gaillard, 76 West 94th; George N. Gardiner, 348 West End avenue; George F. Langbein, 315 West 89th; Louis Ottman, 38 West 73d, and James G. Wentz, 312 W. 82d, were elected members. Resignations of H. D. Cooper, Wm. B. Ellison, Andrew Mills and John H. Mooney were accepted.

The Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools reported that they had provided for payment to Treasurer People's Committee of $500.00 appropriated at January meeting in Amsterdam avenue matter. Two suits have been begun, one by St. Michael's P. E. Church, one by Home for Destitute Blind, to prevent the establishment of four tracks with electric cars on Amsterdam avenue; argument for injunction pendente lite had been made, and case was waiting decision of Justice Scott. In the matter of Senator Grady's bill to establish garbage dumps on Riverside Park water front, the committee expected to defeat the measure. They had arranged to attend a hearing before the Local Board for 19th District, on 7th inst., on a petition asking the repeal of the law which prohibits dumps on Riverside Park water front; also at Albany, on 10th inst., on bills to prevent laying of four tracks for electric cars on Amsterdam avenue, except with 20 feet between track and curb. On motion of Mr. Card, the whole matter of the bills and hearings regarding dumps was referred to the Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools.

Messrs. T. E. Crimmins, Boker and Vaux, a contractors' committee, asked that the Association withdraw its opposition to the maintenance of a dumping board at foot of West 79th street, and this matter was also referred to the Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools. On motion of Mr. Pumpelly, the Commissioner of Public Buildings was requested to have avenue and street names placed upon Amsterdam avenue street lanps. On motion of Mr. Quinn members were requested to write as individuals to the Mayor, asking his approval of municipal assembly resolution changing name of Boulevard to Broadway.

TRADE NOTES.

THE MANHATTAN BRASS CO.

The fire at the factory of the Manhattan Brass Co. this week did only a moderate amount of damage. The injury was mainly to the 28th street building, the foundry, rolling mill and casting shop being left practically intact, so that they are able to supply all materials and all sorts of castings without any delay whatever. The foundry and rolling mill started up again last Wednesday, and, as to the bronze railing and grille work for buildings, the company has rented the 5-story double building at Nos. 413-415 East 25th street, and bought machinery which is being installed, so that they will be ready to put steam on there in a few days. In fact the fire causes only a few days' delay in contracts in hand, and the company remains in the market as before for additional business.

THE POWHATAN CLAY MFG. CO.

The Powhatan Clay Mfg. Co. will hereafter occupy the commodious offices, Nos. 507-8 Townsend Building. The persistent efforts of this company have met with unprecendented success during the past season, and, taking into consideration that this was an "off" year, the record of their Cream White Brick being used in fully 80% of the operations in which that class of brick was specified, is one of which the officers of the company can well be proud. Their Gray Brick is coming to be well known and liked by architects and contractors generally for its purity of color and general excellence and has already been used in apartments and dwellings in the best portions of the city, although practically introduced only last year. Mr. Sol. Rosenbaum, 2nd Vice-President of the company and Manager of the New York office, has been indefatigable in his efforts to place the product of the company at the top, and has certainly met with an unqualified success. Mr. H. K. Terry, Vice-President and General Manager, is in charge of the company's factory, and the perfection of the brick in regard to color and workmanship and the prompt manner in which deliveries are made, prove that the management of this concern is in excellent hands. Noteworthy instances where the brick manufactured by this company have been used are the Chesebrough Building, Pearl and State streets; the apartments at 79th street and Amsterdam avenue; "The Livingston," at 86th street and Central Park West; the stores and lofts, 580 to 590 Broadway; the Powhatan and Tecumseh apartments, 34th street, near 7th avenue; Christ English Evangelical Lutheran Church, Brooklyn; the Hammerstein Co.'s new theatre; "The Victoria," 42d street and 7th avenue, and a hundred other representative buildings.

In view of the fact that this has been a short week, and in view of the further fact that travel for a couple of days was practically suspended as a consequence of one of the severest snowstorms in the history of the city, the business of the private sales' market has been unexpectedly large. There was a tendency in some quarters to attribute the comparative quiet of last week to the influence of the increased tax assessments, although experieneed brokers say that February is usually a quiet month, being largely devoted to preparation for the spring renting and selling. As to the influence of the increased assessments, no one but a theorist would speak dogmatically on that subject with the limited data at hand. It is five weeks since the tax books were opened. A comparison of the private sales' business of this period with that of the corresponding period last year falls out distinctly in favor of the present year, so that it would be quite as easy for a sophist to prove that the increased assessments have benefited the real estate market as to prove the contrary. The total number of private sales reported in the five weeks in question in 1898 was 284, and the stated consideration, given in 79 transactions, was $5,148,025. In 1899, 345 sales were reported, and the stated consideration, given in 78 transactions, was $8,712,350. The war scare, it will be remembered, did not begin to affect the real estate market until after investigation had disclosed the nature of the Maine explosion. At any rate, the Maine disaster did not occur before February 15. There is every reason to believe that, whatever the influence of the tax assessments, the conservative improvement in the private sales' market which became apparent in the autumn, and which has quietly gathered force ever since, will continue uninterrupted, although anything like a boom is not expected while speculation maintains its present pace in the Stock Exchange. The total number of transactions given below is 59, with considerations given in 17, and amounting to $1,718,250; corresponding figures for last week were 54, 6 and $947,200.

There were twenty-five parcels scheduled for sale at foreclosure in the Real Estate salesroom this week, and twelve voluntary, partition and executors' offerings. As to the properties connected with foreclosure proceedings the sale of seven was adjourned, two were withdrawn, while ten were purchased by the plaintiffs and six by outsiders. Of the voluntary, partition and executors' offerings six were sold and the other six bid in or withdrawn.

Geo. R. Read announces in our business pages for Tuesday next, 21st inst., the auction sales of No. 60 Cedar street, 5-story building; No. 51 Nassau street, 4-story building, running through to Liberty place, and the 4-story brownstone dwelling, No. 141 East 34th street. The sale is ordered by the executors of an estate, and the parcels to be sold, it need hardly be stated, are attractive from an investor's point of view. Maps, etc., can be obtained of the auctioneer at No. 10 Wall street, and No. 1 Madison avenue.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell on Tuesday next, 21st inst., the tenement parcel No. 124 West 49th street, and on Thursday, 23d inst., the northwest corner of 8th avenue and Jane street, a plot 115x40x87.6x110, with 3- and 4-story buildings thereon. Details will be found in our advertising pages, or will be furnished by the auctioneers on application, at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street. The same auctioneers announce for March 2d the sale of a number of attractive investment parcels located on East 26th, 27th and 28th streets, which will be found more particularly described in the auction notice in our business pages, and which should have attentive examination. They are to be sold by order of the receivers of the John Stephenson Co., Limited, for whom Sullivan & Cromwell, No. 45 Wall street, are attorneys.

Philip A. Smyth will sell at auction on Thursday next, 23d inst., the southwest corner of Columbus avenue and 90th street, three 5-story and basement brick and stone apartment houses and stores. The corner house has a front of over 100 feet on the avenue and 30 feet on the street. The dimensions of the other two are 30x100.8½ each. It will be seen from the announcement on another page that the terms are extremely liberal. The auctioneer will furnish particulars at his office, No. 11 Pine street.

Bryan L. Kennelly has a notice in our business pages of several important auction sales for nearby dates. On Thursday next, 23d inst., he will sell among other parcels a plot, 75x100, on the southeast corner of Broadway (late Western Boulevard) and 102d street. The added importance given to this thoroughfare by the change of name and the demand lately developed there for vacant land for improvement makes this an especially attractive parcel. On the 28th inst., he will dispose of a number of tenement and flat parcels in live sections of the city, a list of which will be found in his advertisement previously alluded to. The auctioneer's office is at No. 66 Liberty street, where full information can be obtained.

Attention is directed to the announcement of the Amos R. Eno auction sale which is to take place on Tuesday next, 21st inst., under the direction of Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer. The list of parcels to be offered on that occasion will be found in our business pages, and while, as stated last week, it does not embrace the very choicest holdings of the estate, it contains so much that should interest would-be purchasers for investment that this sale must be one of the great events of the auction market. Interested parties are directed to apply to the auctioneer, at No. 111 Broadway, for book-maps, terms of sale, etc.

We will pay a liberal price for copies of The Record and Guide Nos. 253, 930, 1454, 1475 and 1556, delivered at our office in good condition.

Gentleman, thoroughly experienced in every branch of, and well known in Real Estate, desires position. Address "JAMISON," care James Bailey, 1489 Broadway.

Mayor Van Wyck has signed the ordinance passed by the Municipal Assembly changing the name of the Boulevard from 59th street to Spuyten Duyvil to Broadway. This change of name for the Boulevard will make Broadway one of the longest streets in the world, extending as it does from Bowling Green to the city line.

A resolution was passed this week by the Board of Aldermen requesting the Comptroller and the Commisioners of the Park Department to sell immediately the buildings upon the lands acquired for a public park and bounded by the north side of 111th street, south side of 114th street, east side of 1st avenue, and the Harlem River. In the Council a similar resolution was referred to the Committee on Parks.

The executive committee of the House and Real Estate Owners' Association of the 12th and 19th Wards, have been directed by the association to investigate the complaints of members in regard to the new assessments on real estate, with a view to suggesting a remedial course of action by the association. Commissioner Conrad Harres and J. Fred. Boss are ex-officio president and secretary, respectively, the counsel being Adolph Bloch.

J. Sergeant Cram, president of the Dock Board, has announced that new dock improvements include 1,500 ft. of sea wall, extending from Catharine slip to Market street, and five piers, each 450 feet long, with space enough in the slips to receive any vessel except the large Atlantic liners. These piers will be set apart for Cuban, Porto Rican and South American trade, and they will also be used by vessels engaged in the East Indian and China trade, which is increasing in the East River.

The Committee on Streets and Highways of the Board of Aldermen was to have held a hearing Wednesday on a proposed ordinance to prohibit the driving of trucks along 5th avenue, between 23d and 59th streets, between 3 and 6 o'clock p. m. Owing to the absence of a majority of the members of the committee, the hearing was postponed. Several residents of Madison avenue were present ready to speak against the ordinance, which they claim will divert the traffic to Madison avenue, which is now little used by truckmen.

Questions and Answers.

LEASEHOLD.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

G dies and leaves F a life interest in a leasehold with remainder to B. B sells whatever interest he has in the leasehold to W, though F is living. G previously had mortgaged the leasehold to S. Neither the lease nor mortgage has ever been filed of record, and F refuses W to put the lease of record. (1) Now, what title has W legally? Has he all the title that B had? That is, when F dies, does the leasehold belong to W? (2) Suppose B should, after selling and signing a transfer of his interest in the leasehold, have judgment against him before F dies, would that affect W's title? (3) Can W compel F to record the lease? (4) Suppose the mortgagee should demand his money, how would it legally be divided as to F and W raising and paying the same? (5) Suppose repairs become necessary, and F does not do them, what can W do?

Answer.—(1) Yes. (2) No. (3) No. (4) It is a matter of computation, according to what is known as the "Northampton Table." Upon this subject Washburn on Real Property has the following: "The rule, as now settled, seems to be as follows: A tenant for life is bound to keep down the current interest, but not to pay any part of the principal. Now, if, for example, there is a tenant for life, and a remainderman in fee of an estate, subject to a mortgage which is due and must be paid at once to save fereclosure, and the remainderman, to save the estate, pays the mortgage, he is not obliged to take the share of the tenant for life in annual installments of interest to continue as long as he shall live. He is entitled, as equitable assignee of the mortgagee, to immediate payment, and the sum which he thus has a right to claim, is whatever the present worth of an annuity equal to the amount of the annual interest would be, computed for the number of years which the tenant will live. This is assumed by the courts to be fixed, for this purpose, by tables of longevity, which are recognized as reliable in their computation of the chances of life. Whatever this sum may amount to, is deducted from the gross amount paid for redemption, and the balance is the proportion to be paid by the remainderman. Of course the same rule of computation is applied if the tenant redeems and calls on the remainderman for contribution." (5) He can bring an action against F for the damage to the reversionary estate occasioned by the failure to repair.—Law Editor.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The following letter is a copy of an answer to your reply to my questions I asked in the issue of Dec. 31, 1898, wherein I asked you in reference to a lease, time of expiration. Your reply was the tenant was responsible up to May 1, 1899. I sent him a copy of the Record and Guide, so that he might know that I was about right; his reply is the following: "Jan. 13, 1899. Dear ——, I received by mail a copy of the Record and Guide which you sent me, and I note what Law Editor says in answer to your inquiry. I have submitted this answer to my lawyer, who states that if Law Editor will go to the trouble of looking up the law on this question as carefully as he himself has, and especially refer to Judge Daly's decision in a recent analogous case, he will probably change his opinion. At any rate, he offers to bet the price of a good dinner that he is right in the matter and Law Editor is wrong. Yours very respectfully, ————"

Answer.—In reply to the previous query I might have said that I could not give a definite answer, as sufficient details were not given, as to the provisions of the lease expiring May 1, 1897, but I took certain things for granted. The previous lease or leases have nothing to do with the question. If the last lease contained a provision that the rent, though the letting was for seven months only, was at the annual rate of so many dollars per year, no matter at what period it was payable (which was what I took for granted), then if the tenant held over after the first of May, 1897, he could be held for the year expiring any first of May thereafter. If, however, the last lease merely said that the rent should be paid so many dollars monthly, then, if the tenant held over after the first of May, 1897, and vacated the house on Dec. 1, 1898, he could be held for the rent until Jan. 1, 1899. You do not state what the opinion of the tenant's lawyer is as to how long the latter shall continue to pay the rent. I should like to have a reference to the decision of Judge Daly which you mention.—Law Editor.

The Building Trades

MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—There was no brick moved during the past week from Haverstraw and up-river points, and very few, if any, from yards. The demand was very light, owing to the unpropitious weather, and little or no sales were made. Prices are nominal at last quotations. The misplacement of a semicolon last week gave our quotations an appearance of error. They should have read: Prices are steady at $6.25@$6.75 for special and first grade commons; and pales are $4.00. Nothing is moving in New Jersey brick, and manufacturers are not making prices.

LATH.—There are virtually none in the market, and manufacturers are not quoting prices.

LIME.—Trade in Rockland is inactive this week. No shipments are arriving, and there is none in first hands. Manufacturers are not making prices for futures. State lime is quiet with prices nominally at 70c. for common and 90c. for Jointa.

CEMENT.—The demand for Rosendale is very light. There is practically none here, and shipments are not arriving. Manufacturers are not making prices for future delivery. There is an excellent demand for domestic Portland. Manufacturers are not pushing sales, preferring to accumulate stocks for spring delivery, unless they can obtain full values. Immediate deliveries are difficult, if not impossible. Prices are firm at about $1.95@$2.00. Very little imported Portland is arriving, and there being a light demand at present on account of the severe winter, manufacturers are not seeking trade. Owing to the heavy demand throughout Europe, there will not be as much as usual coming to this country during the regular season, and probably only on contract at advanced prices. The stock laid in by dealers during the late fall will probably be sufficient for current needs until spring arrivals are here.

NAILS.—The demand for immediate shipment is quiet, owing to the bad weather, which interrupted a good current trade. Prices this week are, for cut nails: $1.35 f. o. b. cars, Pittsburg, with no concessions; $1.50 on dock, New York, and $1.60 small lots out of New York stores. Wire nails are $1.65 f. o. b., Pittsburg, with a rebate of 5c. to buyers of 1,000 kegs or over; $1.80, single carloads on dock, New York, and $1.90, small lots out of New York stores. Terms 60 days or 2% discount if paid within 10 days of date. A seasonably active trade is expected on the advent of favorable weather, and a further advance in wire nails is anticipated.

OIL.—Regular business having been interrupted by storms, manufacturers have experienced great difficulty in filling orders, and it will probably be until the end of the month before regular trade is resumed. Prices for raw oil are: 41c. for 5-bbl. lots and over, 42c. for smaller quantities. Boiled oil is 43c.@44c. Out of town oil is at 40c., and Calcutta is 54c.

GLASS.—Trade in glass is quiet, owing to the storm. Prices remain unchanged at 80 for plate, 80-10 for French window and 80-20 for American window.

PAINTS AND VARNISHES.—Trade in paints and varnishes, like other branches, and for the same reason, has been quiet. Values on component materials and those incidental to manufacture are stiff, so that prices on dry and mixed paints, as well as varnishes are firm at last quotations.

LEAD.—Owing to restrictions to trucking and shipping and the general hindrance to business, lead has been quiet. Prices remain unchanged from last quotations.

NAVAL STORES.—The market for spirits of turpentine was quiet, difficulty being experienced in trucking. There was a firm undertone in sympathy with a rising tendency in the southern market on account of light receipts. A moderate trade was effected on a basis of 45½c. for machines, but subsequently values advanced to 46c. on receipt of advices from Savannah reporting moderate offerings at 43c. The market closed quiet and firm at 45c. for southerns and 45½c. for machines. Tar was quiet, but steady, at $1.70@$1.75 for regulars and $3.10@$3.15 for machines. Pitch was neglected at $1.70@$1.75.

LUMBER AND HARDWOODS.—The conditions of the lumber and hardwood market this week are analogous to those of last, with perhaps the difference that the situation is a little stiffer. There are no very radical changes in prices, and stocks are diminishing gradually, as it is as yet too early for new stocks to arrive in the market. All woods find an easy market at firm prices, and the market demand for poplar and white pine previously quoted continues.

Their proposition is the same as that embodied in the Board's bill now at Albany, and has as much chance of being accepted in the one place as in the other.

At Wednesday's meeting of the Board of Estimate the Comptroller was authorized to issue $7,673,640 worth of bonds for the purchase of new school sites and the erection of schools. Provision was made in the budget of 1899 for the payment of the interest on that amount of school bonds. The whole amount was authorized, so that the Comptroller may sell school bonds from time to time as they are needed without going through the formality of calling the Board of Estimate together.
